Opening Address

Senator Rob Mayer, President Pro Tem
First Regular Session, 96th General Assembly
January 5, 2011

Lt. Governor Kinder, members of the Missouri Senate, our families, friends, and fellow Missourians:

Today as I stand before you and humbly accept the honor of serving as the Senate's Leader, I am hopeful. I am hopeful that we can come together and find the best solutions to the state's budget. I am hopeful that we can help put Missourians back to work. And I am hopeful that we will continue our commitment to the education of our children – along the entire education spectrum.

I thank you, my Senate colleagues, for electing me to this role and am grateful for the trust you have placed in me.

The landscape of the Senate has certainly changed over the past few years. We have watched the era of "Senate Lions" pass, and have welcomed more and more new faces to this august body.

Over the past two years, we have welcomed 7 new members and, today, we welcome 12 more members into this body of leaders. All in all, that means 19 or more than half of us have served less than two years in the Senate. But you are all now part of a strong tradition of leadership. A great deal will be expected of you over a short amount of time. But I am confident you will rise and meet the challenge of finding common-sense solutions to address the problems our state is facing today.

Our state is facing serious challenges: it is the third budget year in a row where we will begin with a budget shortfall, we need to get Missourians back to work in lasting and growing industries that pay well and offer benefits, and we must make sure that our decisions today do not harm tomorrow's vision for an educated workforce.

Our toughest challenge this year again will be the budget.

The good news is that over the last two years we have made tough decisions. As many other states have fallen off the cliff, compared to most, Missouri is in good financial standing.

To date, our state's revenue is showing signs of growth, but not much. It is forecast that we will end the fiscal year that began in July with a 3.6 percent growth in revenue. So far, we are on track to meet this projection. Unfortunately, even with this small growth over last year, it still means we are facing a $300 to $500 Million revenue shortfall for the 2012 Fiscal Year.

That shortfall comes on top of the total decline of a little more than $1.2 Billion – putting us barely above what the state collected back in Fiscal Year 2005.

When it comes to our budget, very few of the state's general revenue dollars are discretionary dollars. That means in tough budget years, like this one, it becomes even more difficult to reduce spending when certain dollars are earmarked - leaving us with little flexibility in where to cut back.

I look forward to hearing Governor Nixon's budget plan later this month. It is important that he presents a budget that only spends what the government takes in and does not rely on special legislation to pass in order to be balanced.

In the Senate, we will protect taxpayers by continuing to make tough decisions to fund our priorities without a tax increase.

There are three solutions to improving Missouri's budget outlook.

The first solution is to put people back to work in good-paying jobs with benefits. Our state's revenue is reliant on people working and participating in our economy.

I learned from an early age that a job is something to value. A job gives you a sense of worth, accomplishment and the pride of making an honest dollar for an honest day's work. Many times, a job is an opportunity that leads to another job. And in many ways, our jobs help define who we are and who we want to be.

I understand the challenges and difficulties of losing your job. After 12 years on the job for an automotive manufacturing supply company, an economic downturn and restructuring led to me losing my job. My children were young and it was incredibly stressful to not know right away how I was going to provide for my family. But that life-changing moment led me to go back to college and finish my undergraduate degree, and later a law degree. It was tough, but today I own my own law firm. Things could have gone much differently for me. But because there were other opportunities available when my first career ended abruptly, I was able to bounce back. My experience is why making sure other Missourians have job opportunities available to them is so important to me.

Unfortunately, for too many Missourians, there is a void in their lives when it comes to work. Rather than feeling a sense of accomplishment, they face rejections or silence. It's not because of them or anything they have done, it's because there simply are not the opportunities available to them that should be. And that is unacceptable.

It's unacceptable that of the more than 3 Million Missourians that make up our state's work force, more than 280,000 have been out of work for the past year and a half. It is also unacceptable that underemployment has more than doubled to 5 percent from 2007 to 2009.

Missourians want results and we're going to give them results.

This year, we will pass reforms to help put Missourians back to work in good paying jobs with benefits. We will put Missourians back to work by enabling all employers to invest in working families rather than government growth, improving employers' ability to hire and retain quality workers, making sure employees can't be personally sued for honest accidents at work, and ensuring an employee's liberty when it comes to joining or leaving a union.

We will pass a bill capping the Corporate Franchise Tax. We will pass a bill restoring balance to the Missouri Human Rights Act and Whistleblower provisions. We will pass a bill reversing judicial activism in the Workers' Compensation System. And we will pass a bill making Missouri a Right to Work state.

Legislation filed in the Senate this year would cap the maximum amount of franchise tax liability at $2 Million allowing employers to invest in hiring new employees instead of growing government through higher taxes. This move would encourage investment by large corporations in Missouri while preserving revenue neutrality.

Other legislation filed this year would improve employers' ability to hire and retain quality workers by ending lawsuit abuses. The bill would bring state law in line with federal human rights laws, allowing employers to invest more in jobs rather than spending money on lawsuit abuses and their increased attorneys' fees.

Another piece of legislation filed in the Senate would restore protections for individual employees from personal lawsuits when companies should be held responsible. Missouri employees and employers face higher risks due to a decision last fall that says co-workers can be sued for their role in workplace injuries, even when it was shown to be an honest accident. By reversing this bad decision, Missouri employees will no longer be at risk of personal lawsuits stemming from workplace injuries and will no longer have to seek insurance to protect against lawsuits if an accident were to occur.

And Senate Bill 1 would secure certainty in take-home pay of every working family in Missouri by making sure employees only join unions and pay dues if they want to – rather than as a condition of their job. By becoming a Right to Work state, we will help reduce our unemployment rate. Unemployment is lower in the 22 states - six of them our neighbors - that have adopted Right to Work laws. Numbers from the Bureau of Labor Statistics show that from 1999 to 2009, Right to Work states have added 1.5 Million private sector jobs for a 3.7 percent increase while non Right to Work states lost 1.8 Million jobs over the same decade, for a decline of 2.3 percent. It's time to end the age-old animosity between business and labor and, instead, work together to do what is best for the employer and the employee. That means allowing for personal liberty and the free market to prevail in Missouri's marketplace - so that Missourians can go back to work.

The failure to solve these issues is not an option, as Missourians deserve to have job opportunities rather than unfulfilling visits to a local Career Center.

Our second solution is that we must recognize that the best economic development tool is an educated workforce.

We will continue our commitment to provide world-class educational opportunities to our citizens – along the entire education spectrum.

Since the new school funding formula took place, we have injected an additional $552 Million in K through 12 education and more than $1.2 Billion total including our additional investments in higher education, scholarships and early childhood learning.

This year, we will continue our commitment to education by working hard to maintain K through 12 school funding at the same level as last year. Every student should have access to an accredited school – so that no matter where they live they have an opportunity for a world-class education.

We will also work to make college and other post-high school educational opportunities more affordable and available to students. We hope the Governor will join us in this effort, rather than again slashing funding for ACCESS Missouri scholarships and virtual school programs.

The third solution to our budget is to continue to reduce the size and scope of state government so taxpayers can afford to sustain it.

We must consider every possible way to make government smaller and more efficient – whether that is through more control, alterations or deletions.

Rebooting Government is not a short-term program. We have an once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to truly examine and reshape every aspect of state government that could set Missouri on a sustainable, long-term path.

Last year, we began the Rebooting Government initiative and had several early successes saving taxpayers millions of dollars - but we can and will do more.

That is why I am asking every Missourian to share their ideas on how to reboot Missouri state government through a feature on the Missouri Senate website. I especially hope to hear from those on the front lines of state government because their insight can be the most helpful.

Submissions may be anonymous and every idea submitted will be considered. Starting next week, senators will meet in working groups to consider your ideas and will report final recommendations to the entire Senate on January 19th. Now is the time to be heard – please submit your idea today.

Missourians can also expect us to be accountable when it comes to how their tax dollars are spent. This year, the work of a new committee will begin. The members of that committee will be tasked with examining every state department and division, the way they operate, and how they spend taxpayer dollars. The panel will be the Senate Committee on Governmental Accountability.

As we work on these solutions to our budget, many other issues will also come before us this year. Our work will be difficult. The days will be long and our families and friends will have made substantial sacrifices in order for us to be able to serve. We thank you for this and would like to recognize all of you now. Would our families and friends please stand now to be recognized.

As we enjoy our time with family and friends today and this evening with the pomp and circumstance the occasion brings, it is important for us to remember the work that lies ahead of us. Prepare yourself for tough budget decisions. Remember your neighbor who is unable to find work. Think of our children's educational futures and remind your constituents that their voice will be heard and the spending of their taxpayer dollars held accountable.

With preparation, cooperation and hard work I believe we can secure a promising future for the people of Missouri. A future Missouri that is full of opportunity. A future Missouri where the American Dream is again alive and well. And a future Missouri where families can thrive.

As President Reagan said in 1984, "In this springtime of hope, some lights seem eternal; America's is."

I believe the same is true for Missouri today.

Knowing that all 33 of us share these goals, I again find myself hopeful.

Thank you.

Journal of the Senate

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

THIRD DAY—MONDAY, JANUARY 10, 2011

President Kinder in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“When the cares of my heart are many, your consolations cheer my soul.” (Psalm 94:19)

Almighty God, our concerns are many today. We are thankful for safe travel for us and staff. We deal with the changes and chances of life as Representative Giffords fights for hers. We don't understand such evil and violence but turn to You to comfort and help us find ways to deal with such tragedy. We pray for her family and families of victims of the shooting and ask for Your comfort and healing. We pray for those who enforce the law that they may do so with courage and wisdom in their serving. We pray for legislators and us who pass the laws that we may do so seeking what is most helpful and ensure the safety of our people. May Your steadfast love “...be our rock and refuge,” and guide us through these difficult days. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

SENATE RESOLUTION NO. 27

WHEREAS, attorneys general from 13 states sued the federal government on March 23, 2010, claiming the landmark health care reform bill is unconstitutional. The amended complaint currently features 20 state plaintiffs, with the National Federation of Independent Business (NFIB) joining as a co-plaintiff on behalf of its members nationwide; and

WHEREAS, the lawsuit filed and joined by a total of 20 attorneys general includes and asserts:

- (1) A Commerce Clause claim;
- (2) A Tenth Amendment sovereignty violation for forcing states, among other things, to expand Medicaid coverage;
- (3) A direct tax violation for the one-size-fits all penalty if a person fails to purchase health insurance; and
- (4) A violation of Article 4, Section 4 of the United States Constitution because "the Act deprives [the States] of ... their right to a republican form of government"; and

WHEREAS, the lawsuit asks the bill be declared unconstitutional because "the Constitution nowhere authorizes the United States to mandate, either directly or under threat of penalty, that all citizens and legal residents have qualifying health care coverage"; and

WHEREAS, the lawsuit also claims the health care legislation violates the Tenth Amendment of the United States Constitution, which says the federal government has no authority beyond the powers granted to it under the Constitution, by forcing the states to carry out its provisions but not reimbursing them for the costs; and

WHEREAS, the lawsuit also asserts that the states cannot afford the new law because the health care legislation will add millions of people to state Medicaid rolls, costing some states more than one billion dollars over the next ten years in increased Medicaid expenditures; and

WHEREAS, according to an attorney representing the 20 attorneys general joining in the lawsuit, those state attorneys general "are convinced that the federal health care legislation is fundamentally flawed as a matter of constitutional law, that it exceeds the scope of proper constitutional authority of the federal government and tramples upon the rights and prerogatives of states and their citizens"; and

WHEREAS, on July 7, 2010, Missouri Lieutenant Governor Peter Kinder sued members of the Obama Administration responsible for enforcing the provisions of the federal health care reform law. The lawsuit challenges those provisions of the federal health care reform law which actually reduce Missourians access to affordable health care and which violate the Missouri Constitution and the United States Constitution; and

WHEREAS, under the federal legislation, beginning in 2014, most Americans will be required to carry health insurance, either through an employer or government program or by purchasing it themselves. Those Americans who refuse to carry such health insurance will face penalties from the Internal Revenue Service; and

WHEREAS, an overwhelming majority of 71% of Missourians supported the passage of Proposition C in a 2010 General Election in Missouri that protects Missourians from being penalized for refusing to purchase private health insurance or infringe upon the right to offer or accept direct payment for lawful health care; and

WHEREAS, according to the American Legislative Exchange Council, at least 42 states are attempting to limit, alter, or oppose some of the federal legislation's provisions through state constitutional amendments or laws, with many of the proposals seeking to keep health insurance coverage optional for individuals and exempt employers from penalties if they don't offer coverage for workers; and

WHEREAS, all other attorneys general in the nation have joined the suit voluntarily without legislative action:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-sixth General Assembly, First Regular Session, hereby call on Missouri Attorney General Chris Koster to file an independent lawsuit, join Lieutenant Governor Peter Kinder's lawsuit, or join the 20 other state attorneys general from across the nation in challenging the constitutionality and validity of the Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act, the federal health care legislation, and to aggressively defend the validity of Proposition C as voted on by the people of Missouri in a 2010 Missouri General Election; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for Missouri Attorney General Chris Koster.

Senator Pearce offered Senate Resolution No. 28, regarding Gilbert Lee Powers, Warrensburg, which was adopted.

The Joint Committee appointed to wait upon His Excellency, Governor Jay Nixon, escorted the Governor to the dais where he delivered the State of the State Address to the Joint Assembly:

State of the State Address
Governor Jeremiah W. (Jay) Nixon

Thank you, Legislative Leaders; Judges of the Missouri Supreme Court; Lieutenant Governor Kinder; state officials; members of the General Assembly; members of my cabinet; and my fellow Missourians.

I'd like to thank my wife Georganne, and our sons, Jeremiah and Will, for their strength and support every day.

Because every day, we are reminded that the world we live in can be a dangerous place.

From Afghanistan to Arizona, there is no shortage of violence and conflict.

Fortunately, there is no shortage of heroes ready to step up to defend others, and the freedoms we hold so dear.

One of them is here with us tonight.

Perry Coy is a member of the Greatest Generation.

His acts of bravery during the Second World War earned him three Purple Hearts, the Bronze Star and the Silver Star. And just last month, I was proud to present him with the French government's highest decoration for valor: the Legion of Honor.

Fresh out of Bolivar High School, Perry Coy joined the Army. The Allies had just landed in Normandy, and from the moment he set foot on French soil, he was in the thick of it. He fought through the Ardennes Forest in France and into the heart of the Third Reich.

Along the way, Staff Sergeant Coy braved enemy fire to pull back a wounded medic. And he took out a nest of Nazi gunners raining hellfire on the GIs serving beside him.

Certain, special people take an oath to serve. They may wear the uniform of our armed forces or our police, our firefighters or our state troopers. But they are alike in one fundamental way.

Like Staff Sergeant Coy, they have a spirit that compels them to run toward trouble – not away from it.

They put themselves in harm's way so that we might stay safe.

Out where the ice is thin and the storm rages...where the bombs burst and the bullets fly... that's where you'll find them.

On behalf of every man and woman who has ever worn a uniform of service, will Staff Sergeant Perry Coy please stand and accept the humble thanks of our state.

Perry Coy grew up in the Great Depression, fought the Nazis at the young age of 19, and came through it all an optimist.

With faith in God, faith in the future, and faith in himself, he married his sweetheart, Mary Lou, raised a family and started his own business, right here in Jefferson City.

He personifies the values that have made this nation great in war, and in peace.

Courage.

Tenacity.

Hard work.

And last, but surely not least, optimism.

The faith that no matter how difficult things are today, our best days lie ahead.

Times are tough.

Too many folks can't make ends meet, can't find the jobs they want, or worry they'll lose the jobs they have.

But even in these tough times, I'm optimistic.

I'm optimistic because I know that by working together ... focusing on shared values ... and putting progress above politics ... brighter days are ahead for the Show-Me State.

Together, we're fighting every day, for every job.

We're fighting for every worker who needs a new skill to compete.

We're fighting for every veteran looking for work.

We're fighting for every student who dreams of college and a career.

We're fighting every day for every small business on Main Street.

We're fighting every day for every established business that wants to expand.

And we're fighting every day for every new business that wants to set up shop in the Show-Me State.

My focus is crystal clear.

By fighting every day for every job, we are turning this economy around.

The recession that began three years ago cast a long shadow across our nation.

Millions of Americans are still unemployed.

And while there are signs that our economy is beginning to turn the corner, I won't be satisfied until all Missourians can provide for their families.

How will we do it?

By fighting hard every day for every job.

By making government smarter and more efficient.

By investing in strong communities to attract and keep good jobs, and by balancing our budget without raising taxes.

There are already signs that our hard work and fiscal discipline are paying off.

The number of Missourians filing new unemployment claims is down 17 percent, year over year.

Personal income grew last year, and is expected to keep on growing this year.

November and December revenues were up, indicating that people are cautiously beginning to spend.

That's good news for our economy in the short-term, and bodes well for the long-term.

Make no mistake: the national recession hit Missouri hard.

But after losing jobs back in 2008 and 2009, we turned the corner in 2010, and are poised for job growth this year.

We will continue to be aggressive and relentless, fighting every day for every job. And we'll continue to be aggressive and relentless in making government smarter and more efficient.

We've kept our fiscal house in order with prudent financial controls, rigorous cost reductions, and smarter, more efficient government.

That's earned Missouri a Triple-A credit rating – the best you can get – from all three rating agencies. We're one of the few states in the nation that can make that claim.

It's a big vote of confidence in our state, and saves taxpayers millions of dollars a year in interest.

Compare that to what's going on in other states.

- Texas has a $15 billion deficit;
- Kansas hiked its sales tax last year;
- New Jersey's got a $54 billion pension deficit; and

- Illinois just raised personal and corporate income taxes.

Now look at our state.

Fiscal responsibility is a value we share here in the Show-Me State.

With the cuts included in my budget tonight, I will have reduced government spending by more than $1.8 billion since I took office.

I'll have cut state payroll by over 3,300 positions.

All across state government, a leaner workforce is doing more with less.

These decisions are never easy, but they are necessary.

And because we've been frugal, we have money to invest in the things that matter most to Missourians: jobs, education, health care, and law enforcement.

We've also got to grow our economy, creating a climate where the entrepreneurial spirit can thrive.

That spirit is alive and well in Missouri's small businesses that are mighty engines of job growth.

To help them move forward, we eliminated the franchise tax on 16,000 small businesses in 2009.

We created a small business loan fund to spur investment and job growth.

With us tonight are three outstanding Missouri entrepreneurs who are growing their own success.

With a $25,000 small business loan, Kelly Burke bought new equipment at his saw mill in Marionville and hired three more workers. Burke Timber is now a diversified business, producing lumber, hardwood floors, pallets and railroad ties.

Marina Remmers used her small business loan to buy commercial printing equipment. She moved her fledgling design company out of her basement and into a storefront in Bethany – and quadrupled her sales.

Chris Heston in Columbia used his state loans to expand his woodworking business and hire another worker. His wooden toys won a Parents Choice Award in 2010.

America was built on the dreams of solitary self-starters like these, with the moxie to invest in themselves.

Please give these home-grown entrepreneurs a big hand.

Cynics say that such small wins don't add up to much.

Cynics don't build things.

Optimists do.

Every job we add matters.

It matters to the person who gets the job.

It matters to their families and communities.

And it matters to Missouri.

Fighting every day for every job, we are turning this economy around.

To compete for 21st Century jobs, we need a highly skilled and well-trained workforce. Our Training for Tomorrow and Caring for Missourians initiatives are preparing thousands more workers for the careers of tomorrow.

We've invested millions in training workers to meet the growing demand in fields like computer technology, clean energy, automotive technology and health care.

Much of that training is taking place at our excellent community colleges, where the link between education and employment has always been strong.

Moberly is training LPNs to become RNs – boosting their earning capacity.

St. Louis is training workers to repair hybrid cars.

Crowder has doubled the number of grads from its EMT program.

We've also invested $40 million in training more than 1,000 doctors, dentists, nurses and other professionals through our Caring for Missourians initiative. With the booming demand for health care, they'll be ready to step into careers the minute they graduate.

That's why this year, I am expanding Caring for Missourians to provide more opportunities for nursing students at our four-year schools.

I ask the Legislature to join me in making this critical investment in our health, and the health of our economy.

Last year, I said that we needed to bring broadband to every corner of our state. We all know that technology drives today's job market. We live in a high-speed, digital world, where the most tech-savvy, early adapters will succeed.

Soon, 88 Missouri counties will be better connected, at faster speeds, to each other and to the world.

High-speed broadband will have a dramatic impact on our economy, and on our quality of life.

It will connect tens of thousands of homes in rural Missouri to a network of vital community services like fire and police, schools and hospitals, libraries and government.

For a family doc in Lancaster, it means real-time access to specialists in St. Louis.

For students in DeKalb County, it will widen the gateway to infinite online resources for research and class work, both at home and at school.

For cattlemen in Texas County, it will bring faster access to new markets in Brazil and Japan.

The competition for federal funds was steep. But our MoBroadbandNow partnership was a stunning success.

More than $260 million will be coming to Missouri, which in turn will generate tens of millions of dollars in new investment, and create thousands of new jobs.

We're fighting every day for jobs for our veterans.

Last summer, I visited our troops in Iraq, Kuwait and Afghanistan.

And everywhere I went, I heard the same question: "Will there be a job for me when I come home?"

Tonight, I'm pleased to report that our efforts helped hundreds of veterans find jobs last year.

One year ago, I announced the "Show-Me Heroes" job initiative to help our veterans quickly regain their footing in civilian life. More than 1,000 Missouri employers stepped up to take the Show-Me Heroes pledge to give veterans first crack at a job interview.

I'd like to thank each and every employer who took the Show-Me Heroes pledge and hired a veteran, and I urge every employer in our state to do the same.

One of these employers is here tonight.

Tacony Manufacturing, which makes vacuum cleaners in St. James, took the Show-Me pledge and hired three veterans. The company also took advantage of our Work Ready Missouri program, which retrains unemployed workers to compete in today's economy.

Please give a hand to the Show-Me Heroes employers at Tacony: Nancy Montgomery and John Kaido.

Even during these challenging times, we're making steady progress in driving job growth in the short term, and laying the foundation for economic strength in the long term.

Because of our hard work of the past two years, major companies have announced plans to bring thousands of jobs to our state, including:

300 jobs at Unisys in St. Louis;
400 jobs at Sabreliner in Perryville;
500 jobs at Expedia in Springfield;
500 jobs at Jet Midwest in Kansas City; and 800 jobs at IBM in Columbia.

And there's more.

Nordic Windpower USA, is relocating from California to Kansas City. It plans to invest $16 million and create 200 jobs, making wind turbines that produce clean, renewable energy.

Express Scripts is investing $73 million to expand in St. Louis. That will preserve more than 1,000 jobs, and create 150 more.

Pioneer Hi-Bred has broken ground on a $55 million soybean research plant in New Madrid County, creating 50 new jobs and helping thousands of Missouri farmers grow better beans.

Going forward, we will fight every day to help established Missouri businesses grow, and help new ones take root.

We're going to make things in Missouri, and keep the "P" for products in GDP.

Boots at Redwing in Potosi;

Batteries at Energizer in Maryville;

Windows at Quaker Windows in Freeburg;

Aluminum at Noranda in Marston;

Engine parts at Bodine in Troy;

Bullets and brakes, aircraft and appliances.

And Missouri will keep on building things, and that includes automobiles.

For a hundred years, Missouri has been an automotive state.

The industry pumps billions of dollars into our economy, and supports nearly 26,000 Missouri jobs.

But as I stood here one year ago, those jobs were in peril.

There was real concern that Ford's Claycomo plant might be the latest casualty of the 20-year decline of the U.S. auto industry.

So last summer, I called the General Assembly into special session to strengthen Missouri's automotive industry.

We fought for every man and woman whose job was on the line.

And I'm proud to announce that working together, we won that fight.

Yesterday, I inked a deal with the Ford Motor Company that guarantees thousands of jobs, $400 million of new capital investment, and a bright future for the Ford plant in Claycomo.

With us tonight to celebrate this partnership is Ford's director of strategic planning, Steve Lewis.

Steve, please stand up and say hello.

It sure feels nice to be at the wheel when the U.S. auto industry turns a corner.

Ford's commitment will help keep thousands of hard-working Missourians on the job at Claycomo, and at automotive suppliers in Hannibal, Nixa, Perryville, Joplin, Mexico – and every corner of our state.

And it's proof positive of what we already know: that the best darn workers in America are right here in the Show-Me State.

We've got some here with us tonight. Let's give them all a round of applause.

Missouri's workforce is one of our greatest assets.

And it's one of the reasons companies like Ford want to come to the Show-Me State, and stay in the Show-Me State.

But to be competitive, we constantly need to raise the level of our game.

As I listen to Missouri leaders in business, labor and education, I hear the same thing again and again: "We must make it easier for business to do business in Missouri."

They tell me that while we've made good use of our economic development tools to create jobs in the past, some of our incentives are outdated and need to be replaced.

Even the best tools need sharpening from time to time.

The feedback from our business experts is the foundation of my Compete Missouri jobs initiative. Compete Missouri is focused on providing smarter business incentives to drive job growth, and sharpening our competitive edge.

First, we will consolidate our six current business incentives, and roll them into one. To qualify for these incentives, companies will have to provide good-paying jobs, and give their employees access to health care. For the first time, we'll give an extra bump to established Missouri companies, and offer added incentives to small business owners.

Second, we will roll our three worker training programs into one, and align it with our Compete Missouri incentives. Worker training assistance will be available to businesses as small as Ardent Outdoors, which employs 15 people in Macon, and as large as Boeing, which employs thousands.

Third, my budget for 2012 provides an additional $5 million for job training. That will give employers more resources to maintain a highly skilled workforce, and sharpen their competitive edge.

That's good for business, good for our workers and great for our economy.

Every business in Missouri needs reliable, affordable energy to grow and prosper.

And every Missouri family needs reliable, affordable energy to heat and cool their homes.

In November, I announced a historic agreement that will transform the economy of our state – creating thousands of jobs and benefitting millions of Missouri consumers of electric power.

That agreement put the wheels in motion for the construction of a second, state-of-the-art nuclear power plant in Callaway County.

Missouri has some of the lowest electric rates in the nation. That's attractive to businesses and families. But as our energy needs grow, we need to be looking now for new sources of clean, abundant and affordable power.

Building a second nuclear plant will create thousands of good-paying jobs for all our construction trades: iron and sheet metal workers; carpenters and cement masons; boilermakers and bricklayers; plumbers and pipefitters; teamsters and laborers; electrical workers and operating engineers.

They built Callaway One. And they will build Callaway Two.

As we move ahead on Callaway Two, we must make sure that we protect the interests of Missouri ratepayers – and their pocketbooks. That is why my budget includes more funding for a strong office of public counsel.

Building the next generation of nuclear power plants. Advancing the frontiers of biotechnology. The 21st Century economy is knowledge-based, and the best jobs will belong to those with the best education.

Education is a lifelong journey that begins at birth.

That's why my budget for 2012 provides funding for programs to get our youngsters off to a good start, like First Steps, Head Start, and Early Childhood Special Education.

And we must continue to invest in young minds from the day our children enter their first classrooms, to the day they accept their diplomas.

So even in a difficult year, we will protect our investment in K-12 classrooms.

As you know, states received additional federal funds, to be allocated to school districts this year.

But in spite of receiving this money, some states are making cuts to their K-12 classrooms.

Not in Missouri.

In Missouri, we're partnering with our school districts to allow this money to be used to keep stable funding for our K-12 classrooms – not only for fiscal year 2011, but also for fiscal year 2012.

In the next ten years, Missouri student achievement must rank in the nation's top ten, if we expect to compete for the best jobs in the global economy.

How will we accomplish that?

Hard work, high standards and higher expectations.

It's an ambitious goal.

But as any parent or teacher will tell you, children will rise to meet our expectations.

And we must do more to help students make the leap from high school to college.

For too long, too many excellent Missouri high school students have been unable to get A+ scholarships – through no fault of their own – simply because their schools weren’t designated as A+ schools.

That’s just not fair.

Every good student in Missouri deserves the opportunity to go to college – whether they live in the urban core in St. Louis or Kansas City, or down a country road in the Bootheel.

I’m talking about students like Alicen Brown and Willie Love.

Alicen is a junior at Southwest High School in Kansas City.

She’s the president of the student body, a member of the district’s scholars committee and a peer mediator.

She gets good grades and has already taken courses that will count toward her college degree.

But Alicen can’t get an A+ scholarship because Southwest High has not been designated an A+ school.

That’s just not fair.

Willie Love is a senior at Carnahan High School in St. Louis.

He’s a scholar-athlete with honors in baseball, football and basketball.

He’s vice-president of a community service club at school, and works with youngsters at the Demetrius Johnson football camp.

Willie’s just the kind of young achiever that A+ scholarships are intended to help.

But because his school isn’t designated as an A+ school, he can’t even apply.

That’s just not fair.

Good students like Alicen and Willie deserve an equal opportunity to succeed – no matter what high school they attend.

I call on every member of the legislature to extend our A+ program so that outstanding students all across our state are guaranteed access to A+ college scholarships.

In recognition of their outstanding achievements, please welcome Alicen Brown and Willie Love.

My budget for 2012 also includes millions of dollars for Missouri’s most successful college scholarship programs, including:

Bright Flight, to help keep our top students at our excellent Missouri institutions; and A+, which has helped more than 50,000 students afford and attend college.

Access Missouri, which serves students with the greatest financial need;

And to improve our students’ preparation for careers in science and technology, we’ll give a $500 bonus to A+ and Access Missouri recipients who score well on Advanced Placement exams in math and science.

Because job prospects and lifetime earnings are tied directly to education, we’ve got to lift our aspirations for higher education as well.

Today, just 35 percent of Missouri adults hold college degrees.

We need to kick that number up to 60 percent if we want to compete for the best jobs in the new economy.

How?

By bringing the dream of a college education within reach for more Missouri families.

College affordability has been a top priority of mine since Day One.

So while tuition soared by double digits around the nation, Missouri schools kept tuition and fees flat for two years running. Even if some schools impose modest tuition increases next year, we’ll have protected Missouri families from the sharp tuition spikes seen in other states.

And the response has been overwhelming. College enrollment jumped by 10,000 students last year, hitting record highs at more than half of Missouri’s universities, and boosting applications at all of them.

That’s progress.

Creating jobs.

Balancing the budget without raising taxes.

Investing in our future.

Now let me tell you about what we're doing to make government smarter and more efficient.

- By merging the Highway Patrol and Water Patrol, we've kept the same number of troopers on our roads and waterways with less bureaucracy. Savings to taxpayers: $3 million.
- We've sold government cars, cut mileage reimbursements and used technology to drastically reduce state travel. Savings to taxpayers: close to $7 million in the next two years.
- We've gotten rid of unused office space, consolidated the state health and agriculture labs and renegotiated building leases. Savings to taxpayers: more than $5 million.
- We've cut state energy bills by two percent, on top of last year's 5.6 percent. Savings to taxpayers: $3 million.
- And we've reformed and modernized the state pension system, which will keep it solvent now, and for years to come.

But we must do more this year.

A bi-partisan tax credit commission spent four months reviewing Missouri's 61 tax credit programs. They looked at which credits are giving taxpayers a good return on their investment – and which are not.

I ask the members of the Legislature to allow this commission to present its recommendations at open hearings in the House and Senate.

We should give the commission's report serious and full consideration.

Because Missourians work hard for their money.

We owe it to taxpayers to make sure they get the best bang for their buck.

Creating jobs.

Balancing the budget without raising taxes.

Investing in the future.

Making government smarter and more efficient.

All of these things are essential to the well-being of our state.

But there are special moments when, touched by the better angels of our Nature, our work rises to meet a higher standard. At those moments, what we do here transforms lives.

January 1, 2011, was a landmark day for thousands of families across Missouri.

That was the day insurance companies had to start providing meaningful coverage for the diagnosis and treatment of children with autism.

Some day, when we look back at our shared history, at the battles won and lost in these chambers, this piece of legislation will be one of our landmarks, as well.

Last October, we took another bold step to help families caring for loved ones with other types of developmental disabilities, like Down Syndrome and cerebral palsy.

The Partnership for Hope is designed to keep families together, and improve their quality of life by providing support for their loved ones at home.

I'd like to introduce you to a young man sitting in the back gallery.

His name is Nick Ayers. He's 31 and lives in Lincoln County with his parents, Russell and Janet.

Nick has cerebral palsy. He can do a lot on his own, but he needs a hand preparing meals, managing personal business, and staying safe.

Janet and Russell want their son to live a full and happy life as an independent member of their community. But as they get older, they worry that keeping up with Nick will become a real challenge.

Like too many Missouri families, the Ayers had been on a waiting list for support services for years ... and years...and years. Today, we're providing those services for them, and hundreds more families – at home, at a fraction of the cost of institutional care.

Please join me in welcoming Nick, Janet and Russell Ayers, as representatives of Missouri's life-changing Partnership for Hope.

Last year, we passed historic DWI legislation with strong bipartisan support.

That new law is making our highways safer for everyone.

With us tonight are the superintendent of the Highway Patrol, Colonel Ron Replogle, and Sergeant Blaine Adams from Troop E in Poplar Bluff.

Sergeant Adams has made an amazing 1,060 DWI arrests – more than any other current member of the patrol.

1,060 DWI arrests.

Can you imagine how many lives this one Trooper has saved?

For its exceptional record of educating the public, and protecting Missourians from drunk drivers, the Patrol received the national 2010 Outstanding Law Enforcement Agency Award from Mothers Against Drunk Driving.

Colonel Replogle and Sergeant Adams, on behalf of all the men and women of the Highway Patrol, please stand and accept the gratitude of your state.

But we must do more to protect the health of our citizens.

This year, my budget will provide good nutrition for thousands of house-bound seniors who rely on home-delivered meals.

Our seniors also need help paying for their medicine.

We have a program to help low-income seniors and people with disabilities keep up with the skyrocketing costs of prescription drugs.

The Missouri Rx program is a lifeline for more than 200,000 Missourians every year.

But Missouri Rx is set to expire this summer.

We cannot let that happen.

My budget includes funds for the Missouri Rx program, but the Legislature must extend it.

Nobody should be forced to choose between paying for medicine and putting food on the table.

Nobody.

I urge the members of the General Assembly to reauthorize this vital program and send it to my desk.

There's another piece of the people's business that requires our attention: ethics reform.

The people of Missouri need to know that their elected representatives are working in the public interest – and not for personal gain.

Right now, anyone can write a check for any amount of money, and tip the balance of an election.

That is corrosive to our democracy.

We need to set strict limits on campaign contributions that are undermining the sovereignty of the people, and subverting the fundamental principle of free and fair elections.

We need meaningful ethics reform this year.

In the past year, I've visited businesses and schools, farms and factories, hospitals and veterans homes from Bethany to Bernie, and seen a lot of countryside in between.

One of the many things that make Missouri such a special place to live is our wonderful system of state parks. There's a quiet beauty to Missouri that weaves its own kind of magic.

That may explain why I've never lived anywhere else.

Never wanted to.

Like thousands of Missourians, I grew up hunting and fishing, hiking and canoeing with my Mom and Dad. Georganne and I have continued that outdoor tradition with our family.

While visiting our state parks last year, Georganne and I saw Missouri's first State Parks Youth Corps in action.

At a time when it's been especially tough for young people to find jobs, the State Parks Youth Corps put money in the pockets of more than 1,000 young workers – at no cost to the state.

The National Association of State Park Directors gave our State Parks Youth Corps its top award for innovation in 2010. And I'm pleased to report that the Youth Corps will put hundreds more kids to work in our parks this summer.

Believe me, those young folks worked hard.

We saw them rebuilding stone walls at Roaring River, painting cabins at Montauk, and blazing trails at Cuivre River and Rock Bridge.

And while they were at it, they learned valuable life and work skills:

Show up on time;

Do your best;

and get the job done.

Working outside all summer long, they also gained a new respect and appreciation for Nature.

If you look up in the balcony, you'll see them in their green T-shirts.

Please welcome the members of Missouri's first State Parks Youth Corps.

This is a critical time for Missouri.

The shadows of the recession are lifting.

The bright rays of recovery are gathered on the horizon.

Now, more than ever, Missouri needs its leaders to focus on what is most important:

Creating jobs.

Making government smarter and more efficient.

Investing in strong communities;

And balancing the budget without raising taxes.

The people of Missouri want problem-solvers, not politicians.

The people of Missouri want results, not rhetoric.

Because as we've seen in Washington, when politicians cling to ideology, and kick common sense to the curb, when they focus on the party line and not the bottom line... nothing gets done.

Missouri is blessed with a long and strong tradition of bipartisanship.

And in Missouri, we get things done.

Why?

Because here in the heartland, we share common values and common goals.

We want the opportunity to work hard at work worth doing, whether it's building the next generation of fuel-efficient trucks, or growing better soybeans to feed a hungry world.

We want our children to get a first-rate education that prepares them to compete for the best jobs in the global economy.

We want safe, strong communities where neighbors help neighbors.

We want a vibrant and prosperous economy, where "Made in America" is still the gold standard – whether it's stamped on an F-150 or an F-15.

And we make them both, right here in the Show-Me State.

For as long as I've been a public servant — as a state senator, as attorney general and now, as your governor — my approach has been pretty simple.

Bring folks together.

Hash things out.

Find solutions.

Now, we all know the folks in this room have differences of opinion.

And we all know we'll have some disagreements.

But it's worth remembering that we all serve the people of Missouri.

All of your constituents are my constituents... and the common good is our common goal.

I'd like to close tonight with the words of a native son.

He's been a strong and steadfast servant of the people, and a champion for Missouri commerce, education and agriculture for more than 40 years: Senator Christopher S. Bond.

Here's what Kit had to say last month, in his farewell address on the Senate floor:

"In a world today, where enemies are real ... it is important to remember there is a lot of real estate between a political opponent and a true enemy.

There will be issues where people of good conscience cannot come together.

But never let what cannot be done, interfere with what can be done."

In the days and weeks ahead, let us take those words to heart, and act on them in good faith.

Let us do what can be done... what must be done ... for the people of Missouri.

God bless Missouri.

God bless America.

Thank you, and good evening.

“You know the value of prayer: it is precious beyond all price. Never, never neglect it.” (Sir Thomas Buxton)

Help us to see that all in which we are engaged, prayer can be a plumb line to keep us centered in You. Help us to see that prayer can make us attentive and more receptive to what is happening about us and how best to respond to them. Lord, help us to pray. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 6

WHEREAS, U.S. and Missouri agriculture has an impressive track record of successfully addressing the economic and market-based issues associated with coexistence, whether via neighbor-to-neighbor or through state seed certifying agencies or other local, state or regional initiatives; and

WHEREAS, the U.S. Department of Agriculture has indicated that it may deregulate genetically-engineered alfalfa with certain conditions in an effort to protect organic growers' claims of potential harm. The American Farm Bureau and several other grower-based organizations strongly believe that such a conditional deregulation is not science-based, and would restrict or even eliminate the use of a valuable tool from growers in many parts of this country; and

WHEREAS, in the field of agricultural biotechnology, Missouri growers have worked closely with the seed industry to meet their respective stewardship obligations through contractual arrangements and other mechanisms, which is where matters of coexistence and stewardship are addressed most effectively and efficiently; and

WHEREAS, the National Alfalfa and Forage Alliance developed its Best Management Practices for Roundup Ready Alfalfa seed production in 2008 and has taken the lead in providing coexistence documents for alfalfa hay export markets, alfalfa seed export markets, and organic alfalfa seed and hay markets; and

WHEREAS, issues of coexistence are always best dealt with farmer-to-farmer, and any proposals to change federal policy on agricultural biotechnology regulation must be done through a thoughtful dialogue inclusive of all U.S. government agencies:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-sixth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urge the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture and the U.S. Department of Agriculture to make regulatory decisions based on sound science and to deregulate genetically-engineered alfalfa without any conditions as soon as possible to enable alfalfa farmers in Missouri and other states to have access to genetically-engineered alfalfa seeds in time for the spring planting season; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution to the U.S. Secretary of Agriculture, each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation, and the director of the Missouri Department of Agriculture.

Notwithstanding the above table, two consecutive sets of tandem axles may carry a gross load of thirty-four thousand pounds each if the overall distance between the first and last axles of such consecutive sets of tandem axles is thirty-six feet or more.

4. Whenever the state highways and transportation commission finds that any state highway bridge in the state is in such a condition that use of such bridge by vehicles of the weights specified in subsection 3 of this section will endanger the bridge, or the users of the bridge, the commission may establish maximum weight limits and speed limits for vehicles using such bridge. The governing body of any city or county may grant authority by act or ordinance to the state highways and transportation commission to enact the limitations established in this section on those roadways within the purview of such city or county. Notice of the weight limits and speed limits established by the commission shall be given by posting signs at a conspicuous place at each end of any such bridge.

5. Nothing in this section shall be construed as permitting lawful axle loads, tandem axle loads or gross loads in excess of those permitted under the provisions of Section 127 of Title 23 of the United States Code.

6. Notwithstanding the weight limitations contained in this section, any vehicle or combination of vehicles operating on highways other than the interstate highway system may exceed single axle, tandem axle and gross weight limitations in an amount not to exceed two thousand pounds. However, total gross weight shall not exceed eighty thousand pounds, except as provided in subsection 9 of this section.

7. Notwithstanding any provision of this section to the contrary, the department of transportation shall issue a single-use special permit, or upon request of the owner of the truck or equipment, shall issue an annual permit, for the transporting of any concrete pump truck or well-drillers' equipment. The department of transportation shall set fees for the issuance of permits pursuant to this subsection. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 301.133, concrete pump trucks or well-drillers' equipment may be operated on state-maintained roads and highways at any time on any day.

8. Notwithstanding the provision of this section to the contrary, the maximum gross vehicle limit and axle weight limit for any vehicle or combination of vehicles equipped with an idle reduction technology may be increased by a quantity necessary to compensate for the additional weight of the idle reduction system as provided for in 23 U.S.C. Section 127, as amended. In no case shall the additional weight increase allowed by this subsection be greater than four hundred pounds. Upon request by an appropriate law enforcement officer, the vehicle operator shall provide proof that the idle reduction technology is fully functional at all times and that the gross weight increase is not used for any purpose other than for the use of idle reduction technology.

9. Notwithstanding subsection 3 of this section or any other provision of law to the contrary, the total gross weight of any vehicle or combination of vehicles hauling livestock may be as much as, but shall not exceed, eighty-five thousand five hundred pounds while operating on U.S. Highway 36 from St. Joseph to U.S. Highway 65, and on U.S. Highway 65 from the Iowa state line to U.S. Highway 36.

10. Notwithstanding subsection 3 of this section or any other provision of law to the contrary, for the period between October fifteenth and December fifteenth of each year, any motor vehicle or combination of motor vehicles carrying agricultural products may operate with a load that exceeds the maximum weight load permitted by this chapter by ten percent on any tandem axle, group of axles, and gross weight. If enforcement action is taken pursuant to this section, the fine or penalty shall only apply to that portion of the load that is more than ten percent above the legal limit. The weight tolerance authorized in this subsection shall apply to all highways within the state of Missouri except for the interstate highway system. [145.011. A tax is imposed on the transfer of every decedent's estate which consists in whole or in part of property having a tax situs within the state of Missouri. The Missouri estate tax shall be the maximum credit for state death taxes allowed by Internal Revenue Code Section 2011 but not less than the maximum credit for state death taxes allowable to the estate of a decedent against the federal estate tax by Section 2011 or any other provision of the laws of the United States.]

[145.041. If the decedent's estate contains property having a tax situs not within the state of Missouri, then the tax determined by section 145.011 shall be reduced to an amount determined by multiplying the tax by a fraction whose numerator is the gross estate excluding all property having a tax situs not within the state of Missouri at the decedent's death and whose denominator is the gross estate. In determining the fraction, no deductions shall be considered and the gross estate shall not be reduced by a mortgage or other indebtedness for which the decedent's estate is not liable.]

[145.051. The liability imposed by sections 145.011 to 145.995 shall be paid by the executor.]

[145.091. Any term used in sections 145.011 to 145.995 shall have the same meaning as when used in a comparable context in the laws of the United States, unless a different meaning is clearly required by the provisions of sections 145.011 to 145.995. [145.101. 1. "Executor" means the executor or administrator of the decedent, or, if there is no executor or administrator, then any person in actual or constructive possession of any property of the decedent.

2. "Nonresident" means an individual who is not a resident.

3. "Resident" means an individual who is domiciled in this state at the time of death.

4. "State" means any state or territory of the United States and the District of Columbia.]

[145.102. Property shall have a tax situs within the state of Missouri if:

(1) It is real estate or tangible personal property and has actual situs within the state of Missouri; or

(2) It is intangible personal property and the decedent was a resident.]

[145.201. When the director of revenue claims that a decedent was domiciled in this state at the time of his death and the taxing authorities of another state or states make a like claim on behalf of their state or states, the director may make a written agreement of compromise with the other taxing authorities and the executor that a certain sum shall be accepted in full satisfaction of any and all death taxes imposed by this state, including any interest or penalties to the date of filing the agreement. The agreement shall also fix the amount to be accepted by the other states in full satisfaction of death taxes. The executor is hereby authorized to make such agreement. The director shall assess the agreed tax and the tax shall be deemed conclusively fixed as therein provided. Unless the tax is paid within ninety days after filing the agreement, interest shall accrue upon the amount fixed in the agreement from the time of the decedent's death.]

[145.301. If an executor or other fiduciary receives a discharge pursuant to Internal Revenue Code Section 2204 (a) or (b) and if the fiduciary makes written application to the director of revenue for determination of the amount of the tax and discharge from personal liability, the director within two months after receiving satisfactory evidence of the Section 2204 discharge, but not after the expiration of the period prescribed for the assessment of the tax in section 145.711, shall notify the fiduciary of the amount of the tax. The fiduciary, on payment of the amount of which he is notified (other than any amount the time payment of which is extended under section 145.551), and on furnishing any bond which may be required for any amount for which the time for payment is extended, shall be discharged from personal liability for any deficiency in tax thereafter found to be due and shall be entitled to a receipt or writing showing the discharge.]

[145.481. A tax return with respect to the tax imposed by sections 145.011 to 145.995 shall be made:

(1) With respect to a resident, by every executor who is required to file a federal estate tax return;

The director shall prescribe the place for filing any return, declaration, statement, or other document required pursuant to this chapter and for the payment of any tax.]

[145.551. 1. The director of revenue may grant a reasonable extension of time for payment of tax, or for filing any return, declaration, statement, or other document required by sections 145.011 to 145.995 on such terms and conditions as he may require. No extension for filing any return, declaration, statement or document shall exceed six months.

2. If a taxpayer has been granted an extension of time for filing the federal estate tax return, the filing of a copy of the extension with the director of revenue shall automatically extend the due date of the tax return required by sections 145.011 to 145.995.

3. If a taxpayer has been granted an extension of time for paying any portion of the federal estate tax, the filing of a copy of the extension with the director of revenue shall automatically extend the time for the payment of the tax or a portion of the tax required by sections 145.011 to 145.995 to the applicable limitations specified in Internal Revenue Code Section 2011(c) or 2015. The portion of the Missouri estate tax which is subject to deferral or payable in installments shall be determined by multiplying the total Missouri estate tax payable by a fraction, the numerator of which is the gross value of those assets of the decedent's estate having a taxable situs in Missouri which qualify for deferred or installment payment under Internal Revenue Code Section 6161, 6163, or 6166, and the denominator of which is the gross value of all assets of the decedent's estate having a taxable situs in Missouri. For purposes of this section, the value of property shall be that determined for federal estate tax purposes. Deferred payments and installment payments with interest shall be paid at the same time and in the same manner as payments of the federal estate tax are required to be made under the applicable sections of the Internal Revenue Code. Acceleration of payments under this section shall occur under the same circumstances and in the same manner as provided in Internal Revenue Code Section 6166(g). During such extension, interest shall accrue and become due annually on the Missouri estate tax at the same rate as provided in Section 6601 of Title 26, United States Code for the extension of federal estate taxes during the same period.

If more than one rate is applicable to amounts owed by a taxpayer under the federal estate tax during such period of extension, the same rates shall apply to the Missouri estate tax, and in the same proportion in which such rates are applicable to the amount owed under the federal estate tax attributable to assets having a taxable situs in Missouri. After the period of extension for the payment of Missouri estate taxes has expired, interest shall accrue as provided in section 143.731.]

[145.552. Unless the decedent otherwise directs by will, if any part of the decedent's gross estate for federal estate tax purposes consists of property the value of which is includable in the gross estate by reason of Internal Revenue Code section 2044, the decedent's estate shall be entitled to recover from the person receiving the property the amount by which the total Missouri estate tax paid exceeds the total Missouri estate tax which would have been payable if the value of such property had not been included in the gross estate. For purposes of this section, if there is more than one person receiving the property, the right of recovery shall be against each such person, based on his pro rata share of the property received. Further, for purposes of this section, interest and penalties attributable to additional Missouri estate tax on property described in this section shall be treated as additional Missouri estate tax which the decedent's estate shall be entitled to recover in accordance with the provisions of this section.]

[145.601. If the amount of a taxpayer's federal taxable estate, adjusted taxable gifts, or credit for state death taxes reported on his federal estate tax return is changed or corrected by the United States Internal Revenue Service or other competent authority, the taxpayer shall report the change or correction within ninety days after the final determination of the change or correction or as otherwise required by the director of revenue. Each report shall state whether and wherein the determination is believed to be erroneous. Any taxpayer filing an amended federal estate tax return shall also file within ninety days thereafter an amended return under sections 145.011 to 145.995 and shall give such information as the director of revenue may require. The imposition of an additional tax by Internal Revenue Code Section 2032A shall constitute a change. The director of revenue may by regulation prescribe exceptions to the requirements of this section as he deems appropriate.]

[145.711. 1. Except as otherwise provided in this section, a notice of deficiency shall be mailed to the taxpayer within three years after the return was filed. No deficiency shall be assessed or collected unless the notice is mailed within the three-year period or the period otherwise fixed.

2. If no return is filed or a false and fraudulent return is filed with intent to evade the tax imposed by sections 145.011 to 145.995, a notice of deficiency may be mailed to the taxpayer at any time.

3. If a taxpayer fails to comply with the requirements of section 145.601 by not reporting a change or correction or by not filing an amended return, a notice of deficiency may be mailed to the taxpayer within one year after the director of revenue shall become aware of the determination. A notice under this subsection shall be limited to the effects on the Missouri estate tax of the issues on which the federal determination is based.

4. If the taxpayer shall, pursuant to section 145.601, report a change or correction or file an amended return or report a change or correction which is treated in the same manner as if it were a deficiency for federal estate tax purposes, the assessment (if not deemed to have been made upon the filing of the report or amended return) may be made at any time within one year after the report or amended return was filed. A notice under this subsection shall be limited in the manner provided in subsection 3 of this section.

5. Where, before the expiration of the time prescribed in this section for the assessment of a deficiency, both the director of revenue and the taxpayer shall have consented in writing to its assessment after such time, the deficiency may be assessed at any time prior to the expiration of period agreed upon. The period so agreed may be extended by subsequent agreement in writing made before the expiration of the period previously agreed upon.

6. For purposes of this section a return filed before the last day prescribed by law or by regulation promulgated pursuant to law for the filing thereof shall be deemed to be filed on such last day.]

[145.801. 1. A claim for credit or refund of an overpayment of any tax imposed by sections 145.011 to 145.995 shall be filed by the taxpayer within three years from the time the return was filed or two years from the time the tax was paid, whichever of the periods expires the later; or if no return was filed by the taxpayer, within two years from the time the tax was paid. No credit or refund shall be allowed or made after the expiration of the period of limitation prescribed in this subsection for the filing of a claim for credit or refund, unless a claim for credit or refund is filed by the taxpayer within the period.

2. If the claim is filed by the taxpayer during the three-year period prescribed in subsection 1, the amount of the credit or refund shall not exceed the portion of the tax paid within the three years immediately preceding the filing of the claim plus the period of any extension of time for filing the return. If the claim is not filed within the three-year period, but is filed within the two-year period, the amount of the credit or refund shall not exceed the portion of the tax paid during the two years immediately preceding the filing of the claim. If no claim is filed, the credit or refund shall not exceed the amount which would be allowable under either of the preceding sentences, as the case may be, if a claim was filed on the date the credit or refund is allowed.

3. If pursuant to subsection 5 of section 145.711 an agreement for an extension of the period for assessment is made within the period prescribed in subsection 1 of this section for the filing of a claim for credit or refund, the period for filing a claim for credit or for making a credit or refund if no claim is filed, shall not expire prior to six months after the expiration of the period within which an assessment may be made pursuant to the agreement or any extension. The amount of the credit or refund shall not exceed the portion of the tax paid after the execution of the agreement and before the filing of the claim or the making of the credit or refund, as the case may be, plus the portion of the tax paid within the period which would be applicable under subsection 1 of this section if a claim had been filed on the date the agreement was executed.

4. If a taxpayer is required by section 145.601 to report a change or correction which is treated in the same manner as if it were an overpayment for federal estate tax purposes, an amended return or a claim for credit or refund of any resulting overpayment of tax shall be filed by the taxpayer within one year from the time the notice of such change or correction or such amended return was required to be filed with the director of revenue. If the report or amended return required by section 145.601 is not filed within the ninety-day period therein specified, interest on any resulting refund or credit shall cease to accrue after the ninetieth day. The amount of such credit or refund shall not exceed the amount of the reduction in Missouri estate tax attributable to the effect of the issues on which the federal change or correction or the items amended on the taxpayer's amended federal estate tax return are based.]

[145.846. An application for review of the director of revenue's determination pursuant to sections 145.011 to 145.995 shall be filed by the executor with the administrative hearing commission under section 621.050.]

[145.871. The courts of this state shall recognize and enforce liabilities for estate and transfer taxes lawfully imposed by any state which extends a like comity to this state, and the duly authorized officer of any such state may sue for the collection of such a tax in the courts of this state. A certificate by the secretary of state of the other state that an officer suing for the collection of the tax is duly authorized to collect the tax shall be conclusive proof of such authority. For the purposes of this section, the word "TAXES" shall include additions to tax, interest, and penalties, and liabilities for the taxes, additions to tax, interest, and penalties shall be recognized and enforced by the courts of this state to the same extent that the laws of the other state permit the enforcement in its courts of liability for the taxes, additions to a tax, interest, and penalties due this state under sections 145.011 to 145.995.]

[145.961. 1. The director of revenue shall administer and enforce the tax imposed by sections 145.011 to 145.995 and he is authorized to make such rules and regulations and to require such facts and information to be reported as he may deem necessary to enforce the provisions of sections 145.011 to 145.995.

2. The rules and regulations prescribed by the director of revenue shall follow as nearly as practicable the rules and regulations of the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States. This construction of sections 145.011 to 145.995 will further its purposes to simplify the preparation of tax returns, aid in its interpretation through use of federal precedents, and improve its enforcement.]

[145.971. 1. The director of revenue may prescribe the form and contents of any return or other documents, including a copy of part or all of a federal return, required to be filed under the provisions of sections 145.011 to 145.995.

2. The director of revenue for the purpose of ascertaining the corrections of any return, or for the purpose of making an estimate of any person, shall have power to examine or to cause to have examined, by any agent or representative designated by him for that purpose, any books, papers, records, or memoranda bearing upon the matters required to be included in the return, and may require the attendance of the person rendering the return or any officer or employee of such person, or the attendance of any other person having knowledge in the premises, and may take testimony and require proof material for his information, with power to administer oaths to such person or persons.

3. Reports and returns required to be filed under sections 145.011 to 145.995 shall be preserved for four years and thereafter until the director of revenue orders them destroyed.]

[145.985. Except as otherwise specifically provided in sections 145.011 to 145.995, procedural matters under the provisions of sections 145.011 to 145.995 shall be determined pursuant to and in the manner prescribed in the following sections of the revised statutes of

[145.995. 1. A generation-skipping credit tax is imposed on every generation-skipping transfer which consists in whole or in part of property having a tax situs within the state of Missouri. CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

Senator Rupp offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 8

WHEREAS, the United States Army Corps of Engineers' five-year study of the Upper Mississippi River Basin, which is everything north of Cairo, Illinois, failed to produce a plan for flood control acceptable to stakeholders; and

WHEREAS, the Mississippi River Commission did recommend Plan H to the United States Congress; and

WHEREAS, the Corps of Engineers has not recommended this plan to the United States Congress, citing the estimated $6 billion expense of the construction of 500-year levees along these Rivers as not cost effective; and

WHEREAS, the Corps of Engineers additionally determined a need for better data based upon new hydrology and flow studies and the need to study tributaries of the Mississippi River; and

WHEREAS, the Corps of Engineers indicated that ramifications of the additional 500-year levees and their potential to cause additional flooding would need to be determined, and affected populations and communities informed and advised of the potential impact; and

WHEREAS, the affected counties include the Missouri counties of Lincoln, Pike, and St. Charles; and

WHEREAS, Plan H designates only about half of the levees in the Missouri counties of Lincoln, Pike, and St. Charles be raised, while to the north 500-year levees are recommended for both sides of the River; and

WHEREAS, the stakeholders in the Missouri counties of Lincoln, Pike, and St. Charles desire the protections provided by the 500-year levees; and

WHEREAS, Plan H, if implemented, denies the benefits of 500-year levees to those making a living along the Mississippi River, negatively impacting agriculture, transportation, businesses, industries, tourism, hunting, fishing, boating, infrastructure, and residences; and

WHEREAS, over 6,500 citizens have signed petitions opposing Plan H; and

WHEREAS, the Upper Mississippi River Basin should receive funding comparable to funding for the Southern Mississippi River Basin from Cairo, Illinois, to New Orleans, Louisiana:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-sixth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby strongly urge the United States Congress to support a comprehensive plan for the Upper Mississippi River Basin that enhances system-wide flood control without creating adverse impacts on existing levees, levee districts, rural communities, and metropolitan areas. The plan should be based on analysis that quantifies the impact of enhanced flood control measures and acknowledges the importance of keeping agricultural land in production. The proposed Plan H making the Missouri counties of Lincoln, Pike, and St. Charles the lowest points on the Mississippi River levee system is totally unacceptable and we ask the Missouri Congressional delegation to oppose this plan; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

Senator Rupp offered the following concurrent resolution:

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 9

Relating to rescinding Missouri's 1983 call for a constitutional convention for the purpose of adopting a balanced budget amendment.

WHEREAS, the Missouri General Assembly, acting with the best of intentions, applied to the Congress of the United States by resolution in accordance with Article V, Constitution of the United States, for a constitutional convention for the purpose of amending the Constitution of the United States; and

WHEREAS, Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 3, was passed by the Eighty-second General Assembly of the State of Missouri in 1983 specifically proposing a constitutional convention for the sole purpose of adopting an amendment requiring a balanced federal budget; and

WHEREAS, over the course of time, the will of the people of the State of Missouri has changed with regards to Missouri's previous call for a constitutional convention to amend the Constitution of the United States; and

WHEREAS, certain persons or states have called for a constitutional convention on issues that may be directly in opposition to the will of the people of this state; and

WHEREAS, the people of this state do not want their previous applications for a constitutional convention to be aggregated with those calls for a convention from other states; and

WHEREAS, former Justice of the United States Supreme Court Warren E. Burger, former Associate Justice of the United States Supreme Court Arthur J. Goldberg and many other leading constitutional scholars are in general agreement that a convention, notwithstanding whatever limitation might be placed on it by the call for a convention, may propose sweeping constitutional changes or, by virtue of the authority of a constitutional convention, redraft the Constitution of the United States creating an imminent peril to the well established rights of citizens and to the duties of various levels of government; and

WHEREAS, the Constitution of the United States has been amended many times in the history of this nation and may be amended many more times without the need to resort to a constitutional convention, and has been interpreted for more than two hundred years and found to be a sound document that protects the lives and liberties of citizens; and

WHEREAS, there is no need for, and in fact there is great danger in, a new constitution or in opening the Constitution of the United States to radical changes, the adoption of which could create legal chaos in this nation and begin the process of another two centuries of litigation over its meaning and interpretation; and

WHEREAS, changes or amendments that may be needed in the present Constitution of the United States may be proposed and enacted without resorting to a constitutional convention by using the process provided in the Constitution and previously used throughout the history of this nation:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED by the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-sixth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, that the Missouri General Assembly hereby repeals, rescinds, cancels, renders null and void and supersedes any and all existing applications to the Congress of the United States for a constitutional convention under Article V of the Constitution of the United States for any purpose, whether limited or general; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Missouri General Assembly urges the legislature of each and every state that has applied to Congress for either a general or limited constitutional convention to repeal and rescind their applications; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for the President of the United States Senate, the Speaker of the United States House of Representatives, the Administrator of General Services in Washington, D.C., each member of Missouri's Congressional delegation, and the Secretaries of State and presiding officers of both houses of the legislatures of each state in the Union.

The Joint Committee appointed to wait upon the Chief Justice of the Supreme Court, William Ray Price, Jr., escorted the Chief Justice to the dais where he delivered the State of the Judiciary Address to the Joint Assembly:

Mr. Speaker, Mr. President, Mr. President pro tem, members of the General Assembly: It is my honor to deliver this 38th State of the Judiciary Address.

I never have seen a more challenging time for our state. Regardless of political philosophy, one thing is clear. Significant cuts have been made and will be made to Missouri's budget. To the extent necessary and possible, the courts have shared and will continue to share in budget withholdings without complaint.

The Missouri court system, the third separate but equal constitutional branch of government, operates on less than 2 percent of the state budget. Yet in 2010 we heard more than 171,000 contract cases, 42,000 landlord tenant cases, 17,000 juvenile cases, 12,000 probate cases, 110,000 family and domestic cases, 41,000 felony cases and 115,000 misdemeanor cases. Despite the state's economic condition, whether dipping or hopefully recovering, our work load does not diminish. The court system is a core function of government that must perform, and perform well, for our state to function and thrive.

Don't overlook the obvious. Even in this time of economic challenge, we are still the greatest civilization in the history of human kind; supported by a free market economy that can exist only within the certainty of law. Goods and services can be bought and sold, money can be exchanged, people can plan for the future, but only because they can trust in a fair and impartial court system to protect their property and their rights.

There are two specific concerns I want to talk with you about. I spoke about them last year, and they are still the two most important issues that we face together for the future of Missouri. One calls for action; one does not.

First, we continue to over-incarcerate nonviolent offenders, while we have failed to expand drug courts and other diversionary and reentry programs to capacity. The result is a state that is not as safe as we want it to be and a waste of tax dollars.

From the 1980s, in Missouri and across the nation, we attempted to incarcerate our way out of crime and illegal drug use. We thought just putting people in prison would make them better. We spent billions of dollars and it did not work. We were tough on crime, but we were not smart on crime. Consider these numbers.

In 1982, 612,000 people were behind bars in state prisons across the country. By 2008, that number had risen almost fourfold to 2.3 million people. In 2010, the United States incarcerated a higher share of its population than any other country in the world. The cost has been staggering. State correctional spending, across our country increased from $11.7 billion, in 1988, to $47.3 billion in 2008. (One in 31 The Long Reach of American Corrections, The Pew Center on the States, www.pewcenteronthestates.org; The High Budgetary Cost of Incarceration, Center for Economic and Policy Research, June 2010, www.cepr.net)

In an article published just this January, Stanford law professor Joan Petersilia noted,

What we are seeing today is a growing recognition that our approach to dealing with convicted criminals is simply too costly. Not only is the price too high, but the benefits are too low. The states now spend an estimated $50 billion on corrections annually, and the growth of these outlays over the past 20 years has outpaced budget increases of nearly all other essential government services, including transportation, higher education, and public assistance. (Beyond the Prison Bubble, The Wilson Quarterly, Winter 2011, p.52)

Missouri had 5,953 individuals in state prison in 1982; by 2009 the number had grown fivefold to 30,432, while the population of our state grew only by 21 percent. In that same time period, from 1982 until 2009, our Department of Corrections budget rose from $55 million to $665 million.

It costs more than $16,400 per year to incarcerate an individual, without counting the cost of the prison itself. The cost of building a prison is, at least, $100 million. For violent criminals, who endanger innocent men, women, and children, there may be little choice. But for many of the 14,700 nonviolent offenders, this prison-based strategy is not working and it is costing us an arm and a leg.

The key measurement of the failure of this strategy is the recidivism rate. That is the number of people who are returned to prison after they have been released. In Missouri, 44.6 percent of nonviolent offenders are reincarcerated within two years of release; 52 percent of nonviolent offenders are reincarcerated within three years; and 58.5 percent of non violent offenders are reincarcerated within five years of release. More than one half of the people released from our penitentiaries are returned within five years.

A real life example of recidivism was the 35-year-old St. Joseph man who was arrested for drunk driving on June 16, 2010, just three hours after he was released from prison. (The Kansas City Star, July 17, 2010)

Punishment is a necessary part of our criminal justice system. But our real goal for nonviolent offenders is to teach them their lesson so they can become productive law abiding members of our society. The goal is not to lock them into a life of crime, to make them permanent wards of the state on an installment program of incarceration after incarceration, at $16,400 per year. Newt Gingrich wrote this:

The key to public safety and fiscal sanity is not just getting dangerous people off the streets but also making sure that men and women who eventually leave prison have changed and can stay crime-free on the outside. (Atlanta Journal Constitution, March 23, 2010)

Governor Rick Perry of Texas said it this way,

I believe we can take an approach that is both tough and smart ... [T]here are thousands of non-violent offenders in the system whose future we cannot ignore. Let's focus more resources on rehabilitating those offenders so we can ultimately spend less money locking them up again. (www.rightoncrime.com)

It should be absolutely clear that when half of the nonviolent offenders are returned to prison after release, we have not taught them the right lesson. And, the danger of crime – the millions of dollars of cost to the Missouri taxpayer – goes on and on and on.

Over-incarceration of nonviolent offenders has been a big-government, throw-money-at-the-problem strategy that simply did not and does not work. Despite our tough-on-crime rhetoric, it is time we face reality. Prison is the most expensive and least effective strategy for a significant number of nonviolent offenders. All it does is house them in expensive buildings, guard them with state workers, feed and give them health care paid for with precious state dollars and force them to associate with criminals more dangerous than they are. By spending all of our money on prison, there is not enough left to spend on the alcohol and drug treatment and the education and job training, necessary to break their cycle of crime. Proof is in the numbers: 44.6 percent are back in two years, 58.5 percent are back in five years.

A group called Right on Crime; whose members include Grover Norquist, Edwin Meese and William Bennett, said this:

... the corrections system must align incentives with our goals of public safety, victim restitution and satisfaction, and cost-effectiveness, thereby moving from a system that grows when it fails to one that rewards results. (www.rightoncrime.com)

Professor Petersilia said it this way:

It should not come as a surprise to learn that we have a corrections system that does not correct Former prisoners account for an estimated 15 to 20 percent of all arrests among adults. That means thousands of Americans are being victimized every year by criminals who have already done time without experiencing "correction." (Beyond the Prison Bubble, The Wilson Quarterly, Winter 2011, p.53)

There is a better way. All across the country, states are turning to cheaper and more effective alternative sanctions than prison for nonviolent offenders.

Drug courts are one of the best examples of tough, effective, local alternatives to prisons. Depending on the study, between 60 and 80 percent of people in prison are there for drug related crimes or have drug or alcohol issues. Study after study, nationally and in Missouri, show that drug courts are the most effective way to deal with drug and alcohol addicted people at a fraction of the cost of prison. Missouri has more than 9,700 drug court graduates with a minimal recidivism rate.

There are other evidence-based criminal sanction strategies, each matched to the particular risks and characteristics of the offender that also work far less expensively and far more effectively than prison. We need to move from anger-based, prison-focused sentencing that ignores cost and effectiveness to evidence-based alternative sanctions that change troubled lives and focus on results.

With your help, we have expanded drug courts and DWI courts across Missouri. Unfortunately, they are still underfunded by half. We barely have scratched the surface with family drug courts and reentry courts. But I especially want to tell you about two new pilot programs. First, in Jackson, Greene and St. Louis counties and in St. Louis City, we tested a program to divert juveniles from detention facilities. The program reduced detention admissions by approximately 50 percent with better results from the juveniles. The savings from this program will be substantial. We are expanding this program into five additional circuits.

The other pilot program is veterans court. Veterans court focuses on returning veterans whose psychological scars from service lead them to drugs and trouble and sometimes violence when they get home. In St. Louis City, Drug Court Commissioner Jim Sullivan has established a veterans court with 12 participants. Drug Court Commissioner Phil Britt is in the process of establishing a rural veterans court in Butler, Carter, Dunklin, Ripley, Stoddard and Wayne counties with a target population of 20 to 25 veterans. We owe our veterans this kind of help when they need it. But our resources are already stretched thin.

From a moral, a fiscal and a law-and-order perspective, drug courts, DWI courts, juvenile diversion programs, veterans courts, reentry courts and community supervision strategies are better investments of taxpayer money, for their target populations, than prisons.

I want to be absolutely clear. I am not advocating that we reduce prison populations just to save money. Nonviolent offenders are still law breakers, and they will break laws until they learn their lesson. What I am saying is that we need to do a better job teaching nonviolent offenders the right lessons. That takes more than prison, more than slap-on-the-wrist-probation. Drug and alcohol addiction must be broken; discipline and job skills must be learned. When that can be done better, outside of expensive prison walls, that is what we should do. Results matter, public safety matters, taxpayer dollars matter, saving lives and restoring families matter.

I also want to make clear that this is not a management problem at the Department of Corrections. Director Lombardi, his staff, and the probation and parole officers of this state, are excellent and dedicated public servants. Because of their leadership and because of the nearly 3,000 drug court diversions each year, we have avoided building at least two new prisons. That is, at least, $200 million of avoided costs, just for the buildings; let alone the tens of millions of dollars of operational costs. Missouri has started in the right direction. But we need to go farther and to do better.

The people of America are ready for a change. A poll taken last September showed that 86 percent of Americans agreed that “We have too many low risk, nonviolent offenders in prison. We need alternatives to incarceration that cost less and save our expensive prison space for violent and career criminals.” Eighty-nine percent of Americans agreed that “Ninety-five percent of people in prison will be released. If we are serious about public safety, we must increase access to treatment and job training programs so they can become productive citizens once they are back in the community.” And 84 percent of Americans agreed that “Prisons are a government program, and just like any other government program they need to be put to the cost-benefit test to make sure taxpayers are getting the best bang for their buck.” (Public Attitudes on Crime and Punishment, The Pew Center on the States, www.pewcenteronthestates.org)

We need to expand our existing diversionary treatment court programs. We need to require as a condition for early release from prison, education or job training and drug treatment, if needed. We need to establish a more robust program for reentry supervision for those who are released. The reduction in the number of nonviolent offenders in our prisons will more than fund these efforts. We need to be tough and smart on crime.

The second major issue that I want to talk with you about is a fair and impartial judiciary. Solomon is the example of the greatest judge. When he first became King of Israel, the Revised Standard Version of the Bible says he asked the Lord for “an understanding mind to govern thy people, that I may discern between good and evil.” The New Jerusalem Bible and most other translations have Solomon asking for an understanding “heart,” instead.

I never have worried about this difference in translation, because both are true. A good judge needs an understanding mind and an understanding heart to find justice.

It is not easy finding justice. Justice isn’t a physical thing that you can touch or hold or measure. Often it is shaped by the eye of the beholder and, often, relative to the beholder’s particular point of view. What seems just to one may seem unjust to another.

A good judge must have the courage to accept that not all people will see justice as he or she does. Sometimes, a good judge must have the courage to risk the anger of the majority, to protect the rights of the individual – rights that we prize and that are guaranteed by our national and state constitutions. That is why Alexander Hamilton said the “independence of the judges is ... requisite to guard the Constitution and the rights of individuals.” (The Federalist #78)

Our job is different than yours. You serve the majority. You make broad policy decisions that apply to everyone. You make campaign promises and are expected to uphold them. If something does not work, if it is worded incorrectly, or if the will of the majority changes, you can change your laws year by year.

Our job is more limited. We rule individual case by individual case. Whether it is a case for a business fighting for its economic life, a crippled plaintiff who no longer can support himself, parents fighting for the custody of a loved child, or a person accused of a crime with his liberty or life at stake, we rule individual case by individual case, with each individual having only that one chance for justice. In every case, someone loses. Fairness, impartiality, and a level playing field, not subject to outside influence or manipulation, not dependent upon a preexisting promise, are the absolute necessity.

With this in mind, we need to talk about the Missouri Plan for selecting judges. The plan was adopted by the people of Missouri by initiative petition in 1940. It was in response to the Pendergast political machine’s attempt to control the Supreme Court of Missouri. It was a plan established by the people to protect their courts from political manipulation and control.

For those of you who are new to the legislature, let me explain how the Missouri Plan works. For vacancies on the Supreme Court and the Court of Appeals, there is a seven-member commission. The commission is made up of three lawyers elected by lawyers from the eastern, western and southern districts of the state. The lawyers’ role is to safeguard the professional quality of the candidates. The lawyers serve staggered six-year terms. The commission also has three members who cannot be lawyers, appointed by the governor, again for staggered six-year terms. They evaluate the candidates from the point of view of regular citizens of Missouri. To the extent these commissioners are appointed by the governor, they reflect the political mood of the state. Finally the chief justice of the Supreme Court serves on the commission. In my experience, the chief justice functions neither as a lawyer, nor as a lay person, but as a representative of the judicial system as a whole. The nominating commission for trial judges in Jackson, Clay, Platte, Greene and St. Louis counties and St. Louis City has one fewer lawyer and non-lawyer, and the presiding judge of the local court of appeals replaces the chief justice.

The commission evaluates the applicants. It screens out those who from a legal or any other point of view might not be the best choice to serve as a judge and selects the three candidates the commission believes would be best. The governor may appoint any of the three individuals submitted to him, for any reason. The governor’s appointee begins to serve immediately but is subject to a retention vote of the people at the next general election after a year of service, and again, every 12 years thereafter. Missouri Plan judges are accountable directly to the people.

The brilliance of the Missouri Plan is that it balances the need for legal ability, everyday common sense and responsibility to the people, in a way that preserves the integrity, fairness and impartiality of the judge. We do not campaign. We do not raise money. It also checks the power of all concerned, the lawyers, the citizens, the chief justice, the governor, and most importantly, it allows a very real check and balance to the people by the retention vote.

But, in some ways, the quality of a judge is like the quality of justice. It is perceived in the eye of the beholder, colored by the beholder’s interests and desires. What one person sees as a great appointment may be criticized by another; perhaps not relative to ability, integrity, or fairness, but by a desire for a particular ideological viewpoint and the expectation of a particular type of ruling. The Missouri Plan was created to seek judges of ability, integrity and fairness; not to lock in any particular viewpoint.

There are two alternatives that have been suggested by critics of the Missouri Plan. I am certain that those who suggest these alternatives are sincere in their concerns, but I do not believe that they understand the dangers inherent in their suggested alternatives.

The worst alternative is direct elections of judges. The reason is simple. Money. The amount of money involved in conducting statewide races will destroy the public’s perception, and perhaps the actual integrity, of our judicial system.

As special interest politics have increased, the amount of money directed to judicial elections has skyrocketed. For the 10- year period from 1990 to 1999, $83.3 million was spent on judicial elections. For the 10-year period from 2000 to 2009, that amount more than doubled to $206.9 million. (The New Politics of Judicial Elections: 2000-2009, The Brennan Center for Justice, www.brennancenter.org)

It is even more shocking that most of this money comes from a small group of big spenders. A study of 29 elections in the nation’s 10 most costly states from 2000 to 2009 showed that the top five contributors in each race invested an average of $473,000, while the remaining 116,000 contributors averaged just $850 each. (The New Politics of Judicial Elections: 2000-2009, The Brennan Center for Justice, www.brennancenter.org)

There can be no way that this much money from so few people can be good. In fact, a Harris poll released this past September revealed that 70 percent of Americans, both democrats and republicans, believed that campaign contributions have had a significant impact on courtroom decisions. (The Birmingham News, September 11, 2010)

Remember the Avery case from Illinois in which an Illinois Supreme Court justice cast the deciding vote in a $450 million lawsuit in favor of a company after receiving more than $1 million in campaign contributions from those connected to the company. Remember the Massey case from West Virginia in which a new West Virginia Supreme Court justice cast the deciding vote in a $50 million lawsuit after the CEO of that company spent approximately $3 million of independent expenditures to defeat the new judge's opponent.

Big money in judicial elections is a scandal.

I am not naive. There are political and ideological issues that divide our nation and that divide our state. It is our strength as a democracy to allow the full debate and resolution of those issues by and before the people. But that is a process for you to conduct here in the legislative chambers of government. It is not a process to be confused with the fair and just resolution of individual disputes, each case according to its evidence, each case according to the law, each case with fairness and impartiality. Most importantly, each case as the only opportunity for justice for the Missouri citizens involved.

Whether rich, poor, black, white, plaintiff, defendant, individual, corporation, prosecutor, accused, republican, democrat or independent, the people of Missouri deserve justice when they come to court. They deserve a level playing field and a fair chance. They deserve judges who make decisions on evidence and law, not judges who have been influenced by big money contributions from special interests.

Judges who have been bought and paid for have not been the Missouri way since 1940, and they should not be the Missouri way of the future.

Another suggestion is to adopt a plan modeled after the federal system. That, too, is problematic. Federal judges have life tenure and are not subject to retention votes. The federal plan has no commission of lawyers or lay people to filter the candidates regarding legal ability, reputation or simple common sense. It would be a purely political system where only, the governor and senators, are included. I am sure you can imagine the bargaining that might take place, perhaps involving issues wholly unrelated to the nominee. You don't have to imagine the gridlock that takes place when the senate is controlled by one party and the governor is of the other party. In a 2002 speech then attorney general John Ashcroft declared that the federal system "has broken down" because the United States Senate would not act on President Bush's nominees for judges. That may well happen again with President Obama's nominees. Modifications to the federal system might attempt to solve these problems, but they would only increase the uncertainty and risk about how a federal plan might work in Missouri, with untested modifications.

Other, more measured, changes also might be proposed to the Missouri Plan; changes that preserve the structure of the plan, but focus on the political balance of the commissioners, the timing of the commissioners' terms, or the number of nominees on the panel submitted to the governor. Such changes might be less dangerous, but they are still fraught with the risk of unintended consequences. The greater the change, the greater the number of changes, the greater the risk.

In the past two years, the Court has taken great strides to increase the transparency of the Missouri Plan to make it more open to the people. Last year, we amended the rules to release the names of the applicants. This year, we amended the rules to open the interview process to the public, to release the final vote for the panel of nominees and to encourage nominations directly from the public. These changes will allow the people of Missouri to see for themselves how the Missouri Plan works and to see the choices it makes when presenting a panel of nominees to the governor. These are significant and good changes. Both Kansas and Iowa have followed our lead and opened their interviews to the public.

A detailed study published in May 2008 titled, Is The 'Missouri Plan' Good for Missouri? The Economics of Judicial Selection, authored by professors Joshua Hall and Russell Sobel, noted:

"A growing literature in economics has found that judicial independence and quality matter for economic growth across countries and states.

Most significantly, they concluded:

"Based on our analysis Missouri's current system is far superior to several of the alternatives such as partisan elections, nonpartisan elections, and gubernatorial appointment with the approval only of some type of executive council." (Policy Study No. 15, Show-Me Institute, May 21, 2008)

Justice is sacred but fragile. It belongs to the people, not to either political party, not to any special interest. A system of justice is necessary to support our economy and to preserve our individual rights and freedoms. A system of justice can exist only so long as the people have trust and confidence that it is fair and impartial. Any proposed change to the Missouri Plan should be considered only with the greatest care and caution. I am afraid that it is more likely that any change may result in more harm than good.

Each of you has been chosen by your fellow citizens to come here and represent them in our government. It is a great honor that they have bestowed upon you. It is an honor that comes with great responsibility. Do not take for granted your individual importance. What you do will make a difference, not in theory, not in political sound bytes, but in the real lives of real Missourians now and for years to come.

Having served here for nearly 18 years, I understand your sacrifices. I understand some of your pressures. I understand your best intentions. I respect you for your willingness to serve.

I know that each of you want to do your best. I know that each of you want to do what is right and good. It is not my place to advise you on most matters. But preserving a system of justice in Missouri that our people can have faith and confidence in, that cannot be bought, is something right and good; reforming our criminal sentencing practices to save millions and millions of dollars, to break the cycle of addiction and crime, and to make Missouri a safer place is something right and good. It is what should be done. It is something you and your families and all of the people of Missouri can be proud of.

WHEREAS, Article I of the United States Constitution begins “All legislative powers herein granted shall be vested in a Congress”; and

WHEREAS, this encroachment includes the accumulation of federal debt, which combined with interest represents a future tax, and is of such great proportion that responsibility for its payment will be passed to future, unborn generations of Americans to assume without their consent, thereby disparaging their rights; and

WHEREAS, this encroachment also includes compelling state and local governments to comply with federal laws and regulations without accompanying funding for such mandates; and

WHEREAS, the Constitution should be amended in order to halt federal encroachment and restore a proper balance between the powers of Congress and those of the several states, and to prevent the denial or disparagement of the rights retained by the people:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-sixth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urge Congress to adopt an amendment to the United States Constitution that permits the repeal of any federal law or regulation by vote of two-thirds of the state legislatures, and the language of such amendment shall be as follows: “Any provision of law or regulation of the United States may be repealed by the several states, and such repeal shall be effective when the legislatures of two-thirds of the several states approve resolutions for this purpose that particularly describe the same provision or provisions of law or regulation to be repealed”; and

SENATE BILLS FOR PERFECTION

At the request of Senator Goodman, SB 7, SB 5, SB 74 and SB 169, with SCS, were placed on the Informal Calendar.

Senator Stouffer moved that SJR 2 be taken up for perfection, which motion prevailed.

Senator Callahan offered SA 1:

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 1

Amend Senate Joint Resolution No. 2, Page 1, In the Title, Lines 3-4, of the title, by striking “voter photo identification” and inserting in lieu thereof the following: “elections”; and

Further amend said resolution, Page 1, Section 8, Lines 1 to 7, by striking all of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

“Section 8. Qualified electors of the state may be enabled by general law to vote in person in advance of election day at all elections by the people according to the following terms:

1. Advance voting may be conducted at such locations as are determined by general law to be necessary or desirable to balance reasonable access to advance voting, accountability, integrity, and security of the election, efficiency in the administration of the election, and appropriate and responsible uses of public funds and other resources. The number of advance voting sites may vary depending on expected voter turnout for an election. A general law that requires election authorities to establish a certain number of advance voting sites based solely on the number of registered voters in an election jurisdiction conflicts with this subsection and is not valid.

2. Votes cast in advance of election day shall not be tabulated before the election day.

3. If a voter identification requirement is provided by general law for in-person voting on election day, persons who desire to vote in advance of election day shall also comply with that identification requirement.

4. The name and other identifying information of persons who vote in advance of the election shall be treated confidentially by election officials and lists of persons who have voted in advance shall not be disclosed to members of the public by election officials during the advance voting period, except as necessary for the administration of the election, for law enforcement, or to comply with a court order requiring disclosure for good cause shown. Election officials may disclose lists with the names or other identifying information for persons who have voted in advance of the election to the public after the advance voting period has closed. This section does not prohibit election officials, election judges, challengers, watchers, or any other member of the public from observing or participating in the election process. This section does not alter or effect any change in any provision of law relating to nondisclosure of how any voter voted and the exceptions thereto.

5. This section shall not apply to absentee voting laws.

6. Any law that conflicts with this section shall not be valid or enforceable.

7. This section is not self-executing. Implementing general laws shall be required before any person may vote in advance of an election. In order to allow election authorities sufficient time to prepare for advance voting if authorized by general law, advance voting shall not be effective for any election held on or before January 1, 2012.

Section 9. A person seeking to vote in person in public elections may be required by general law to identify himself or herself and verify his or her qualifications as a citizen of the United States of America and a resident of the state of Missouri by providing election officials with a form of identification, which may include valid government-issued photo identification. Exceptions to the identification requirement may also be provided for by general law.

Section 10. Different requirements for absentee voting when the voter does not appear before the election authority may be established by general law as may be necessary or desirable in order to accommodate the different purposes and administration requirements of this method of voting.

Section 11. All costs associated with the implementation of advanced voting and the photo identification requirements relating to voting under sections 8 to 10 of this article shall be paid through an appropriation by the state for those purposes. If there is not a sufficient appropriation of state funds in a fiscal year for either the advanced voting requirements or the photo identification requirements, or both, then both such advanced voting and photo identification requirements shall be in conflict with this section and shall not apply to any election during such fiscal year.

Section 12. If any portion, clause, or phrase of sections 8, 9, 10, and 11 of this article is, for any reason, held to be invalid or unconstitutional by a court of competent jurisdiction, the remaining portions, clauses, and phrases shall be invalid and of no further force or effect.”; and

Further amend said bill and page, section B, lines 1-5, by striking all of said lines, and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

““Shall the Missouri Constitution be amended to establish advance voting procedures and allow the General Assembly to provide by general law for advance voting prior to election day, voter photo identification requirements, and voter requirements based on whether one appears to vote in person by absentee ballot?”.”; and Further amend the title and preamble accordingly.

Senator Callahan moved that the above amendment be adopted.

Senator Stouffer raised the point of order that SA 1 is out of order as it goes beyond the scope of the underlying legislation.

The point of order was referred to the President Pro Tem who ruled it well taken.

Senator Callahan offered SA 2, which was read:

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 2

Amend Senate Joint Resolution No. 2, Page 1, Section 8, Line 6 by inserting immediately after “identification” as it appears the first time in said line, the following “, except that the general assembly may not require a person to produce any identification that conforms with United States Public Law 109-13, also known as the REAL ID Act.”.

Senator Callahan moved that the above amendment be adopted.

Senator Schmitt assumed the Chair.

At the request of Senator Callahan, SA 2 was withdrawn.

Senator Green offered SA 3, which was read:

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 3

Amend Senate Joint Resolution No. 2, Page 1, Section 8, Line 6, by inserting immediately after the first use of “identification” the following: “or fingerprint”.

Senator Green moved that the above amendment be adopted.

At the request of Senator Stouffer, SJR 2, with SA 3 (pending), was placed on the Informal Calendar.

This letter shall serve as notice of my action on Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 1.

On January 26, 2011, the Public Service Commission approved an order withdrawing 4 CSR 240-20.100(2)(A) and 4 CSR 240-20.100(2)(B)2 pertaining to geographic sourcing. Twelve days later, on February 7, 2011, I was presented with Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 1 which purports to disapprove those same regulations. The action of the Public Service Commission approving an order to withdraw the relevant regulations renders Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 1 moot and therefore makes the approval or disapproval of Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 1 unnecessary.¹

Sincerely,
Jeremiah W. (Jay) Nixon
Governor

¹ I am cognizant of the argument asserted by two members of the Public Service Commission that the Commission lacked authority to withdraw these regulations. I disagree with that view and find that the Public Service Commission was clearly vested with the necessary power to issue its January 26, 2011 order. While I am not approving this legislative resolution rendered unnecessary by mootness, I recognize that my action will allow Senate Concurrent Resolution No. 1 to become effective through Article III, Section 31 of the Missouri Constitution. This approach will not change the inevitable result – the relevant rules being withdrawn – but will eliminate future uncertainty surrounding the status of these rules and appropriately return our collective focus to developing a vibrant renewable energy industry in Missouri.

TWENTY-SIXTH DAY—WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 23, 2011

President Kinder in the Chair.

“Difficult as it is really to listen to someone in affliction, it is just as difficult for him to know that compassion is listening to him.” (Simone Weil)

Merciful God, we know that there is compassion within this body in the work that must be done to help those who are in need. Help us during our committee hearings to listen with ruth and kindness so we have understanding and grace to what is testified and help us be able to communicate our compassion and concern for what we have heard and what is required of each of us. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

May our love be soothing for those we live with bringing harmony and deep caring for one another. And we would pray You help us have a sense of charity as we minister to those in our district who stand in need of our help and what we have to offer. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

Journal of the Senate

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

THIRTIETH DAY—WEDNESDAY, MARCH 2, 2011

President Kinder in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“You know the value of prayer: it is precious beyond all price. Never, never neglect it.” (Sir Thomas Buxton)

We began this morning in prayer, O God, and ask that we each live our prayers before You so that all we say and do are reflections of what You are to us. Give us patience with one another and the rough and tumble of life so we may realize that life’s difficulties help smooth our rough places and we become all You created us to be. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

O Lord our God, amid all the demands and growing pressures on us it is good to return to our homes yet even there we have obligations and responsibilities that need our attention and it would be nice to “fly away” from everything. Chairman, Governmental Accountability Committee

Room 419, State Capitol

Jefferson City, MO 65101

Dear Chairman Lembke:

Pursuant to Senate Rule 28 Section 8, I request that your Committee on Governmental Accountability investigate allegations of food stamp fraud in Missouri.

It has recently come to my attention that Missouri EBT (Electronic Benefit Transfer) cardholders are not required to show identification when purchasing food with said cards. I have also learned that Missouri EBT cards were used in all fifty states this past January. While it is conceivable for cards to be used in Border States, it does appear strange that Missouri's cards were used in every state.

Please look into alleged misuses of these cards in the aforementioned areas.

Sincerely,

/s/ Robert N. Mayer

It is a special time to hear Your call to repent and return to You our God. “Faith is what makes life bearable, with all its tragedies and ambiguities and sudden, startling joys.” (Madeleine L'Engle)

Lord God, we are so mindful of the tragedies of Japan and the lose of life and property there and in our own country. We pray for the injured and for those who walk through grief at the loss of loved ones. So we ask that You provide healing and comfort to all in need. We are thankful for faith that allows us to trust in You and see light in dark places. We are thankful for safe travel through this morning's winter wonderland and are grateful to be here to do what is required of us. So we give You thanks and praise for all You provide us to make it through these tough times. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

WHEREAS, investigative journalism has the power to shine a light upon political corruption and expose the unlawful use of power by elected officials; and

WHEREAS, the exposing of such corruption can lead to needed reforms in ethics and political governance, and, at the very least, the removal of corrupt public officials; and

WHEREAS, at a recent hearing of the Senate Committee on Progress and Development regarding Senate Bill No. 23, the Committee heard the testimony of a St. Louis City police officer; and

WHEREAS, such officer testified that the officer was on duty and investigating a commotion, and that the officer encountered a street vendor operating without a permit issued by the City of St. Louis; and

WHEREAS, during the course of the investigation, the vendor told the officer that a permit was not needed because he had paid the fee to an alderman and proceeded to show the officer a business card from the alderman; and

WHEREAS, the officer reported the findings of the investigation to his supervisor, but told the Committee that no further investigation was completed; and

WHEREAS, during the hearing on Senate Bill No. 23, including the testimony of the officer, members of the St. Louis press corps were present; and

WHEREAS, following the hearing, there have been no reports of such testimony or investigation into the allegations raised by such testimony by any member of the St. Louis press corps; and

WHEREAS, such failure to investigate and report fails the great tradition of investigative journalism and allows potential political corruption to continue unabated; and

WHEREAS, the St. Louis press corps, as part of the fourth estate, has a duty and responsibility to investigate and report on such allegations; and

WHEREAS, by failing to do so, the St. Louis press corps has failed the citizens of St. Louis:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-sixth General Assembly, First Regular Session, hereby remonstrates against the St. Louis press corps for its disregard of the proper role of a journalist to investigate and report upon corruption within the City of St. Louis regardless of the political implications or consequences to such investigation or reporting; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Senate be instructed to send a copy of this remonstrance to the Missouri Press Association.

Journal of the Senate

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

THIRTY-SEVENTH DAY—TUESDAY, MARCH 15, 2011

President Kinder in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“Wisdom is the power to see and the inclination to choose the best and highest goal, together with the surest means of attaining it.” (J.I. Packer)

Almighty God, we like Solomon ask for wisdom to discern among the difficult choices about us. Help us to make use of the collective wisdom of this senate so to choose the “best and highest goal”, and to find ways of implementing what must happen for those goals to be reached. Help us to find ways to listen to each other’s concerns so we might see errors on our bills and improve what is put forth from this body. And help us know Your abiding love so we might learn to love one another. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

SS No. 2 for SCS for SB 8 was again taken up.

Senator Crowell offered SA 1:

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 1

Amend Senate Substitute No. 2 for Senate Committee Substitute for Senate Bill No. 8, Page 1, Section A, Line 3 of said page, by inserting after all of said line the following:

“287.067. 1. In this chapter the term “occupational disease” is hereby defined to mean, unless a different meaning is clearly indicated by the context, an identifiable disease arising with or without human fault out of and in the course of the employment. Ordinary diseases of life to which the general public is exposed outside of the employment shall not be compensable, except where the diseases follow as an incident of an occupational disease as defined in this section. The disease need not to have been foreseen or expected but after its contraction it must appear to have had its origin in a risk connected with the employment and to have flowed from that source as a rational consequence.

2. An injury or death by occupational disease is compensable only if the occupational exposure was the prevailing factor in causing both the resulting medical condition and disability. The “prevailing factor” is defined to be the primary factor, in relation to any other factor, causing both the resulting medical condition and disability. Ordinary, gradual deterioration, or progressive degeneration of the body caused by aging or by the normal activities of day-to-day living shall not be compensable.

3. An injury due to repetitive motion is recognized as an occupational disease for purposes of this chapter. An occupational disease due to repetitive motion is compensable only if the occupational exposure was the prevailing factor in causing both the resulting medical condition and disability. The “prevailing factor” is defined to be the primary factor, in relation to any other factor, causing both the resulting medical condition and disability. Ordinary, gradual deterioration, or progressive degeneration of the body caused by aging or by the normal activities of day-to-day living shall not be compensable.

4. “Loss of hearing due to industrial noise” is recognized as an occupational disease for purposes of this chapter and is hereby defined to be a loss of hearing in one or both ears due to prolonged exposure to harmful noise in employment. “Harmful noise” means sound capable of producing occupational deafness.

5. “Radiation disability” is recognized as an occupational disease for purposes of this chapter and is hereby defined to be that disability due to radioactive properties or substances or to Roentgen rays (X-rays) or exposure to ionizing radiation caused by any process involving the use of or direct contact with radium or radioactive properties or substances or the use of or direct exposure to Roentgen rays (X-rays) or ionizing radiation.

6. Disease of the lungs or respiratory tract, hypotension, hypertension, or disease of the heart or cardiovascular system, including carcinoma, may be recognized as occupational diseases for the purposes of this chapter and are defined to be disability due to exposure to smoke, gases, carcinogens, inadequate oxygen, of paid firefighters of a paid fire department or paid police officers of a paid police department certified under chapter 590 if a direct causal relationship is established, or psychological stress of firefighters of a paid fire department if a direct causal relationship is established.

7. Any employee who is exposed to and contracts any contagious or communicable disease arising out of and in the course of his or her employment shall be eligible for benefits under this chapter as an occupational disease.

8. With regard to occupational disease due to repetitive motion, if the exposure to the repetitive motion which is found to be the cause of the injury is for a period of less than three months and the evidence demonstrates that the exposure to the repetitive motion with the immediate prior employer was the prevailing factor in causing the injury, the prior employer shall be liable for such occupational disease.”; and

Further amend said bill, Page 5, Section 287.120, Lines 5-10 of said page, by striking all of said lines and inserting in lieu thereof the following:

“287.150. 1. Where a third person is liable to the employee or to the dependents, for the injury or death, the employer shall be subrogated to the right of the employee or to the dependents against such third person, and the recovery by such employer shall not be limited to the amount payable as compensation to such employee or dependents, but such employer may recover any amount which such employee or his dependents would have been entitled to recover. Any recovery by the employer against such third person shall be apportioned between the employer and employee or his dependents using the provisions of subsections 2 and 3 of this section.

2. When a third person is liable for the death of an employee and compensation is paid or payable under this chapter, and recovery is had by a dependent under this chapter either by judgment or settlement for the wrongful death of the employee, the employer shall have a subrogation lien on any recovery and shall receive or have credit for sums paid or payable under this chapter to any of the dependents of the deceased employee to the extent of the settlement or recovery by such dependents for the wrongful death. Recovery by the employer and credit for future installments shall be computed using the provisions of subsection 3 of this section relating to comparative fault of the employee.

3. Whenever recovery against the third person is effected by the employee or his dependents, the employer shall pay from his share of the recovery a proportionate share of the expenses of the recovery, including a reasonable attorney fee. After the expenses and attorney fee have been paid, the balance of the recovery shall be apportioned between the employer and the employee or his dependents in the same ratio that the amount due the employer bears to the total amount recovered if there is no finding of comparative fault on the part of the employee, or the total damages determined by the trier of fact if there is a finding of comparative fault on the part of the employee. Notwithstanding the foregoing provision, the balance of the recovery may be divided between the employer and the employee or his dependents as they may otherwise agree. Any part of the recovery found to be due to the employer, the employee or his dependents shall be paid forthwith and any part of the recovery paid to the employee or his dependents under this section shall be treated by them as an advance payment by the employer on account of any future installments of compensation in the following manner:

(1) The total amount paid to the employee or his dependents shall be treated as an advance payment if there is no finding of comparative fault on the part of the employee; or

(2) A percentage of the amount paid to the employee or his dependents equal to the percentage of fault assessed to the third person from whom recovery is made shall be treated as an advance payment if there is a finding of comparative fault on the part of the employee.

4. In any case in which an injured employee has been paid benefits from the second injury fund as provided in subsection 3 of section 287.141, and recovery is had against the third party liable to the employee for the injury, the second injury fund shall be subrogated to the rights of the employee against said third party to the extent of the payments made to him from such fund, subject to provisions of subsections 2 and 3 of this section.

5. No construction design professional who is retained to perform professional services on a construction project or any employee of a construction design professional who is assisting or representing the construction design professional in the performance of professional services on the site of the construction project shall be liable for any injury resulting from the employer's failure to comply with safety standards on a construction project for which compensation is recoverable under the workers' compensation law, unless responsibility for safety practices is specifically assumed by contract. The immunity provided by this subsection to any construction design professional shall not apply to the negligent preparation of design plans or specifications.

6. Any provision in any contract or subcontract, where one party is an employer in the construction group of code classifications, which purports to waive subrogation rights provided under this section in anticipation of a future injury or death is hereby declared against public policy and void. Each contract of insurance for workers' compensation shall require the insurer to diligently pursue all subrogation rights of the employer and shall require the employer to fully cooperate with the insurer in pursuing such recoveries, except that the employer may enter into compromise agreements with an insurer in lieu of the insurer pursuing subrogation against another party. The amount of any subrogation recovery by an insurer shall be credited against the amount of the actual paid losses in the determination of such employer's experience modification factor within forty-five days of the collection of such amount.

7. Notwithstanding any other provision of this section, when a third person is liable to the employee or to the dependents of an employee in a case when there is a finding that an occupational disease was caused by toxic exposure and the employee or dependents are compensated under this chapter, in no case shall the employer be subrogated to the rights of an employee or to the dependents of an employee against such third person when the employer caused the occupational disease. As used in this subsection, the term “toxic exposure” is defined to mean exposure to chemicals, dusts, particulates, fumes, mists, fibers, solvents, vapors, radiation, or other substances or materials that, when ingested, consumed, inhaled, or absorbed are sufficient to cause disease, death, mutations, cancer, deformities, or reproductive abnormalities in humans.”; and

Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

Senator Pearce assumed the Chair.

Senator Stouffer assumed the Chair.

Senator Goodman moved that SS No. 2 for SCS for SB 8, as amended, be adopted, which motion prevailed.

On motion of Senator Goodman, SS No. 2 for SCS for SB 8, as amended, was re-perfected and ordered printed.

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 5

Amend Senate Bill No. 282, Page 2, Section 115.123, Line 27, by inserting after all of said line, the following:

“115.757. 1. The secretary of state shall not certify any candidate for president or vice-president unless that candidate has provided the secretary of state with proof that the requirements of 8 U.S.C. 1401, 8 U.S.C. 1402, 8 U.S.C. 1406, and 8 U.S.C. 1407 are satisfied. For proof of live birth, a certification of live birth that does not record the name of the birthing facility or street address of the location where the birth occurred, or does not display the signature of the certifying administrator, designated representative of the birthing facility, physician, midwife, or other legally authorized person in attendance at birth will not be accepted by the secretary of state for consideration as proof. A long form birth certificate that does record the name of the birthing facility or street address of the location where the birth occurred and does display the signature of the certifying administrator, designated representative of the birthing facility, physician, midwife, or other legally authorized person in attendance at birth will be required as proof if one exists.

2. The secretary of state shall make the proof of birth required pursuant to subsection 1 of this section, including a long-form birth certificate, if one is provided, available for public viewing via the internet.”; and

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 12

WHEREAS, atrial fibrillation (AFib) is the most common serious heart rhythm disorder and causes 15 percent of all strokes in the United States; and

WHEREAS, AFib affects more than 2.3 million Americans and is expected to more than double to 5.6 million Americans by 2050; and
WHEREAS, one in four people aged 40 years or older develop AFib during their lifetime; and

WHEREAS, AFib causes the heart to beat irregularly or out of rhythm. As a result, people with AFib are nearly five times more likely to have a stroke than someone without the condition. In addition, AFib-related strokes are about twice as likely to be fatal and about twice as likely to be severely disabling than strokes that are not related to AFib; and

WHEREAS, three out of four AFib-related strokes can be prevented, but many patients are not aware of their risk and do not take action to prevent stroke; and

WHEREAS, the estimated direct medical cost of stroke for 2007 was $25.2 billion. This includes hospital outpatient or office-based provider visits, hospital inpatient stays, emergency room visits, prescribed medicines, and home health; and

WHEREAS, appropriate stroke prevention in AFib can effectively reduce the overall financial burden of the illness within public programs such as Medicaid and Medicare; and

Journal of the Senate

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

FORTY-FOURTH DAY—THURSDAY, MARCH 31, 2011

Senator Pearce in the Chair.

Reverend Carl Gauck offered the following prayer:

“I love the Lord, because he has heard my voice of my supplications, because he has inclined his ear to me whenever I call upon him.”
(Psalm 116:1)

Almighty God, we thank You daily for we call upon You and You hear our voice and listen to our prayers. We thank You for Your blessing us with Your guidance and presence. We thank You for those You have given us to love and teaching us to love others You have placed in our lives. We ask You to watch over us this day in the work we complete here and in our traveling to be with loved ones. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

CONCURRENT RESOLUTIONS

SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 13

WHEREAS, the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has proposed or is proposing numerous new regulations, particularly in the area of air quality and regulation of greenhouse gases, that are likely to have major effects on the economy, jobs, and the competitiveness of the United States in worldwide markets; and

WHEREAS, EPA's regulatory activity as to air quality and greenhouse gases has numerous and overlapping requirements and may have a potentially devastating consequence on the economy; and

WHEREAS, concern is growing that, with Cap-and-Trade legislation having failed in the United States Congress, the EPA is attempting to obtain the same results through the adoption of regulations; and

WHEREAS, EPA over-regulation is driving jobs and industry out of the United States; and

WHEREAS, neither the EPA nor the Administration has undertaken any comprehensive study of the cumulative effect that the new regulatory activity will have on the economy, jobs, and competitiveness; and

WHEREAS, the EPA has not performed any comprehensive study of what the environmental benefits of its greenhouse gas regulation will be in terms of impacts on global climate; and

WHEREAS, state agencies are routinely required to identify the costs of their regulations and to justify those costs in light of the benefits; and

WHEREAS, since the EPA has identified "taking action on climate change and improving air quality" as its first strategic goal for the 2011-15 time period, the EPA should be required to identify the specific actions it intends to take to achieve these goals and to assess the total cost of all these actions together; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri General Assembly supports continuing improvements in the quality of the nation's air and believes that such improvements can be made in a sensible fashion without damaging the economy so long as there is a full understanding of the cost of the regulation at issue; and

WHEREAS, the primary goal of government at the present time must be to promote economic recovery and to foster a stable and predictable business environment that will lead to the creation of jobs; and

WHEREAS, public health and welfare will suffer without significant new job creation and economic improvement, because people with good jobs are better able to take care of themselves and their families than the unemployed and environmental improvement is only possible in a society that generates wealth:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-sixth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby urge the United States Congress to:

(1) Adopt legislation prohibiting the EPA, by any means necessary, from regulating greenhouse gas emissions, including defunding EPA greenhouse gas regulatory activities, if necessary;

(2) Impose a moratorium on promulgation of any new air quality regulation by the EPA, by any means necessary, except to directly address an imminent health or environmental emergency, for a period of at least two years, including defunding EPA air quality regulatory activities; and

(3) Require the Administration to undertake a study identifying all regulatory activity the EPA intends to undertake in furtherance of its goal of “taking action on climate change and improving air quality” and specifying the cumulative effect of all of these regulations on the economy, jobs, and the economic competitiveness of the United States. The study should be a multi-agency study drawing on the expertise both of EPA and of agencies and departments having expertise in and responsibility for the economy and the electric system and should provide an objective cost-benefit analysis of all the EPA’s current and planned regulation together; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for the President of the United States; the Majority and Minority Leaders of the United States House of Representatives and Senate; Lisa P. Jackson, the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency; and each member of the Missouri congressional delegation.

WHEREAS, women have served honorably and with courage in all of America’s wars and conflicts since the American Revolution; and

WHEREAS, the United States military has evolved from a predominantly male force to a force of over 14% women who are currently serving on active duty, and nearly 17% serving in the Reserves and National Guard; and

WHEREAS, the population of women veterans is increasing exponentially from 1.1 million in 1980 to a projection of nearly 2 million by 2020, and will comprise more than 10% of the veteran population; and

WHEREAS, the projected population of male veterans is expected to continue to decline; and

WHEREAS, with a rapidly increasing number of women serving in the military today and returning from deployments as seasoned veterans, and some with exposure to combat, VA facilities and veterans service organizations are working to ensure that the post-deployment mental and physical health needs unique to women veterans are also met; and

WHEREAS, even though the roles of women in the military have changed over time and will continue to change, they deserve to be acknowledge for their military service and treated with equal respect:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that we, the members of the Missouri House of Representatives, Ninety-sixth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby encourages the Missouri Veterans Commission and its women veterans state coordinator to work in conjunction with the National Foundation for Women Legislators and the Center for Women Veterans at the United States Department of Veterans Affairs to reach out to all women veterans within the State of Missouri to encourage them to bring their specific needs and concerns to the attention of agency officials so that state legislators and agency officials may work together to identify unique issues impacting women veterans and consider policy solutions that will improve the quality of life for women veterans within this state; and

WHEREAS, the Corps of Engineers indicated that ramifications of the additional 500-year levees and their potential to cause additional flooding would need to be determined, and affected populations and communities informed and advised of the potential impact; and

WHEREAS, the affected counties include the Missouri counties of Lincoln, Pike, and St Charles; and

WHEREAS, Plan H designates only about half of the levees in the Missouri counties of Lincoln, Pike, and St. Charles be raised, while to the north a higher percentage of 500-year levees are recommended for both sides of the River; and

WHEREAS, the stakeholders in the Missouri counties of Lincoln, Pike, and St. Charles desire the protections provided by the 500-year levees; and

WHEREAS, the proposed Plan H, if implemented, denies the benefits of 500-year levees to those making a living along the Mississippi River, negatively impacting agriculture, transportation, businesses, industries, tourism, hunting, fishing, boating, infrastructures, and residences; and

WHEREAS, over 6,500 citizens have signed petitions opposing the proposed Plan H; and

WHEREAS, the Upper Mississippi River Basin should receive funding comparable to funding for the Southern Mississippi River Basin from Cairo, Illinois, to New Orleans, Louisiana:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-sixth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby strongly urge the United States Congress to support a comprehensive plan for the Upper Mississippi River Basin that enhances system-wide flood control without creating adverse impacts on existing levees, levee districts, rural communities, and metropolitan areas. The plan should be based on analysis that quantify the impacts of enhanced flood control measures and acknowledges the importance of keeping agricultural land in production. The proposed Plan H is totally unacceptable to Lincoln, Pike, and St. Charles Counties and we ask the Missouri Congressional Delegation to support modifications of the comprehensive plan, by the Corps of Engineers, to this plan; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for each member of the Missouri Congressional Delegation.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

The exercise of daily prayer and meditation on Your Holy Word helps to create a spiritual climate that insures health of our souls and vigor of our daily living. SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 1

Amend Senate Bill No. 90, Page 1, In the Title, Lines 3-4 of the title, by striking the following: “health care benefits provided to Medicare eligible participants participating in”; and

Further amend said bill and page, Section A, Line 2, by inserting after all of said line the following:

“103.080. 1. As used in this section, the following terms shall mean:

(1) “Health savings account” or “account”, shall have the same meaning ascribed to it as in 26 U.S.C. Section 223(d), as amended;

(2) “High deductible health plan”, a policy or contract of health insurance or health care plan that meets the criteria established in 26 U.S.C. Section 223(c)(2), as amended, and any regulations promulgated thereunder.

2. Beginning with the open enrollment period for the 2009 plan year, the board shall offer to all qualified state employees and retirees, in addition to the plans currently offered including but not limited to health maintenance organization plans, preferred provider organization plans, copay plans, and participating public entities the option of receiving health care coverage through a high deductible health plan and the establishment of a health savings account. [In no instance shall a qualified employee or retiree be required to enroll in a high deductible health plan with a deductible greater than the minimum allowed by law, however, a qualified employee or retiree shall have the option to enroll in a high deductible health plan up to the maximum allowed by law.] The health savings account shall conform to the guidelines to be established by the Internal Revenue Service for the [2009] current tax year but in no case shall a qualified employee or retiree be required to contribute more than the minimum amount allowed by law. A qualified employee or retiree may contribute up to the maximum allowed by law. In order for a qualified individual to obtain a high deductible health plan through the Missouri consolidated health care plan, such individual shall present evidence, in a manner prescribed by regulation, to the board that he or she has established a health savings account in compliance with 26 U.S.C. Section 223, and any amendments and regulations promulgated thereto.

3. Beginning with the open enrollment period for the 2012 plan year, the high deductible health plan offered under subsection 2 of this section shall have a monthly subscriber premium that is at least fifty percent lower than the non-high deductible health plan chosen by a plurality of qualified employees. The amount of the annual deductible for the high deductible health plan offered under subsection 2 of this section shall be no greater than one hundred and twenty-five percent of the minimum annual deductible for self-only coverage and family coverage as established by the Internal Revenue Service for the current tax year. The sum of the annual deductible and the other annual out-of-pocket expenses required to be paid under a high deductible health plan offered under subsection 2 of this section shall not exceed the amount set forth by the Internal Revenue Service for the current tax year. The coverage afforded by the high deductible health plan, after the applicable deductible has been met, shall be substantially similar to the coverage provided by the non-high deductible health plan chosen by a plurality of qualified employees.

4. It is the intent of the Missouri general assembly to promote the use of consumer-driven health care plans such as health savings account compatible high deductible health plans by active state employees as an alternative to using traditional managed care plans. If, after the completion of the open enrollment period for the 2012 plan year, fewer than ten percent of Missouri's active state employees have enrolled in a high deductible health plan described in this section, then the board shall offer a more competitive high deductible health plan with increased financial and coverage incentives, including but not limited to alternative annual deductibles, out-of-pocket expenses, and other health plan design features, all within the established federal guidelines, with the goal of having forty percent of Missouri's active state employees enrolling in a health savings account compatible high deductible health plan by the open enrollment period for the 2015 plan year.

5. The board is authorized to promulgate rules and regulations for the administration and implementation of this section. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536 and, if applicable, section 536.028. This section and chapter 536 are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536 to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2007, shall be invalid and void.

[4.] 6. The board shall issue a request for proposals from companies interested in offering a high deductible health plan in connection with a health savings account.”; and

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 1

Amend Senate Bill No. 322, Page 1, Section 190.839, Line 2, by inserting after all of said line the following:

“191.1005. 1. Any provider who is subject to a reimbursement allowance or a provider tax shall be subject to the provisions of sections 191.1005 to 191.1011. For purposes of sections 191.1005 to 191.1011, the following terms shall mean:

(1) “Estimate of cost”, an estimate of the total cost and the out of pocket cost based on specific patient information or general assumptions about typical utilization and costs for medical services;

(2) “Insurer”, the same meaning as the term “health carrier” is defined in section 376.1350, and includes the state of Missouri for purposes of the rendering of health care services by providers under a medical assistance program of the state;

(3) “Provider”, the same meaning as such term is defined in section 376.1350.

2. For patients who do not have coverage under an individual or group health insurance policy or other third-party coverage arrangement, upon request by the patient, a provider shall be required to provide the patient a timely estimate of cost for any elective or nonemergent health care service to be performed by such provider. Such requirement shall not apply to emergency health care services. Any estimate of cost may include a disclaimer noting the actual amount billed may be different from the estimate of cost. Data regarding the estimate of cost may be provided to the public via the internet.

3. Every health carrier, as defined in section 376.1350, or third party benefit administrator shall, by July 1, 2012, utilize a web-based estimating system or other mechanism, by which covered individuals, or their parents or guardians, shall be able to enter, provide, or select from menus, the procedures, tests, or services the individual is considering having, and based upon the individual's benefit plan and the health carrier's internal data, receive timely estimates of the total cost and total out-of-pocket cost of the procedures, tests, or services specific to all available contracted providers or facilities for which such estimates are requested. The estimates of cost shall take into account any known unmet deductible obligation and shall be based upon assumptions of typical utilization and an assumption that, in the provision of the procedures, tests, or services, no complications or unexpected events would occur necessitating other expenses. The estimates of cost shall include related estimates of typically needed and expected ancillary costs such as those for radiology, pathology, or anesthesiology services, and shall indicate when no contracted providers of such services are available under the individual's benefit plan at a selected health care facility or provider. Any estimate given shall not be a guarantee of coverage and the health carrier shall not be held liable for differences between the estimated costs and the ultimate charges assessed to the individual and the estimate of cost on patient cost-sharing obligations may include a disclaimer noting the actual amount billed or owed may be different from the estimate of cost or cost-sharing. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed as violating any provider contract provisions with a health carrier that prohibits disclosure of a provider's fee schedule to third parties. Any health carrier that has not made a good faith effort to comply with the provisions of this section shall be subject to the provisions of section 374.280.

4. Programs of insurers that publicly assess and compare the quality and cost efficiency of health care providers shall conform to the following criteria:

(1) The insurers shall retain, at their own expense, the services of a nationally recognized independent health care quality standard-setting organization to review the plan's programs for consumers that measure, report, and tier providers based on their performance. Such review shall include a comparison to national standards and a report detailing the measures and methodologies used by the health plan. The scope of the review shall encompass all elements described in this section and section 191.1008;

(2) The program measures shall provide performance information that reflects consumers' health needs. Programs shall clearly describe the extent to which they encompass particular areas of care, including primary care and other areas of specialty care;

(3) Performance reporting for consumers shall include both quality and cost efficiency information. While quality information may be reported in the absence of cost efficiency, cost efficiency information shall not be reported without accompanying quality information;

(4) When any individual measures or groups of measures are combined, the individual scores, proportionate weighting, and any other formula used to develop composite scores shall be disclosed. Such disclosure shall be done both when quality measures are combined and when quality and cost efficiency are combined;

(5) Consumers or consumer organizations shall be solicited to provide input on the program, including methods used to determine performance strata;

(6) A clearly defined process for receiving and resolving consumer complaints shall be a component of any program;

(7) Performance information presented to consumers shall include context, discussion of data limitations, and guidance on how to consider other factors in choosing a provider;

(8) Relevant providers and provider organizations shall be solicited to provide input on the program, including the methods used to determine performance strata;

(9) Providers shall be given reasonable prior notice before their individual performance information is publicly released;

(10) A clearly defined process for providers to request review of their own performance results and the opportunity to present information that supports what they believe to be inaccurate results, within a reasonable time frame, shall be a component of any program. Results determined to be inaccurate after the reconsideration process shall be corrected;

(11) Information about the comparative performance of providers shall be accessible and understandable to consumers and providers and shall recognize cost factors associated with medical education and research, patient characteristics, and specialized services;

(12) Information about factors that might limit the usefulness of results shall be publicly disclosed;

(13) Measures used to assess provider performance and the methodology used to calculate scores or determine rankings shall be published and made readily available to the public. Elements shall be assessed against national standards as defined in subdivision (17) of this subsection. Examples of measurement elements that shall be assessed against national standards include risk and severity adjustment, minimum observations, and statistical standards utilized. Examples of other measurement elements that shall be fully disclosed include data used, how providers' patients are identified, measure specifications and methodologies, known limitations of the data, and how episodes are defined;

(14) The rationale and methodologies supporting the unit of analysis reported shall be clearly articulated, including a group practice model versus the individual provider;

(15) Sponsors of provider measurement and reporting shall work collaboratively to aggregate data whenever feasible to enhance its consistency, accuracy, and use. Sponsors of provider measurement and reporting shall also work collaboratively to align and harmonize measures used to promote consistency and reduce the burden of collection. The nature and scope of such efforts shall be publicly reported;

(16) The program shall be regularly evaluated to assess its effectiveness, accuracy, reliability, validity, and any unintended consequences, including any effect on access to health care;

(17) All quality measures shall be endorsed by the National Quality Forum (NQF), or its successor organization. Where NQF-endorsed measures do not exist, the next level of measures to be considered, until such measures are endorsed by the National Quality Forum (NQF), or its successor organization, shall be those endorsed by the Ambulatory Care Quality Alliance, the National Committee for Quality Assurance, or the Joint Commission on the Accreditation of Healthcare Organizations, Healthcare Effectiveness and Data Information Set (HEDIS);

“6. Any managed care organization subject to the reimbursement allowance or provider tax under sections 208.431 to 208.437, or any accident and sickness insurers, health services corporations, health maintenance organizations, or insurance producers under the regulation of the department of insurance, financial institutions and professional registration shall be subject to the uniform claim form and uniform application form requirements under section 374.184.”; and

“374.184. 1. The director of the department of insurance, financial institutions and professional registration shall prescribe by rule[,];

(1) After due consultation with providers of health care or treatment and their respective licensing boards, [accident and sickness insurers, health services corporations and health maintenance organizations,] and after a public hearing, uniform claim forms for reporting by health care providers. Such prescribed forms shall include but need not be limited to information regarding the medical diagnosis, treatment and prognosis of the patient, together with the details of charges incident to the providing of such care, treatment or services, sufficient for the purpose of meeting the proof requirements of an accident and sickness insurance or hospital, medical or dental services contract. Such prescribed forms shall be based upon the UB-82 form, with respect to hospital claims, and the HCFA 1500 form, with respect to physician claims, as such forms are modified or amended from time to time by the National Uniform Billing Committee or the federal Health Care Financing Administration; and

The provisions of this section shall not be deemed or construed to apply to electronic claims submission. Insurers and providers may by contract provide for modifications to the uniform billing document where both insurers and providers feel that such modifications streamline claims processing procedures relating to the claims of the insurer involved in such contract modification. However, a refusal by the provider to agree to modification of the uniform billing format shall not be used by the insurer as grounds for refusing to enter into a contract with the provider for reimbursement or payment for health services rendered to an insured of the insurer.

3. Rules adopted or promulgated pursuant to this act shall be subject to notice and hearing as provided in chapter 536. The regulations so adopted shall specify an effective date, which shall not be less than one hundred eighty days after the date of adoption, after which no accident and sickness insurer, health services corporation or health maintenance organization shall require providers of health care or treatment to complete forms differing from those prescribed by the director pursuant to this section, [and] after which no health care provider shall submit claims except upon such prescribed forms; provided that the provisions of this section shall not preclude the use by any insurer, health services corporation or health maintenance organization of the UB-82 form or the HCFA 1500 form, and after which no insurer shall require applicants for insurance coverage to complete forms differing from those prescribed by the director under this section.”; and

For the purposes of this chapter or chapter 167, "need to know" is defined as school personnel who are directly responsible for the student's education or who otherwise interact with the student on a professional basis while acting within the scope of their assigned duties. As used in this section, the phrase "act of school violence" or "violent behavior" means the exertion of physical force by a student with the intent to do serious physical injury as defined in subdivision (6) of section 565.002 to another person while on school property, including a school bus in service on behalf of the district, or while involved in school activities. The policy shall at a minimum require school administrators to report, as soon as reasonably practical, to the appropriate law enforcement agency any of the following crimes, or any act which if committed by an adult would be one of the following crimes:

- (1) First degree murder under section 565.020;
- (2) Second degree murder under section 565.021;
- (3) Kidnapping under section 565.110;
- (4) First degree assault under section 565.050;
- (5) Forcible rape under section 566.030;
- (6) Forcible sodomy under section 566.060;
- (7) Burglary in the first degree under section 569.160;
- (8) Burglary in the second degree under section 569.170;
- (9) Robbery in the first degree under section 569.020;
- (10) Distribution of drugs under section 195.211;
- (11) Distribution of drugs to a minor under section 195.212;
- (12) Arson in the first degree under section 569.040;

- (13) Voluntary manslaughter under section 565.023;
- (14) Involuntary manslaughter under section 565.024;
- (15) Second degree assault under section 565.060;
- (16) Sexual assault under section 566.040;
- (17) Felonious restraint under section 565.120;
- (18) Property damage in the first degree under section 569.100;
- (19) The possession of a weapon under chapter 571;

- (22) Sexual misconduct involving a child pursuant to section 566.083;
- (23) Sexual abuse pursuant to section 566.100;
- (24) Harassment under section 565.090; or

(25) Stalking under section 565.225; committed on school property, including but not limited to actions on any school bus in service on behalf of the district or while involved in school activities. The policy shall require that any portion of a student's individualized education program that is related to demonstrated or potentially violent behavior shall be provided to any teacher and other school district employees who are directly responsible for the student's education or who otherwise interact with the student on an educational basis while acting within the scope of their assigned duties. The policy shall also contain the consequences of failure to obey standards of conduct set by the local board of education, and the importance of the standards to the maintenance of an atmosphere where orderly learning is possible and encouraged.

3. The policy shall provide that any student who is on suspension for any of the offenses listed in subsection 2 of this section or any act of violence or drug-related activity defined by school district policy as a serious violation of school discipline pursuant to subsection 9 of this section shall have as a condition of his or her suspension the requirement that such student is not allowed, while on such suspension, to be within one thousand feet of any school property in the school district where such student attended school or any activity of that district, regardless of whether or not the activity takes place on district property unless:

(1) Such student is under the direct supervision of the student's parent, legal guardian, or custodian and the superintendent or the superintendent's designee has authorized the student to be on school property;

(2) Such student is under the direct supervision of another adult designated by the student's parent, legal guardian, or custodian, in advance, in writing, to the principal of the school which suspended the student and the superintendent or the superintendent's designee has authorized the student to be on school property;

(3) Such student is enrolled in and attending an alternative school that is located within one thousand feet of a public school in the school district where such student attended school; or

(4) Such student resides within one thousand feet of any public school in the school district where such student attended school in which case such student may be on the property of his or her residence without direct adult supervision.

4. Any student who violates the condition of suspension required pursuant to subsection 3 of this section may be subject to expulsion or further suspension pursuant to the provisions of sections 167.161, 167.164, and 167.171. In making this determination consideration shall be given to whether the student poses a threat to the safety of any child or school employee and whether such student's unsupervised presence within one thousand feet of the school is disruptive to the educational process or undermines the effectiveness of the school's disciplinary policy. Removal of any pupil who is a student with a disability is subject to state and federal procedural rights. This section shall not limit a school district's ability to:

(1) Prohibit all students who are suspended from being on school property or attending an activity while on suspension;

(2) Discipline students for off-campus conduct that negatively affects the educational environment to the extent allowed by law.

5. The policy shall provide for a suspension for a period of not less than one year, or expulsion, for a student who is determined to have brought a weapon to school, including but not limited to the school playground or the school parking lot, brought a weapon on a school bus or brought a weapon to a school activity whether on or off of the school property in violation of district policy, except that:

(1) The superintendent or, in a school district with no high school, the principal of the school which such child attends may modify such suspension on a case-by-case basis; and

(2) This section shall not prevent the school district from providing educational services in an alternative setting to a student suspended under the provisions of this section.

6. For the purpose of this section, the term "weapon" shall mean a firearm as defined under 18 U.S.C. 921 and the following items, as defined in section 571.010: a blackjack, a concealable firearm, an explosive weapon, a firearm, a firearm silencer, a gas gun, a knife, knuckles, a machine gun, a projectile weapon, a rifle, a shotgun, a spring gun or a switchblade knife; except that this section shall not be construed to prohibit a school board from adopting a policy to allow a Civil War reenactor to carry a Civil War era weapon on school property for educational purposes so long as the firearm is unloaded. The local board of education shall define weapon in the discipline policy. Such definition shall include the weapons defined in this subsection but may also include other weapons. 7. All school district personnel responsible for the care and supervision of students are authorized to hold every pupil strictly accountable for any disorderly conduct in school or on any property of the school, on any school bus going to or returning from school, during school-sponsored activities, or during intermission or recess periods.

8. Teachers and other authorized district personnel in public schools responsible for the care, supervision, and discipline of schoolchildren, including volunteers selected with reasonable care by the school district, shall not be civilly liable when acting in conformity with the established policies developed by each board, including but not limited to policies of student discipline or when reporting to his or her supervisor or other person as mandated by state law acts of school violence or threatened acts of school violence, within the course and scope of the duties of the teacher, authorized district personnel or volunteer, when such individual is acting in conformity with the established policies developed by the board. Nothing in this section shall be construed to create a new cause of action against such school district, or to relieve the school district from liability for the negligent acts of such persons.

9. Each school board shall define in its discipline policy acts of violence and any other acts that constitute a serious violation of that policy. "Acts of violence" as defined by school boards shall include but not be limited to exertion of physical force by a student with the intent to do serious bodily harm to another person while on school property, including a school bus in service on behalf of the district, or while involved in school activities. School districts shall for each student enrolled in the school district compile and maintain records of any serious violation of the district's discipline policy. Such records shall be made available to teachers and other school district employees with a need to know while acting within the scope of their assigned duties, and shall be provided as required in section 167.020 to any school district in which the student subsequently attempts to enroll.

10. [(1)] Spanking, when administered by certificated personnel and in the presence of a witness who is an employee of the school district, or the use of reasonable force to protect persons or property, when administered by personnel of a school district in a reasonable manner in accordance with the local board of education's written policy of discipline, is not abuse within the meaning of chapter 210. The provisions of sections 210.110 to 210.165 notwithstanding, the children's division shall not have jurisdiction over or investigate any report of alleged child abuse arising out of or related to the use of reasonable force to protect persons or property when administered by personnel of a school district or any spanking administered in a reasonable manner by any certificated school personnel in the presence of a witness who is an employee of the school district pursuant to a written policy of discipline established by the board of education of the school district, as long as no allegation of sexual misconduct arises from the spanking or use of force.

11. If a student reports alleged sexual misconduct on the part of a teacher or other school employee to a person employed in a school facility who is required to report such misconduct to the children's division under section 210.115, such person and the superintendent of the school district shall forward the allegation to the children's division within twenty-four hours of receiving the information. Reports made to the children's division under this subsection shall be investigated by the division in accordance with the provisions of sections 210.145 to 210.153 and shall not be investigated by the school district under subsections 12 to 20 of this section for purposes of determining whether the allegations should or should not be substantiated. The district may investigate the allegations for the purpose of making any decision regarding the employment of the accused employee.

[(2)] 12. Upon receipt of any reports of child abuse by the children's division other than reports provided under subsection 11 of this section, pursuant to sections 210.110 to 210.165 which allegedly involve personnel of a school district, the children's division shall notify the superintendent of schools of the district or, if the person named in the alleged incident is the superintendent of schools, the president of the school board of the school district where the alleged incident occurred.

13. If, after an initial investigation, the superintendent of schools or the president of the school board finds that the report involves an alleged incident of child abuse other than the administration of a spanking by certificated school personnel or the use of reasonable force to protect persons or property when administered by school personnel pursuant to a written policy of discipline or that the report was made for the sole purpose of harassing a public school employee, the superintendent of schools or the president of the school board shall immediately refer the matter back to the children's division and take no further action. [(3)] In all matters referred back to the children's division, the division shall treat the report in the same manner as other reports of alleged child abuse received by the division.

14. If the report pertains to an alleged incident which arose out of or is related to a spanking administered by certificated personnel or the use of reasonable force to protect persons or property when administered by personnel of a school district pursuant to a written policy of discipline or a report made for the sole purpose of harassing a public school employee, a notification of the reported child abuse shall be sent by the superintendent of schools or the president of the school board to the juvenile officer of the county in which the alleged incident occurred.

15. The report shall be jointly investigated by the juvenile officer or a law enforcement officer designated by the juvenile officer and the superintendent of schools or, if the subject of the report is the superintendent of schools, by the juvenile officer or a law enforcement officer designated by the juvenile officer and the president of the school board or such president's designee.

[(4)] 16. The investigation shall begin no later than forty-eight hours after notification from the children's division is received, and shall consist of, but need not be limited to, interviewing and recording statements of the child and the child's parents or guardian within two working days after the start of the investigation, of the school district personnel allegedly involved in the report, and of any witnesses to the alleged incident.

17. The juvenile officer or a law enforcement officer designated by the juvenile officer and the investigating school district personnel shall issue separate reports of their findings and recommendations after the conclusion of the investigation to the school board of the school district within seven days after receiving notice from the children's division.

18. The reports shall contain a statement of conclusion as to whether the report of alleged child abuse is substantiated or is unsubstantiated.

[(5)] 19. The school board shall consider the separate reports referred to in subsection 17 of this section and shall issue its findings and conclusions and the action to be taken, if any, within seven days after receiving the last of the two reports. The findings and conclusions shall be made in substantially the following form:

[(a)] (1) The report of the alleged child abuse is unsubstantiated. The juvenile officer or a law enforcement officer designated by the juvenile officer and the investigating school board personnel agree that [the evidence shows that no] there was not a preponderance of evidence to substantiate that abuse occurred;

[(b)] (2) The report of the alleged child abuse is substantiated. The juvenile officer or a law enforcement officer designated by the juvenile officer and the investigating school district personnel agree that the preponderance of evidence is sufficient to support a finding that the alleged incident of child abuse did occur;

[(c)] (3) The issue involved in the alleged incident of child abuse is unresolved. The juvenile officer or a law enforcement officer designated by the juvenile officer and the investigating school personnel are unable to agree on their findings and conclusions on the alleged incident.

[11.] 20. The findings and conclusions of the school board under [subdivision (5) of] subsection [10] 19 of this section shall be sent to the children's division. If the findings and conclusions of the school board are that the report of the alleged child abuse is unsubstantiated, the investigation shall be terminated, the case closed, and no record shall be entered in the children's division central registry. If the findings and conclusions of the school board are that the report of the alleged child abuse is substantiated, the children's division shall report the incident to the prosecuting attorney of the appropriate county along with the findings and conclusions of the school district and shall include the information in the division's central registry. If the findings and conclusions of the school board are that the issue involved in the alleged incident of child abuse is unresolved, the children's division shall report the incident to the prosecuting attorney of the appropriate county along with the findings and conclusions of the school board, however, the incident and the names of the parties allegedly involved shall not be entered into the central registry of the children's division unless and until the alleged child abuse is substantiated by a court of competent jurisdiction.

[12.] 21. Any superintendent of schools, president of a school board or such person's designee or juvenile officer who knowingly falsifies any report of any matter pursuant to this section or who knowingly withholds any information relative to any investigation or report pursuant to this section is guilty of a class A misdemeanor.

[13.] 22. In order to ensure the safety of all students, should a student be expelled for bringing a weapon to school, violent behavior, or for an act of school violence, that student shall not, for the purposes of the accreditation process of the Missouri school improvement plan, be considered a dropout or be included in the calculation of that district's educational persistence ratio.

160.262. 1. The office of the child advocate as created in section 37.705 shall be authorized to coordinate mediation efforts between school districts and students when requested by both parties when allegations of child abuse arise in a school setting. The office of the child advocate shall maintain a list of individuals who are qualified mediators. The child advocate shall be available as one of the mediators on the list from which parents can choose.

2. Mediation procedures shall meet the following requirements:

(1) The mediation process shall not be used to deny or delay any other complaint process available to the parties; and

(2) The mediation process shall be conducted by a qualified and impartial mediator trained in effective mediation techniques who is not affiliated with schools or school professional associations, is not a mandated reporter of child abuse under state law or regulation, and who is available as a public service.

3. No student, parent of a student, school employee, or school district shall be required to participate in mediation under this section. If either the school district or the student or student's parent does not wish to enter into mediation, mediation shall not occur.

4. Each session in the mediation process shall be scheduled in a timely manner and be held in a location that is convenient to the parties in dispute.

5. Discussions that occur during the mediation process shall be confidential and may not be used as evidence in any subsequent administrative proceeding, administrative hearing, nor in any civil or criminal proceeding of any state or federal court.

6. If the parties resolve a dispute through the mediation process, the parties shall execute a legally binding agreement that sets forth the resolution and:

(1) States that all discussions that occurred during the mediation process shall remain confidential and may not be used as evidence in any subsequent administrative proceeding, administrative hearing, or civil proceeding of any federal or state court; and

(2) Is signed by a representative of each party who has authority to bind the party.”; and

Further amend said bill, page 4, section 160.2110, line 22, by inserting after all of said line the following:

“162.014. No person shall be a candidate for a member or director of the school board in any school district in this state if such person is registered or is required to be registered as a sex offender under sections 589.400 to 589.425. Any member or director of the school board of any school district who is registered or required to be registered as a sex offender under sections 589.400 to 589.425 shall be ineligible to serve as a member or director of a school board of any school district at the conclusion of his or her term of office.

162.068. 1. By July 1, 2012, every school district shall adopt a written policy on information that the district provides about former employees, both certificated and noncertificated, to other public schools. The policy shall include who is permitted to respond to requests for information from potential employers and the information the district would provide when responding to such a request. The policy shall require that notice of this provision be provided to all current employees and to all potential employers who contact the school district regarding the possible employment of a school district employee.

2. Any school district that employs a person about whom the children’s division conducts an investigation involving allegations of sexual misconduct with a student and reaches a finding of substantiated shall immediately suspend the employment of such person, notwithstanding any other provision of law, but the district may return the person to his or her employment if the child abuse and neglect review board’s finding that the allegation is substantiated is reversed by a court on appeal and becomes final. Nothing shall preclude a school district from otherwise lawfully terminating the employment of any employee about whom there has been a finding of unsubstantiated resulting from an investigation by the children’s division involving allegations of sexual misconduct with a student.

3. Any school district employee who is permitted to respond to requests for information regarding former employees under a policy adopted by his or her school district under subsection 2 of this section and who communicates only the information which such policy directs, and who acts in good faith and without malice shall be immune against any civil action for damages brought by the former employee arising out of the communication of such information. If any such action is brought, the school district employee may, at his or her option, request the attorney general to defend him or her in such suit and the attorney general shall provide such defense, except that if the attorney general represents the school district or the department of elementary and secondary education in a pending licensing matter under section 168.071 the attorney general shall not represent the school district employee.

4. Notwithstanding the provisions of subsection 2 of this section, if a district that has employed any employee whose job involves contact with children receives allegations of sexual misconduct concerning the employee and as a result of such allegations or as a result of such allegations being substantiated by the child abuse and neglect review board dismisses the employee or allows the employee to resign in lieu of being fired and fails to disclose the allegations of sexual misconduct when furnishing a reference for the former employee or responding to a potential employer’s request for information regarding such employee, the district shall be directly liable for damages to any student of a subsequent employing district who is found by a court of competent jurisdiction to be a victim of the former employee’s sexual misconduct, and the district shall bear third-party liability to the employing district for any legal liability, legal fees, costs, and expenses incurred by the employing district caused by the failure to disclose such information to the employing district.

5. If a school district has previously employed a person about whom the children's division has conducted an investigation involving allegations of sexual misconduct with a student and has reached a finding of substantiated and another public school contacts the district for a reference for the former employee, the district shall disclose the results of the children's division's investigation to the public school.

6. Any school district employee, acting in good faith, who reports alleged sexual misconduct on the part of a teacher or other school employee shall not be discharged or otherwise discriminated against in any fashion because of such reporting.

162.069. 1. Every school district shall, by January 1, 2012, promulgate a written policy concerning teacher-student communication and employee-student communication. Such policy shall contain at least the following elements:

(1) Appropriate oral and nonverbal personal communication, which may be combined with or included in any policy on sexual harassment; and

(2) Appropriate use of electronic media such as text messaging and internet sites for both instructional and personal purposes, with an element concerning use of social networking sites no less stringent than the provisions of subsections 2, 3, and 4 of this section.

2. As used in this section, the following terms shall mean:

(1) "Exclusive access", the information on the website is available only to the owner (teacher) and user (student) by mutual explicit consent and where third parties have no access to the information on the website absent an explicit consent agreement with the owner (teacher);

(2) "Former student", any person who was at one time a student at the school at which the teacher is employed and who is eighteen years of age or less and who has not graduated;

(3) "Nonwork-related internet site", any internet website or web page used by a teacher primarily for personal purposes and not for educational purposes;

(4) "Work-related internet site", any internet website or web pages used by a teacher for educational purposes.

3. No teacher shall establish, maintain, or use a work-related internet site unless such site is available to school administrators and the child's legal custodian, physical custodian, or legal guardian.

4. No teacher shall establish, maintain, or use a nonwork-related internet site which allows exclusive access with a current or former student. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed as prohibiting a teacher from establishing a nonwork related internet site, provided the site is used in accordance with this section.

5. Every school district shall, by July 1, 2012, include in its teacher and employee training, a component that provides up-to-date and reliable information on identifying signs of sexual abuse in children and danger signals of potentially abusive relationships between children and adults. The training shall emphasize the importance of mandatory reporting of abuse under section 210.115 including the obligation of mandated reporters to report suspected abuse by other mandated reporters, and how to establish an atmosphere of trust so that students feel their school has concerned adults with whom they feel comfortable discussing matters related to abuse.

168.021. 1. Certificates of license to teach in the public schools of the state shall be granted as follows:

(1) By the state board, under rules and regulations prescribed by it:

- (a) Upon the basis of college credit;
- (b) Upon the basis of examination;

(2) By the state board, under rules and regulations prescribed by the state board with advice from the advisory council established by section 168.015 to any individual who presents to the state board a valid doctoral degree from an accredited institution of higher education accredited by a regional accrediting association such as North Central Association. Such certificate shall be limited to the major area of postgraduate study of the holder, shall be issued only after successful completion of the examination required for graduation pursuant to rules adopted by the state board of education, and shall be restricted to those certificates established pursuant to subdivision (1) of subsection 3 of this section;

(3) By the state board, which shall issue the professional certificate classification in both the general and specialized areas most closely aligned with the current areas of certification approved by the state board, commensurate with the years of teaching experience of the applicant, and based upon the following criteria:

(a) Recommendation of a state-approved baccalaureate-level teacher preparation program;

(b) Successful attainment of the Missouri qualifying score on the exit assessment for teachers or administrators designated by the state board of education. Applicants who have not successfully achieved a qualifying score on the designated examinations will be issued a two-year nonrenewable provisional certificate; and

(c) Upon completion of a background check as prescribed in section 168.133 and possession of a valid teaching certificate in the state from which the applicant's teacher preparation program was completed;

(4) By the state board, under rules prescribed by it, on the basis of a relevant bachelor's degree, or higher degree, and a passing score for the designated exit examination, for individuals whose academic degree and professional experience are suitable to provide a basis for instruction solely in the subject matter of banking or financial responsibility, at the discretion of the state board. Such certificate shall be limited to the major area of study of the holder and shall be restricted to those certificates established under subdivision (1) of subsection 3 of this section. Holders of certificates granted under this subdivision shall be exempt from the teacher tenure act under sections 168.102 to 168.130 and each school district shall have the decision-making authority on whether to hire the holders of such certificates; or

(5) By the state board, under rules and regulations prescribed by it, on the basis of certification by the American Board for Certification of Teacher Excellence (ABCTE) and verification of ability to work with children as demonstrated by sixty contact hours in any one of the following areas as validated by the school principal: sixty contact hours in the classroom, of which at least forty-five must be teaching; sixty contact hours as a substitute teacher, with at least thirty consecutive hours in the same classroom; sixty contact hours of teaching in a private school; or sixty contact hours of teaching as a paraprofessional, for an initial four-year ABCTE certificate of license to teach, except that such certificate shall not be granted for the areas of early childhood education, elementary education, or special education. Upon the completion of the requirements listed in paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (d) of this subdivision, an applicant shall be eligible to apply for a career continuous professional certificate under subdivision (2) of subsection 3 of this section:

(a) Completion of thirty contact hours of professional development within four years, which may include hours spent in class in an appropriate college curriculum;

(b) Validated completion of two years of the mentoring program of the American Board for Certification of Teacher Excellence or a district mentoring program approved by the state board of education;

(c) Attainment of a successful performance-based teacher evaluation; and

(d) Participate in a beginning teacher assistance program.

2. All valid teaching certificates issued pursuant to law or state board policies and regulations prior to September 1, 1988, shall be exempt from the professional development requirements of this section and shall continue in effect until they expire, are revoked or suspended, as provided by law. When such certificates are required to be renewed, the state board or its designee shall grant to each holder of such a certificate the certificate most nearly equivalent to the one so held. Anyone who holds, as of August 28, 2003, a valid PC-I, PC-II, or continuous professional certificate shall, upon expiration of his or her current certificate, be issued the appropriate level of certificate based upon the classification system established pursuant to subsection 3 of this section.

3. Certificates of license to teach in the public schools of the state shall be based upon minimum requirements prescribed by the state board of education which shall include completion of a background check as prescribed in section 168.133. The state board shall provide for the following levels of professional certification: an initial professional certificate and a career continuous professional certificate.

(1) The initial professional certificate shall be issued upon completion of requirements established by the state board of education and shall be valid based upon verification of actual teaching within a specified time period established by the state board of education. The state board shall require holders of the four-year initial professional certificate to:

(a) Participate in a mentoring program approved and provided by the district for a minimum of two years;

(b) Complete thirty contact hours of professional development, which may include hours spent in class in an appropriate college curriculum, or for holders of a certificate under subdivision (4) of subsection 1 of this section, an amount of professional development in proportion to the certificate holder's hours in the classroom, if the certificate holder is employed less than full time; and

(c) Participate in a beginning teacher assistance program;

(2) (a) The career continuous professional certificate shall be issued upon verification of completion of four years of teaching under the initial professional certificate and upon verification of the completion of the requirements articulated in paragraphs (a), (b), and (c) of subdivision (1) of this subsection or paragraphs (a), (b), (c), and (d) of subdivision (5) of subsection 1 of this section.

(b) The career continuous professional certificate shall be continuous based upon verification of actual employment in an educational position as provided for in state board guidelines and completion of fifteen contact hours of professional development per year which may include hours spent in class in an appropriate college curriculum. Should the possessor of a valid career continuous professional certificate fail, in any given year, to meet the fifteen-hour professional development requirement, the possessor may, within two years, make up the missing hours. In order to make up for missing hours, the possessor shall first complete the fifteen-hour requirement for the current year and then may count hours in excess of the current year requirement as make-up hours. Should the possessor fail to make up the missing hours within two years, the certificate shall become inactive. In order to reactivate the certificate, the possessor shall complete twenty-four contact hours of professional development which may include hours spent in the classroom in an appropriate college curriculum within the six months prior to or after reactivating his or her certificate. The requirements of this paragraph shall be monitored and verified by the local school district which employs the holder of the career continuous professional certificate.

(c) A holder of a career continuous professional certificate shall be exempt from the professional development contact hour requirements of paragraph (b) of this subdivision if such teacher has a local professional development plan in place within such teacher's school district and meets two of the three following criteria:

- a. Has ten years of teaching experience as defined by the state board of education;
- b. Possesses a master's degree; or
- c. Obtains a rigorous national certification as approved by the state board of education.

4. Policies and procedures shall be established by which a teacher who was not retained due to a reduction in force may retain the current level of certification. There shall also be established policies and procedures allowing a teacher who has not been employed in an educational position for three years or more to reactivate his or her last level of certification by completing twenty-four contact hours of professional development which may include hours spent in the classroom in an appropriate college curriculum within the six months prior to or after reactivating his or her certificate.

5. The state board shall, upon [an appropriate] completion of a background check as prescribed in section 168.133, issue a professional certificate classification in the areas most closely aligned with an applicant's current areas of certification, commensurate with the years of teaching experience of the applicant, to any person who is hired to teach in a public school in this state and who possesses a valid teaching certificate from another state or certification under subdivision (4) of subsection 1 of this section, provided that the certificate holder shall annually complete the state board's requirements for such level of certification, and shall establish policies by which residents of states other than the state of Missouri may be assessed a fee for a certificate license to teach in the public schools of Missouri. Such fee shall be in an amount sufficient to recover any or all costs associated with the issuing of a certificate of license to teach. The board shall promulgate rules to authorize the issuance of a provisional certificate of license, which shall allow the holder to assume classroom duties pending the completion of a criminal background check under section 168.133, for any applicant who:

- (1) Is the spouse of a member of the armed forces stationed in Missouri;
 - (2) Relocated from another state within one year of the date of application;
 - (3) Underwent a criminal background check in order to be issued a teaching certificate of license from another state; and
 - (4) Otherwise qualifies under this section.
6. The state board may assess to holders of an initial professional certificate a fee, to be deposited into the excellence in education revolving fund established pursuant to section 160.268, for the issuance of the career continuous professional certificate. However, such fee shall not exceed the combined costs of issuance and any criminal background check required as a condition of issuance. Applicants for the initial ABCTE certificate shall be responsible for any fees associated with the program leading to the issuance of the certificate, but nothing in this section shall prohibit a district from developing a policy that permits fee reimbursement.

7. Any member of the public school retirement system of Missouri who entered covered employment with ten or more years of educational experience in another state or states and held a certificate issued by another state and subsequently worked in a school district covered by the public school retirement system of Missouri for ten or more years who later became certificated in Missouri shall have that certificate dated back to his or her original date of employment in a Missouri public school.

8. The provisions of subdivision (5) of subsection 1 of this section, as well as any other provision of this section relating to the American Board for Certification of Teacher Excellence, shall terminate on August 28, 2014.

2. A public school district may file charges seeking the discipline of a holder of a certificate of license to teach based upon any cause or combination of causes outlined in subsection 1 of this section, including annulment of a written contract. 4. If the underlying conduct or actions which are the basis for charges filed pursuant to this section are also the subject of a pending criminal charge against the person holding such certificate, the certificate holder may request, in writing, a delayed hearing on advice of counsel under the fifth amendment of the Constitution of the United States. Based upon such a request, no hearing shall be held until after a trial has been completed on this criminal charge.

5. The certificate holder shall be given not less than thirty days' notice of any hearing held pursuant to this section.

6. Other provisions of this section notwithstanding, the certificate of license to teach shall be revoked or, in the case of an applicant, a certificate shall not be issued, if the certificate holder or applicant has pleaded guilty to or been found guilty of any of the following offenses established pursuant to Missouri law or offenses of a similar nature established under the laws of any other state or of the United States, or any other country, whether or not the sentence is imposed:

8. The certificate holder whose certificate was revoked pursuant to subsection 6 of this section may appeal such revocation to the state board of education. Notice of this appeal must be received by the commissioner of education within ninety days of notice of revocation pursuant to this subsection. Failure of the certificate holder to notify the commissioner of the intent to appeal waives all rights to appeal the revocation. Upon notice of the certificate holder's intent to appeal, an appeal hearing shall be held by a hearing officer designated by the commissioner of education, with the final decision made by the state board of education, based upon the record of that hearing. The certificate holder shall be given not less than thirty days' notice of the hearing, and an opportunity to be heard by the hearing officer, together with witnesses.

9. In the case of any certificate holder who has surrendered or failed to renew his or her certificate of license to teach, the state board of education may refuse to issue or renew, or may suspend or revoke, such certificate for any of the reasons contained in this section.

10. In those cases where the charges filed pursuant to this section are based upon an allegation of misconduct involving a minor child, the hearing officer may accept into the record the sworn testimony of the minor child relating to the misconduct received in any court or administrative hearing.

11. Hearings, appeals or other matters involving certificate holders, licensees or applicants pursuant to this section may be informally resolved by consent agreement or agreed settlement or voluntary surrender of the certificate of license pursuant to the rules promulgated by the state board of education.

12. The final decision of the state board of education is subject to judicial review pursuant to sections 536.100 to 536.140, RSMo.

13. 168.133. 1. The school district shall ensure that a criminal background check is conducted on any person employed after January 1, 2005, authorized to have contact with pupils and prior to the individual having contact with any pupil. Such persons include, but are not limited to, administrators, teachers, aides, paraprofessionals, assistants, secretaries, custodians, cooks, and nurses. The school district shall also ensure that a criminal background check is conducted for school bus drivers. The district may allow such drivers to operate buses pending the result of the criminal background check. For bus drivers, the school district shall be responsible for conducting the criminal background check [shall be conducted] on drivers employed by the school district [or]. For drivers employed by a pupil transportation company under contract with the school district, the criminal background check shall be conducted pursuant to section 43.540 and conform to the requirements established in the National Child Protection Act of 1993, as amended by the Volunteers for Children Act. Personnel who have successfully undergone a criminal background check and a check of the family care safety registry as part of the professional license application process under section 168.021 and who have received clearance on the checks within one prior year of employment shall be considered to have completed the background check requirement. A criminal background check under this section shall include a search of any information publicly available in an electronic format through a public index or single case display.

2. In order to facilitate the criminal history background check [on any person employed after January 1, 2005], the applicant shall submit [two sets] a set of fingerprints collected pursuant to standards determined by the Missouri highway patrol. [One set of] The fingerprints shall be used by the highway patrol to search the criminal history repository [and the family care safety registry pursuant to sections

210.900 to 210.936, RSMo,] and [the second set] shall be forwarded to the Federal Bureau of Investigation for searching the federal criminal history files.

3. The applicant shall pay the fee for the state criminal history record information pursuant to section 43.530, RSMo, and sections 210.900 to 210.936, RSMo, and pay the appropriate fee determined by the Federal Bureau of Investigation for the federal criminal history record when he or she applies for a position authorized to have contact with pupils pursuant to this section. The department shall distribute the fees collected for the state and federal criminal histories to the Missouri highway patrol.

4. The department of elementary and secondary education shall facilitate an annual check of employed persons holding current active certificates under section 168.021 against criminal history records in the central repository under section 43.530, the sexual offender registry under sections 589.400 to 589.475, and child abuse central registry under sections 210.109 to 210.183. The department of elementary and secondary education shall facilitate procedures for school districts to submit personnel information annually for persons employed by the school districts who do not hold a current valid certificate who are required by subsection 1 of this section to undergo a criminal background check, sexual offender registry check, and child abuse central registry check. The Missouri state highway patrol shall provide ongoing electronic updates to criminal history background checks of those persons previously submitted, both those who have an active certificate and those who do not have an active certificate, by the department of elementary and secondary education. This shall fulfill the annual check against the criminal history records in the central repository under section 43.530.

5. The school district may adopt a policy to provide for reimbursement of expenses incurred by an employee for state and federal criminal history information pursuant to section 43.530, RSMo.

[5.] 6. If, as a result of the criminal history background check mandated by this section, it is determined that the holder of a certificate issued pursuant to section 168.021 has pled guilty or nolo contendere to, or been found guilty of a crime or offense listed in section 168.071, or a similar crime or offense committed in another state, the United States, or any other country, regardless of imposition of sentence, such information shall be reported to the department of elementary and secondary education.

[6.] 7. Any school official making a report to the department of elementary and secondary education in conformity with this section shall not be subject to civil liability for such action.

[7.] 8. For any teacher who is employed by a school district on a substitute or part-time basis within one year of such teacher's retirement from a Missouri school, the state of Missouri shall not require such teacher to be subject to any additional background checks prior to having contact with pupils. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed as prohibiting or otherwise restricting a school district from requiring additional background checks for such teachers employed by the school district.

[8.] 9. A criminal background check and fingerprint collection conducted under subsections 1 and 2 of this section shall be valid for at least a period of one year and transferrable from one school district to another district. A school district may, in its discretion, conduct a new criminal background check and fingerprint collection under subsections 1 and 2 for a newly hired employee at the district's expense. A teacher's change in type of certification shall have no effect on the transferability or validity of such records.

[9.] 10. Nothing in this section shall be construed to alter the standards for suspension, denial, or revocation of a certificate issued pursuant to this chapter.

[10.] 11. The state board of education may promulgate rules for criminal history background checks made pursuant to this section. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, RSMo, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, and, if applicable, section 536.028, RSMo. This section and chapter 536, RSMo, are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, to review, to delay the effective date, or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after January 1, 2005, shall be invalid and void.

210.135. 1. Any person, official, or institution complying with the provisions of sections 210.110 to 210.165 in the making of a report, the taking of color photographs, or the making of radiologic examinations pursuant to sections 210.110 to 210.165, or both such taking of color photographs and making of radiologic examinations, or the removal or retaining a child pursuant to sections 210.110 to 210.165, or in cooperating with the division, or any other law enforcement agency, juvenile office, court, or child-protective service agency of this or any other state, in any of the activities pursuant to sections 210.110 to 210.165, or any other allegation of child abuse, neglect or assault, pursuant to sections 568.045 to 568.060, RSMo, shall have immunity from any liability, civil or criminal, that otherwise might result by reason of such actions. Provided, however, any person, official or institution intentionally filing a false report, acting in bad faith, or with ill intent, shall not have immunity from any liability, civil or criminal. Any such person, official, or institution shall have the same immunity with respect to participation in any judicial proceeding resulting from the report.

2. Any person, who is not a school district employee, who makes a report to any employee of the school district of child abuse by a school employee shall have immunity from any liability, civil or criminal, that otherwise might result because of such report. Provided, however, that any such person who makes a false report, knowing that the report is false, or who acts in bad faith or with ill intent in making such report shall not have immunity from any liability, civil or criminal. Any such person shall have the same immunity with respect to participation in any judicial proceeding resulting from the report.

210.145. 1. The division shall develop protocols which give priority to:

(1) Ensuring the well-being and safety of the child in instances where child abuse or neglect has been alleged;

(2) Promoting the preservation and reunification of children and families consistent with state and federal law;

(3) Providing due process for those accused of child abuse or neglect; and

(4) Maintaining an information system operating at all times, capable of receiving and maintaining reports. This information system shall have the ability to receive reports over a single, statewide toll-free number. Such information system shall maintain the results of all investigations, family assessments and services, and other relevant information.

2. The division shall utilize structured decision-making protocols for classification purposes of all child abuse and neglect reports. The protocols developed by the division shall give priority to ensuring the well-being and safety of the child. All child abuse and neglect reports shall be initiated within twenty-four hours and shall be classified based upon the reported risk and injury to the child. The division shall promulgate rules regarding the structured decision-making protocols to be utilized for all child abuse and neglect reports.

3. Upon receipt of a report, the division shall determine if the report merits investigation, including reports which if true would constitute a suspected violation of any of the following: section 565.020, 565.021, 565.023, 565.024, or 565.050, RSMo, if the victim is a child less than eighteen years of age, section 566.030 or 566.060, RSMo, if the victim is a child less than eighteen years of age, or other crimes under chapter 566, RSMo, if the victim is a child less than eighteen years of age and the perpetrator is twenty-one years of age or older, section 567.050, RSMo, if the victim is a child less than eighteen years of age, section 568.020, 568.030, 568.045, 568.050, 568.060, 568.080, or 568.090, RSMo, section 573.025, 573.035, 573.037, or 573.040, RSMo, or an attempt to commit any such crimes. The division shall immediately communicate all reports that merit investigation to its appropriate local office and any relevant information as may be contained in the information system. The local division staff shall determine, through the use of protocols developed by the division, whether an investigation or the family assessment and services approach should be used to respond to the allegation. The protocols developed by the division shall give priority to ensuring the well-being and safety of the child.

4. The local office shall contact the appropriate law enforcement agency immediately upon receipt of a report which division personnel determine merits an investigation and provide such agency with a detailed description of the report received. In such cases the local division office shall request the assistance of the local law enforcement agency in all aspects of the investigation of the complaint. The appropriate law enforcement agency shall either assist the division in the investigation or provide the division, within twenty-four hours, an explanation in writing detailing the reasons why it is unable to assist.

5. The local office of the division shall cause an investigation or family assessment and services approach to be initiated in accordance with the protocols established in subsection 2 of this section, except in cases where the sole basis for the report is educational neglect. If the report indicates that educational neglect is the only complaint and there is no suspicion of other neglect or abuse, the investigation shall be initiated within seventy-two hours of receipt of the report. If the report indicates the child is in danger of serious physical harm or threat to life, an investigation shall include direct observation of the subject child within twenty-four hours of the receipt of the report. Local law enforcement shall take all necessary steps to facilitate such direct observation. If the parents of the child are not the alleged abusers, a parent of the child must be notified prior to the child being interviewed by the division. If the abuse is alleged to have occurred in a school or child-care facility the division shall not meet with the child in any school building or child-care facility building where abuse of such child is alleged to have occurred. When the child is reported absent from the residence, the location and the well-being of the child shall be verified. For purposes of this subsection, child-care facility shall have the same meaning as such term is defined in section 210.201.

6. The director of the division shall name at least one chief investigator for each local division office, who shall direct the division response on any case involving a second or subsequent incident regarding the same subject child or perpetrator. The duties of a chief investigator shall include verification of direct observation of the subject child by the division and shall ensure information regarding the status of an investigation is provided to the public school district liaison. The public school district liaison shall develop protocol in conjunction with the chief investigator to ensure information regarding an investigation is shared with appropriate school personnel. The superintendent of each school district shall designate a specific person or persons to act as the public school district liaison. Should the subject child attend a nonpublic school the chief investigator shall notify the school principal of the investigation. Upon notification of an investigation, all information received by the public school district liaison or the school shall be subject to the provisions of the federal Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA), 20 U.S.C., Section 1232g, and federal rule 34 C.F.R., Part 99.

7. The investigation shall include but not be limited to the nature, extent, and cause of the abuse or neglect; the identity and age of the person responsible for the abuse or neglect; the names and conditions of other children in the home, if any; the home environment and the relationship of the subject child to the parents or other persons responsible for the child's care; any indication of incidents of physical violence against any other household or family member; and other pertinent data.

8. When a report has been made by a person required to report under section 210.115, the division shall contact the person who made such report within forty-eight hours of the receipt of the report in order to ensure that full information has been received and to obtain any additional information or medical records, or both, that may be pertinent.

9. Upon completion of the investigation, if the division suspects that the report was made maliciously or for the purpose of harassment, the division shall refer the report and any evidence of malice or harassment to the local prosecuting or circuit attorney.

10. Multidisciplinary teams shall be used whenever conducting the investigation as determined by the division in conjunction with local law enforcement. Multidisciplinary teams shall be used in providing protective or preventive social services, including the services of law enforcement, a liaison of the local public school, the juvenile officer, the juvenile court, and other agencies, both public and private.

11. For all family support team meetings involving an alleged victim of child abuse or neglect, the parents, legal counsel for the parents, foster parents, the legal guardian or custodian of the child, the guardian ad litem for the child, and the volunteer advocate for the child shall be provided notice and be permitted to attend all such meetings. Family members, other than alleged perpetrators, or other community informal or formal service providers that provide significant support to the child and other individuals may also be invited at the discretion of the parents of the child. In addition, the parents, the legal counsel for the parents, the legal guardian or custodian and the foster parents may request that other individuals, other than alleged perpetrators, be permitted to attend such team meetings. Once a person is provided notice of or attends such team meetings, the division or the convenor of the meeting shall provide such persons with notice of all such subsequent meetings involving the child. Families may determine whether individuals invited at their discretion shall continue to be invited.

12. If the appropriate local division personnel determine after an investigation has begun that completing an investigation is not appropriate, the division shall conduct a family assessment and services approach. The division shall provide written notification to local law enforcement prior to terminating any investigative process. The reason for the termination of the investigative process shall be documented in the record of the division and the written notification submitted to local law enforcement. Such notification shall not preclude nor prevent any investigation by law enforcement.

13. If the appropriate local division personnel determines to use a family assessment and services approach, the division shall:

(1) Assess any service needs of the family. The assessment of risk and service needs shall be based on information gathered from the family and other sources;

(2) Provide services which are voluntary and time-limited unless it is determined by the division based on the assessment of risk that there will be a high risk of abuse or neglect if the family refuses to accept the services. The division shall identify services for families where it is determined that the child is at high risk of future abuse or neglect. The division shall thoroughly document in the record its attempt to provide voluntary services and the reasons these services are important to reduce the risk of future abuse or neglect to the child. If the family continues to refuse voluntary services or the child needs to be protected, the division may commence an investigation;

(3) Commence an immediate investigation if at any time during the family assessment and services approach the division determines that an investigation, as delineated in sections 210.109 to 210.183, is required. The division staff who have conducted the assessment may remain involved in the provision of services to the child and family;

(4) Document at the time the case is closed, the outcome of the family assessment and services approach, any service provided and the removal of risk to the child, if it existed.

14. Within thirty days of an oral report of abuse or neglect, the local office shall update the information in the information system. The information system shall contain, at a minimum, the determination made by the division as a result of the investigation, identifying information on the subjects of the report, those responsible for the care of the subject child and other relevant dispositional information. The division shall complete all investigations within thirty days, unless good cause for the failure to complete the investigation is documented in the information system. If a child involved in a pending investigation dies, the investigation shall remain open until the division's investigation surrounding the death is completed. If the investigation is not completed within thirty days, the information system shall be updated at regular intervals and upon the completion of the investigation. The information in the information system shall be updated to reflect any subsequent findings, including any changes to the findings based on an administrative or judicial hearing on the matter.

15. A person required to report under section 210.115 to the division and any person making a report of child abuse or neglect made to the division which is not made anonymously shall be informed by the division of his or her right to obtain information concerning the disposition of his or her report. Such person shall receive, from the local office, if requested, information on the general disposition of his or her report. Such person may receive, if requested, findings and information concerning the case. Such release of information shall be at the discretion of the director based upon a review of the reporter's ability to assist in protecting the child or the potential harm to the child or other children within the family. The local office shall respond to the request within forty-five days. The findings shall be made available to the reporter within five days of the outcome of the investigation. If the report is determined to be unsubstantiated, the reporter may request that the report be referred by the division to the office of child advocate for children's protection and services established in sections 37.700 to 37.730, RSMo. Upon request by a reporter under this subsection, the division shall refer an unsubstantiated report of child abuse or neglect to the office of child advocate for children's protection and services.

16. The division shall provide to any individual, who is not satisfied with the results of an investigation, information about the office of child advocate and the services it may provide under sections 37.700 to 37.730.

17. In any judicial proceeding involving the custody of a child the fact that a report may have been made pursuant to sections 210.109 to 210.183 shall not be admissible. However:

(1) Nothing in this subsection shall prohibit the introduction of evidence from independent sources to support the allegations that may have caused a report to have been made; and

(2) The court may on its own motion, or shall if requested by a party to the proceeding, make an inquiry not on the record with the children's division to determine if such a report has been made. If a report has been made, the court may stay the custody proceeding until the children's division completes its investigation.

[17.] 18. In any judicial proceeding involving the custody of a child where the court determines that the child is in need of services pursuant to subdivision (d) of subsection 1 of section 211.031, RSMo, and has taken jurisdiction, the child's parent, guardian or custodian shall not be entered into the registry.

[18.] 19. The children's division is hereby granted the authority to promulgate rules and regulations pursuant to the provisions of section 207.021, RSMo, and chapter 536, RSMo, to carry out the provisions of sections 210.109 to 210.183.

[19.] 20. Any rule or portion of a rule, as that term is defined in section 536.010, RSMo, that is created under the authority delegated in this section shall become effective only if it complies with and is subject to all of the provisions of chapter 536, RSMo, and, if applicable, section 536.028, RSMo. This section and chapter 536, RSMo, are nonseverable and if any of the powers vested with the general assembly pursuant to chapter 536, RSMo, to review, to delay the effective date or to disapprove and annul a rule are subsequently held unconstitutional, then the grant of rulemaking authority and any rule proposed or adopted after August 28, 2000, shall be invalid and void.

210.152. 1. All identifying information, including telephone reports reported pursuant to section 210.145, relating to reports of abuse or neglect received by the division shall be retained by the division and removed from the records of the division as follows:

(1) For investigation reports contained in the central registry, identifying information shall be retained by the division;

(2) (a) For investigation reports initiated against a person required to report pursuant to section 210.115, where insufficient evidence of abuse or neglect is found by the division and where the division determines the allegation of abuse or neglect was made maliciously, for purposes of harassment or in retaliation for the filing of a report by a person required to report, identifying information shall be expunged by the division within forty-five days from the conclusion of the investigation;

(b) For investigation reports, where insufficient evidence of abuse or neglect is found by the division and where the division determines the allegation of abuse or neglect was made maliciously, for purposes of harassment or in retaliation for the filing of a report, identifying information shall be expunged by the division within forty-five days from the conclusion of the investigation;

(c) For investigation reports initiated by a person required to report under section 210.115, where insufficient evidence of abuse or neglect is found by the division, identifying information shall be retained for five years from the conclusion of the investigation. For all other investigation reports where insufficient evidence of abuse or neglect is found by the division, identifying information shall be retained for two years from the conclusion of the investigation. Such reports shall include any exculpatory evidence known by the division, including exculpatory evidence obtained after the closing of the case. At the end of such time period, the identifying information shall be removed from the records of the division and destroyed;

(3) For reports where the division uses the family assessment and services approach, identifying information shall be retained by the division;

(4) For reports in which the division is unable to locate the child alleged to have been abused or neglected, identifying information shall be retained for ten years from the date of the report and then shall be removed from the records of the division.

2. Within ninety days after receipt of a report of abuse or neglect that is investigated, the alleged perpetrator named in the report and the parents of the child named in the report, if the alleged perpetrator is not a parent, shall be notified in writing of any determination made by the division based on the investigation. The notice shall advise either:

(1) That the division has determined by a probable cause finding prior to August 28, 2004, or by a preponderance of the evidence after August 28, 2004, that abuse or neglect exists and that the division shall retain all identifying information regarding the abuse or neglect; that such information shall remain confidential and will not be released except to law enforcement agencies, prosecuting or circuit attorneys, or as provided in section 210.150; that the alleged perpetrator has sixty days from the date of receipt of the notice to seek reversal of the division's determination through a review by the child abuse and neglect review board as provided in subsection 3 of this section; or

(2) That the division has not made a probable cause finding or determined by a preponderance of the evidence that abuse or neglect exists.

3. The children's division may reopen a case for review at the request of the alleged perpetrator, the alleged victim, or the office of the child advocate if new, specific, and credible evidence is obtained that the division's decision was based on fraud or misrepresentation of material facts relevant to the division's decision and there is credible evidence that absent such fraud or misrepresentation the division's decision would have been different. If the alleged victim is under the age of eighteen, the request for review may be made by the alleged victim's parent, legal custodian, or legal guardian. All requests to reopen an investigation for review shall be made within a reasonable time and not more than one year after the children's division made its decision. The division shall not reopen a case for review based on any information which the person requesting the review knew, should have known, or could by the exercise of reasonable care have known before the date of the division's final decision in the case, unless the person requesting the review shows by a preponderance of the evidence that he or she could not have provided such information to the division before the date of the division's final decision in the case. Any person, other than the office of the child advocate, who makes a request to reopen a case for review based on facts which the person knows to be false or misleading or who acts in bad faith or with the intent to harass the alleged victim or perpetrator shall not have immunity from any liability, civil or criminal, for providing the information and requesting that the division reopen the investigation. Any person who makes a request to reopen an investigation based on facts which the person knows to be false shall be guilty of a class A misdemeanor. The children's division shall not reopen an investigation under any circumstances while the case is pending before a court of this state nor when a court has entered a final judgment after de novo judicial review pursuant to section 210.152.

4. Any person named in an investigation as a perpetrator who is aggrieved by a determination of abuse or neglect by the division as provided in this section may seek an administrative review by the child abuse and neglect review board pursuant to the provisions of section 210.153. Such request for review shall be made within sixty days of notification of the division's decision under this section. In those cases where criminal charges arising out of facts of the investigation are pending, the request for review shall be made within sixty days from the court's final disposition or dismissal of the charges.

[4.] 5. In any such action for administrative review, the child abuse and neglect review board shall sustain the division's determination if such determination was supported by evidence of probable cause prior to August 28, 2004, or is supported by a preponderance of the evidence after August 28, 2004, and is not against the weight of such evidence. The child abuse and neglect review board hearing shall be closed to all persons except the parties, their attorneys and those persons providing testimony on behalf of the parties.

[5.] 6. If the alleged perpetrator is aggrieved by the decision of the child abuse and neglect review board, the alleged perpetrator may seek de novo judicial review in the circuit court in the county in which the alleged perpetrator resides and in circuits with split venue, in the venue in which the alleged perpetrator resides, or in Cole County. If the alleged perpetrator is not a resident of the state, proper venue shall be in Cole County. The case may be assigned to the family court division where such a division has been established. The request for a judicial review shall be made within sixty days of notification of the decision of the child abuse and neglect review board decision. In reviewing such decisions, the circuit court shall provide the alleged perpetrator the opportunity to appear and present testimony. The alleged perpetrator may subpoena any witnesses except the alleged victim or the reporter. However, the circuit court shall have the discretion to allow the parties to submit the case upon a stipulated record.

[6.] 7. In any such action for administrative review, the child abuse and neglect review board shall notify the child or the parent, guardian or legal representative of the child that a review has been requested.

The department shall promulgate rules and regulations concerning such updating, including subsequent background reviews as listed in subsection 1 of section 210.909.

210.922. Senator Rupp moved that SCR 8 be taken up for adoption, which motion prevailed.

Senator Rupp offered SS for SCR 8:

SENATE SUBSTITUTE FOR SENATE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 8

WHEREAS, the United States Corps of Engineers' five-year study of the Upper Mississippi River Basin, which is everything north of Cairo, Illinois, failed to produce a plan for flood control acceptable to all stakeholders; and

WHEREAS, the Mississippi River Commission did recommend Plan H to the United States Congress; and

WHEREAS, the Corps of Engineers has not recommended this plan to the United States Congress, citing the expense of the construction of 500-year levees along these rivers, estimated to be $6 billion, does not meet current cost-benefit guidelines for federal funding; and

WHEREAS, the Corps of Engineers additionally determined a need for better data based upon new hydrology and flow studies and the need to study tributaries of the Mississippi River; and

WHEREAS, the Corps of Engineers indicated that ramifications of the additional 500-year levees and their potential to cause additional flooding would need to be determined, and affected populations and communities informed and advised of the potential impact; and

WHEREAS, the affected counties include the Missouri counties of Lincoln, Pike, and St. Charles; and

WHEREAS, Plan H designates only about half of the levees in the Missouri counties of Lincoln, Pike, and St. Charles be raised, while to the north a higher percentage of 500-year levees are recommended for both sides of the river; and

WHEREAS, the stakeholders in the Missouri counties of Lincoln, Pike, and St. Charles desire the protections provided by the 500-year levees; and

WHEREAS, the proposed Plan H, if implemented, denies the benefits of 500-year levees to those making a living along the Mississippi River, negatively impacting agriculture, transportation, businesses, industries, tourism, hunting, fishing, boating, infrastructure, and residences; and

WHEREAS, over 6,500 citizens have signed petitions opposing the proposed Plan H; and

WHEREAS, the Upper Mississippi River Basin should receive funding comparable to funding for the Southern Mississippi River Basin from Cairo, Illinois, to New Orleans, Louisiana:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the Missouri Senate, Ninety-sixth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the House of Representatives concurring therein, hereby strongly urge the United States Congress to support a comprehensive plan for the Upper Mississippi River Basin that enhances system-wide flood control without creating adverse impacts on existing levees, levee districts, rural communities, and metropolitan areas. The plan should be based on analysis that quantifies the impacts of enhanced flood control measures and acknowledges the importance of keeping agricultural land in production. The proposed Plan H making the Missouri counties of Lincoln, Pike, and St. Charles the lowest points on the Mississippi River levee system is totally unacceptable and we ask the Missouri Congressional delegation to oppose this plan; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Secretary of the Missouri Senate be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

MESSAGES FROM THE HOUSE

The following messages were received from the House of Representatives through its Chief Clerk:

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and adopted HCR 30.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 30

WHEREAS, the federal Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act (PPACA), also known as ObamaCare, has been ruled unconstitutional in its entirety by the Florida Federal District Court, and the individual mandate contained in the PPACA requiring the purchase of insurance was ruled unconstitutional by Judge Henry Hudson in Federal District Court in Virginia; and

WHEREAS, the President of the United States, while addressing the issue of an individual mandate to purchase health insurance as a United States Senator in 2008, stated that “If a mandate was the solution, we can try that to solve homelessness by mandating everybody to buy a house.”; and

WHEREAS, in the August 2010 primary election, the citizens of Missouri have expressed their clear opposition to the individual mandate by passing Missouri Health Care Freedom, Proposition C by a 71% margin; and

WHEREAS, each house of the Missouri General Assembly has requested that the Governor and the Attorney General of the State of Missouri join in the legal challenge to the PPACA, so far to no avail; and

WHEREAS, considerable time, effort, and money has been, are being, and will continue to be expended attempting to comply with the mandates of the PPACA, which may ultimately be wasted time, energy, and money if the PPACA is subsequently found by the United States Supreme Court to be unconstitutional; and

WHEREAS, the federal Court of Appeals process can be protracted and may well take up to two years for this issue to work its way through the appellate process and then ultimately to the United States Supreme Court; and

WHEREAS, such a lengthy delay of a final determination by the United States Supreme Court regarding the constitutionality of the PPACA would be extremely harmful to the State of Missouri and will cause substantial waste of state resources at a time when such resources are scarce; and

WHEREAS, allowing the waste of substantial amounts of state resources and uncertainty to continue when clarity could be provided is not good stewardship on the part of any elected state official:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-sixth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby urge the Governor and Attorney General of the State of Missouri to send a letter to the President of the United States informing him of the urgency with which they view the need for a prompt resolution to the constitutional questions that have arisen regarding the federal Patient Protection and Affordable Care Act and further urge the President to take all actions within his powers to facilitate a hearing of this constitutional question by the United States Supreme Court at the earliest possible time; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for Governor Jay Nixon, Attorney General Chris Koster, and President Barack Obama.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

Also,

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and adopted HCR 31.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 31

WHEREAS, the Land and Water Conservation Fund (LWCF) was established by the United States Congress in 1965 to preserve, develop, and assure accessibility to quality outdoor recreation resources “to strengthen the health and vitality of the citizens of the United States”; and

WHEREAS, the LWCF is principally funded by revenue received from offshore energy extraction and is authorized to receive $900 million annually through the annual appropriations process; and

WHEREAS, the LWCF funds a federal land acquisition program and provides matching grants to states and localities for capital projects through the State Assistance program; and

WHEREAS, investments from the LWCF State Assistance program support the creation of public parks in rural and urban communities throughout America, protect green space and local water supplies, guarantee outdoor recreation opportunities, spur economic development, create jobs, and significantly aid national efforts to promote health, connect youth to nature and the outdoors, combat childhood obesity, and protect the environment; and

WHEREAS, in the original authorizing legislation, Congress recognized the important role of state and local parks in achieving its intended purpose by requiring the allocation of 60% of LWCF annual funding to the State Assistance program and 40% to the federal program; and

WHEREAS, the language protecting the State Assistance program was removed in the mid 1970s resulting in a disproportional amount

(84%) of LWCF funding going to the federal side of the program over the past 25 years; and

WHEREAS, no language exists to protect the State Assistance funding allocations, and Congress appropriated a total of approximately $304 million to LWCF in FY 2009 but allocated only $19 million (6%) to the State Assistance program, and in FY 2010 appropriated a total of approximately $479 million to LWCF with a mere $490 million (8%) going to the State Assistance program; and

WHEREAS, Missouri received only $509,599 in FY 2009 and $699,429 in FY 2010 based on Missouri's portion (.017%) of the 16% that is currently allocated to the states; and

WHEREAS, the disproportional allocation of LWCF funding between the two programs has severely limited state and local governments in their capacity to develop parks and open spaces and protect green space and local water supplies in light of rapidly increasing populations; and

WHEREAS, LWCF provides one-time funding for state and local capital projects and state and local governments equally match the federal dollars, then assume all costs of management and maintenance; and

WHEREAS, LWCF State Assistance program has invested more than $84,125,968 in Missouri since 1965 and has funded 1,275 projects; and

WHEREAS, requiring 40% of LWCF funds to be annually allocated to the State Assistance program would not increase the national debt, but would ensure a more balanced allocation of resources between federal land acquisition and state and local community conservation efforts, as intended by the authorizing legislation. This would provide $6 million for Missouri's 2012 LWCF budget:

NOW, THEREFORE, BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-sixth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby call on the United States Congress to implement legislation specifying an annual allocation of at least 40% of Land and Water Conservation Fund (LWCF) moneys to the State Assistance program; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare properly inscribed copies of this resolution for President Barack Obama, the Majority and Minority Leaders of the United States Senate and House of Representatives, and each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

Also,

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and adopted HCS for HCR 39.

“288.060. 1. All benefits shall be paid through employment offices in accordance with such regulations as the division may prescribe.

2. Each eligible insured worker who is totally unemployed in any week shall be paid for such week a sum equal to his or her weekly benefit amount.

3. Each eligible insured worker who is partially unemployed in any week shall be paid for such week a partial benefit. Such partial benefit shall be an amount equal to the difference between his or her weekly benefit amount and that part of his or her wages for such week in excess of twenty dollars, and, if such partial benefit amount is not a multiple of one dollar, such amount shall be reduced to the nearest lower full dollar amount. For calendar year 2007 and each year thereafter, such partial benefit shall be an amount equal to the difference between his or her weekly benefit amount and that part of his or her wages for such week in excess of twenty dollars or twenty percent of his or her weekly benefit amount, whichever is greater, and, if such partial benefit amount is not a multiple of one dollar, such amount shall be reduced to the nearest lower full dollar amount. Termination pay, severance pay or pay received by an eligible insured worker who is a member of the organized militia for training or duty authorized by Section 502(a)(1) of Title 32, United States Code, shall not be considered wages for the purpose of this subsection.

4. The division shall compute the wage credits for each individual by crediting him or her with the wages paid to him or her for insured work during each quarter of his or her base period or twenty-six times his or her weekly benefit amount, whichever is the lesser. In addition, if a claimant receives wages in the form of termination pay or severance pay and such payment appears in a base period established by the filing of an initial claim, the claimant may, at his or her option, choose to have such payment included in the calendar quarter in which it was paid or choose to have it prorated equally among the quarters comprising the base period of the claim. The maximum total amount of benefits payable to any insured worker during any benefit year shall not exceed [twenty-six] twenty times his or her weekly benefit amount, or thirty-three and one-third percent of his or her wage credits, whichever is the lesser. For the purpose of this section, wages shall be counted as wage credits for any benefit year, only if such benefit year begins subsequent to the date on which the employing unit by whom such wages were paid has become an employer. The wage credits of an individual earned during the period commencing with the end of a prior base period and ending on the date on which he or she filed an allowed initial claim shall not be available for benefit purposes in a subsequent benefit year unless, in addition thereto, such individual has subsequently earned either wages for insured work in an amount equal to at least five times his or her current weekly benefit amount or wages in an amount equal to at least ten times his or her current weekly benefit amount.

5. In the event that benefits are due a deceased person and no petition has been filed for the probate of the will or for the administration of the estate of such person within thirty days after his or her death, the division may by regulation provide for the payment of such benefits to such person or persons as the division finds entitled thereto and every such payment shall be a valid payment to the same extent as if made to the legal representatives of the deceased.

6. The division is authorized to cancel any benefit warrant remaining outstanding and unpaid one year after the date of its issuance and there shall be no liability for the payment of any such benefit warrant thereafter.

7. The division may establish an electronic funds transfer system to transfer directly to claimants' accounts in financial institutions benefits payable to them pursuant to this chapter. To receive benefits by electronic funds transfer, a claimant shall satisfactorily complete a direct deposit application form authorizing the division to deposit benefit payments into a designated checking or savings account. Any electronic funds transfer system created pursuant to this subsection shall be administered in accordance with regulations prescribed by the division.

8. The division may issue a benefit warrant covering more than one week of benefits.

9. Prior to January 1, 2005, the division shall institute procedures including, but not limited to, name, date of birth, and Social Security verification matches for remote claims filing via the use of telephone or the Internet in accordance with such regulations as the division shall prescribe. At a minimum, the division shall verify the Social Security number and date of birth when an individual claimant initially files for unemployment insurance benefits. If verification information does not match what is on file in division databases to what the individual is stating, the division shall require the claimant to submit a division-approved form requesting an affidavit of eligibility prior to the payment of additional future benefits. The division of employment security shall cross-check unemployment compensation applicants and recipients with Social Security Administration data maintained by the federal government at least weekly. WHEREAS, bicycling and walking are essential to millions of Missourians as basic transportation and enjoyed by millions of Missourians as healthful recreation and as part of a healthy lifestyle; and

WHEREAS, encouraging and promoting a complete network of safe bicycle and pedestrian ways and routes is essential for those Missourians who rely on bicycling and walking for transportation, recreation, and health; and

WHEREAS, a safe and complete bicycle and pedestrian system is important for Missouri's economy and economic development; and

WHEREAS, world-class bicycling and walking facilities help promote Missouri as a leading tourist and recreation destination; and

WHEREAS, the United Health Foundation estimates direct medical costs associated with physical inactivity in Missouri at $1.9 billion in 2008, and projects an annual cost for Missouri of over $8 billion per year by 2018 if current trends continue; and

WHEREAS, the annual per capita cost of obesity is $450 per Missourian, among the highest per capita costs of any state in the United States; and

WHEREAS, promoting walking and bicycling for transportation improves Missouri's environment, reduces congestion, reduces the need for expensive expansion of our road and highway systems, and reduces our dependence on foreign energy supplies; and

WHEREAS, creating healthy, walkable, bicycleable, and livable communities helps keep Missouri competitive in the global competition for high quality businesses and motivated, creative workers who consider transportation and recreation options an essential part of a healthy community; and

WHEREAS, Missourians who reach retirement age choose more often to walk and bicycle for fitness, recreation, enjoyment, and transportation; and

WHEREAS, all transit users depend on walking and bicycling to complete at least part of each transit trip; and

WHEREAS, the number of Missouri students who walk and bicycle to school has dropped dramatically over the past forty years, with 50% of students walking or bicycling in 1975 but only 15% in 2005. In the same period, the percentage of children clinically defined as overweight has increased from 8% to 25%; and

WHEREAS, the principles of Complete Streets are designed to create a transportation network that meets the needs of all users of the state's transportation system: pedestrians of all ages and abilities, bicyclists, disabled persons, public transportation vehicles and patrons, and those who travel in trucks, buses, and automobiles; and

WHEREAS, the term "Complete Streets" means creating roads, streets, and communities where all road users can feel safe, secure, and welcome on our roads and streets and throughout our communities; and

WHEREAS, the terms "livable streets" and "comprehensive street design" are also used to identify these same concepts; and

WHEREAS, coordination and cooperation among many different agencies and municipalities is required to fully implement Complete Streets and create a complete, connected, and safe transportation network for walking and bicycling; and

WHEREAS, the cities of Elsberry, Pevely, Herculaneum, Crystal City, Festus, De Soto, Ferguson, Columbia, Lee's Summit, Kansas City, and St. Louis City have adopted Complete Streets or Livable Streets policies; and

“Rejoice in the Lord always. Again I say rejoice.” (Philippians 4:4)

O Lord, sometimes we are so focused on what is not important that we miss the things that truly are. Help us to appreciate those people and things that make life delightful and for which we ought to rejoice and give thanks. Help us to appreciate our staff that allows us to be engaged in the things we must do and care for all the other demands that come to our attention. May You bless all those who help us be about that which You have called us to do. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

(3) Technology, economic conditions, or other relevant factors justifying the purpose for the rule has changed or no longer exists; or

(4) If the rule was adopted after August 28, 2004, whether the actual effect on small businesses was not reflected in or significantly exceeded the small business impact statement submitted prior to the adoption of the rules.

- (4) Publication, printing, and distribution of annual reports; and
- (5) Outreach costs.

536.312. There is hereby created in the state treasury the “Small Business Regulatory Fairness Fund”, which shall consist of moneys collected by the secretary of state for business registration fees. Fifty cents from each business registration fee shall be deposited into the fund. The state treasurer shall be custodian of the fund and shall approve disbursements from the fund in accordance with sections 30.170 and 30.180. Upon appropriation, moneys in the fund shall be used solely for the administration of subsection 3 of section 536.310. Gracious God, we are marvelously made yet time and stress take their toll on our bodies and as we work our way through this week we pray that You will renew our inner person. We pray You will nourish and strengthen us by remembering Your divine love giving us joyful hope so we can bring all we are to the work that is before us and to the people we encounter through our day. MESSAGES FROM THE HOUSE

The following messages were received from the House of Representatives through its Chief Clerk:

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and adopted HCR 42.

HOUSE CONCURRENT RESOLUTION NO. 42

WHEREAS, the United States Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has proposed or is proposing numerous new regulations, particularly in the area of air quality and regulation of greenhouse gases, that are likely to have major effects on the economy, jobs, and the competitiveness of the United States in worldwide markets; and

WHEREAS, EPA's regulatory activity as to air quality and greenhouse gases has numerous and overlapping requirements and may have a potentially devastating consequence on the economy; and

WHEREAS, concern is growing that, with Cap-and-Trade legislation having failed in the United States Congress, EPA is attempting to obtain the same results through the adoption of regulations; and

WHEREAS, EPA over-regulation is driving jobs and industry out of the United States; and

WHEREAS, neither EPA nor the Administration has undertaken any comprehensive study of what the cumulative effect that the new regulatory activity will have on the economy, jobs, and competitiveness; and

WHEREAS, EPA has not performed any comprehensive study of what the environmental benefits of its greenhouse gas regulation will be in terms of impacts on global climate; and

WHEREAS, state agencies are routinely required to identify the costs of their regulations and to justify those costs in light of the benefits; and

WHEREAS, since EPA has identified "taking action on climate change and improving air quality" as its first strategic goal for the 2011-15 time period, EPA should be required to identify the specific actions it intends to take to achieve these goals and to assess the total cost of all these actions together; and

WHEREAS, the Missouri General Assembly supports continuing improvements in the quality of the nation's air and believes that such improvements can be made in a sensible fashion without damaging the economy so long as there is a full understanding of the cost of the regulation at issue; and

WHEREAS, the primary goal of government at the present time must be to promote economic recovery and to foster a stable and predictable business environment that will lead to the creation of jobs; and

WHEREAS, public health and welfare will suffer without significant new job creation and economic improvement, because people with good jobs are better able to take care of themselves and their families than the unemployed and because environmental improvement is only possible in a society that generates wealth:

NOW THEREFORE BE IT RESOLVED that the members of the House of Representatives of the Ninety-sixth General Assembly, First Regular Session, the Senate concurring therein, hereby urge the United States Congress to:

(1) Adopt legislation prohibiting EPA, by any means necessary, from regulating greenhouse gas emissions, including defunding EPA greenhouse gas regulatory activities, if necessary;

(2) Impose a moratorium on promulgation of any new air quality regulation by EPA, by any means necessary, except to directly address an imminent health or environmental emergency, for a period of at least two years, including defunding EPA air quality regulatory activities; and

(3) Require the Administration to undertake a study identifying all regulatory activity the EPA intends to undertake in furtherance of its goal of “taking action on climate change and improving air quality” and specifying the cumulative effect of all of these regulations on the economy, jobs, and the economic competitiveness of the United States. The study should be a multi-agency study drawing on the expertise both of EPA and of agencies and departments having expertise in and responsibility for the economy and the electric system and should provide an objective cost-benefit analysis of all the EPA’s current and planned regulation together; and

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED that the Chief Clerk of the Missouri House of Representatives be instructed to prepare a properly inscribed copy of this resolution for the President of the United States; the Majority and Minority Leaders of the United States House of Representatives and Senate; Lisa P. Jackson, the Administrator of the Environmental Protection Agency; and each member of the Missouri Congressional delegation.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

Also,

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and passed HB 656, entitled:

An Act to repeal sections 408.500, 408.505, 408.506, and 408.507, RSMo, and to enact in lieu thereof four new sections relating to unsecured loans of five hundred dollars or less, with existing penalty provisions.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

Read 1st time.

Also,

Mr. President: I am instructed by the House of Representatives to inform the Senate that the House has taken up and passed HCS for HJR 5, entitled:

Joint Resolution submitting to the qualified voters of Missouri, an amendment to article I of the Constitution of Missouri, and adopting one new section relating to the personal right to hunt and fish.

In which the concurrence of the Senate is respectfully requested.

Senator Kraus moved that the above amendment be adopted.

Senator Crowell raised the point of order that SCS and SS for SCS for SB 48 are out of order as the bills go beyond the scope and intent of the underlying introduced version of the bill citing the following reasons:

- The SS and SCS introduce new and unrelated material:
 - Nowhere in the original bill does it contemplate a funding mechanism for an Early Cite Permit nor does the early cite permit related to original intent of deposits required by certain public utilities
 - OPC funding was not contemplated in the original bill nor does it have anything to do with deposits required by certain public utilities
- The original bill intent was specifically for utilities regulated under chapter 393 but the SS and SCS touch upon utilities that are NOT regulated by chapter 393; instead, telecommunication companies are regulated under chapter 392.
- The SS and SCS expand a very specific title:
 - Original title was “relating to deposits required by certain public utilities”
 - The SS and SCS change the original intent by expanding to “relating to public utilities”

The point of order was referred to the President Pro Tem who ruled it well taken.

SB 48 was again taken up.

Journal of the Senate

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

FIFTY-FIFTH DAY—WEDNESDAY, APRIL 20, 2011

Senator Pearce in the Chair.

“The fear of the Lord is the beginning of Wisdom.” (Psalm 111:10)

Almighty God, we know that we live in a time where human knowledge expands at an ever faster rate. But we have also learned that knowledge is certainly different than wisdom. Wisdom comes from learning from our mistakes and mistakes of others. So give us humility to acknowledge to You our failures and repentance in them and learn to not do them again. And provide us guidance as we deal with complex issues and challenges that come before us. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

Journal of the Senate

FIRST REGULAR SESSION

FIFTY-SEVENTH DAY—TUESDAY, APRIL 26, 2011

The Senate met pursuant to adjournment.

President Kinder in the Chair.

Merciful God, we give thanks for the gift of new life and are always mindful of the cost to provide it for us. We are mindful and thankful for the second weekend we have escaped death from the dangerous and damaging storms that have moved through our country; yet ever mindful of those who have suffered from extreme damage and now face flooding and the problems that will bring. We pray for Your help and comfort to those in need and hope for those who see none. And we ask to see how we may be of assistance. And help us O Lord to act on what is important in the midst of the work we have to do these closing weeks of session. In Your Holy Name we pray. Amen.

The Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag was recited.

A quorum being established, the Senate proceeded with its business.

of such fee. The funds collected under such ordinance shall be deposited in a special account to be used solely for the purpose of paying for the reasonable costs associated with and necessary to administer and carry out the water service line repairs as defined in the ordinance and, if sufficient revenues are available, to reimburse the necessary costs of water service line repair or replacement. All revenues received on such combined bill which are for the purpose of providing for, ensuring or guaranteeing the repair of water service lines, shall be separated from all other revenues so collected and credited to the appropriate fund or account of the city, town, village or county. (2) The cities listed in subdivision (1) of this subsection may establish, by order or ordinance, an administrative system for adjudicating housing, property maintenance, nuisance, parking, and other civil, nonmoving municipal code violations consistent with applicable state law. Such administrative adjudication system shall be subject to practice, procedure, and pleading rules established by the state supreme court, circuit court, or municipal court. Any sanction, fine or costs, or part of any fine, other sanction, or costs, remaining unpaid after the exhaustion of, or the failure to exhaust, judicial review procedures under chapter 536 shall be a debt due and owing the city, and may be collected in accordance with applicable law.

5. Any final decision or disposition of a code violation by an administrative tribunal shall constitute a final determination for purposes of judicial review. Such determination is subject to review under chapter 536 or, at the request of the defendant made within ten days, a trial de novo in the circuit court. After expiration of the judicial review period under chapter 536, unless stayed by a court of competent jurisdiction, the administrative tribunal's decisions, findings, rules, and orders may be enforced in the same manner as a judgment entered by a court of competent jurisdiction. Upon being recorded in the manner required by state law or the uniform commercial code, a lien may be imposed on the real or personal property of any defendant entering a plea of nolo contendere, pleading guilty to, or found guilty of a municipal code violation in the amount of any debt due the city under this section and enforced in the same manner as a judgment lien under a judgment of a court of competent jurisdiction. The city may also issue a special tax bill to collect fines issued for housing, property maintenance, and nuisance code violations.”; and

Notwithstanding the requirements of subsection 1 of this section to the contrary, an enhanced enterprise zone may be established in an area located within a county for which public and individual assistance has been requested by the governor pursuant to Section 401 of the Robert T. Stafford Disaster Relief and Emergency Assistance Act, 42 U.S.C. 5121 et seq., for an emergency proclaimed by the governor pursuant to section 44.100 due to a natural disaster of major proportions, if the area to be designated is blighted and sustained severe damage as a result of such natural disaster, as determined by the state emergency management agency. An application for designation as an enhanced enterprise zone pursuant to this subsection shall be made before the expiration of one year from the date the governor requested federal relief for the area sought to be designated.

3. Notwithstanding the requirements of subsection 1 of this section to the contrary, an enhanced enterprise zone may be designated in a county of declining population if it meets the requirements of subdivisions (1), (3) and either (2) or (4) of subsection 1 of this section. For the purposes of this subsection, a “county of declining population” is one that has lost one percent or more of its population as demonstrated by comparing the most recent decennial census population to the next most recent decennial census population for the county.

4. In addition to meeting the requirements of subsection 1, 2, or 3 of this section, an area, to qualify as an enhanced enterprise zone, shall be demonstrated by the governing authority to have either:

(1) The potential to create sustainable jobs in a targeted industry; or

(2) A demonstrated impact on local industry cluster development.

5. Notwithstanding the requirements of subsections 1 and 4 of this section to the contrary, a renewable energy generation zone may be designated as an enhanced enterprise zone if the renewable energy generation zone meets the criteria set forth in subdivision (25) of section 135.950.

135.963. 1. Improvements made to real property as such term is defined in section 137.010 which are made in an enhanced enterprise zone subsequent to the date such zone or expansion thereto was designated, may, upon approval of an authorizing resolution or ordinance by the governing authority having jurisdiction of the area in which the improvements are made, be exempt, in whole or in part, from assessment and payment of ad valorem taxes of one or more affected political subdivisions. Improvements made to real property, as such term is defined in section 137.010, which are locally assessed and in a renewable energy generation zone designated as an enhanced enterprise zone, subsequent to the date such enhanced enterprise zone or expansion thereto was designated, may, upon approval of an authorizing resolution or ordinance by the governing authority having jurisdiction of the area in which the improvements are made, be exempt, in whole or in part, from assessment and payment of ad valorem taxes of one or more affected political subdivisions. In addition to enhanced business enterprises, a speculative industrial or warehouse building constructed by a public entity or a private entity if the land is leased by a public entity may be subject to such exemption.

2. Such authorizing resolution shall specify the percent of the exemption to be granted, the duration of the exemption to be granted, and the political subdivisions to which such exemption is to apply and any other terms, conditions, or stipulations otherwise required. A copy of the resolution shall be provided to the director within thirty calendar days following adoption of the resolution by the governing authority.

3. No exemption shall be granted until the governing authority holds a public hearing for the purpose of obtaining the opinions and suggestions of residents of political subdivisions to be affected by the exemption from property taxes. The governing authority shall send, by certified mail, a notice of such hearing to each political subdivision in the area to be affected and shall publish notice of such hearing in a newspaper of general circulation in the area to be affected by the exemption at least twenty days prior to the hearing but not more than thirty days prior to the hearing. Such notice shall state the time, location, date, and purpose of the hearing.

4. Notwithstanding subsection 1 of this section, at least one-half of the ad valorem taxes otherwise imposed on subsequent improvements to real property located in an enhanced enterprise zone of enhanced business enterprises or speculative industrial or warehouse buildings as indicated in subsection 1 of this section shall become and remain exempt from assessment and payment of ad valorem taxes of any political subdivision of this state or municipality thereof for a period of not less than ten years following the date such improvements were assessed, provided the improved properties are used for enhanced business enterprises. The exemption for speculative buildings is subject to the approval of the governing authority for a period not to exceed two years if the building is owned by a private entity and five years if the building is owned or ground leased by a public entity. This shall not preclude the building receiving an exemption for the remaining time period established by the governing authority if it was occupied by an enhanced business enterprise. The two- and five-year time periods indicated for speculative buildings shall not be an addition to the local abatement time period for such facility.

5. No exemption shall be granted for a period more than twenty-five years following the date on which the original enhanced enterprise zone was designated by the department.

6. The provisions of subsection 1 of this section shall not apply to improvements made to real property begun prior to August 28, 2004.

7. The abatement referred to in this section shall not relieve the assessor or other responsible official from ascertaining the amount of the equalized assessed value of all taxable property annually as required by section 99.855, 99.957, or 99.1042 and shall not have the effect of reducing the payments in lieu of taxes referred to in subdivision (2) of subsection 1 of section 99.845, subdivision (2) of subsection 3 of section 99.957, or subdivision (2) of subsection 3 of section 99.1042 unless such reduction is set forth in the plan approved by the governing body of the municipality pursuant to subdivision (1) of subsection 1 of section 99.820, section 99.942, or section 99.1027.

137.010. The following words, terms and phrases when used in laws governing taxation and revenue in the state of Missouri shall have the meanings ascribed to them in this section, except when the context clearly indicates a different meaning:

(1) “Grain and other agricultural crops in an unmanufactured condition” shall mean grains and feeds including, but not limited to, soybeans, cow peas, wheat, corn, oats, barley, kafir, rye, flax, grain sorghums, cotton, and such other products as are usually stored in grain and other elevators and on farms; but excluding such grains and other agricultural crops after being processed into products of such processing, when packaged or sacked. The term “processing” shall not include hulling, cleaning, drying, grating, or polishing;

(2) “Hydroelectric power generating equipment”, very-low-head turbine generators with a nameplate generating capacity of at least four hundred kilowatts but not more than six hundred kilowatts and machinery and equipment used directly in the production, generation, conversion, storage, or conveyance of hydroelectric power to land-based devices and appurtenances used in the transmission of electrical energy;

(3) “Intangible personal property”, for the purpose of taxation, shall include all property other than real property and tangible personal property, as defined by this section;

(3) “Real property” includes land itself, whether laid out in town lots or otherwise, and all growing crops, buildings, structures, improvements and fixtures of whatever kind thereon, hydroelectric power generating equipment, the installed poles used in the transmission or reception of electrical energy, audio signals, video signals or similar purposes, provided the owner of such installed poles is also an owner of a fee simple interest, possessor of an easement, holder of a license or franchise, or is the beneficiary of a right-of-way dedicated for public utility purposes for the underlying land; attached wires, transformers, amplifiers, substations, and other such devices and appurtenances used in the transmission or reception of electrical energy, audio signals, video signals or similar purposes when owned by the owner of the installed poles, otherwise such items are considered personal property; and stationary property used for transportation of liquid and gaseous products, including, but not limited to, petroleum products, natural gas, water, and sewage;

(4) “Tangible personal property” includes every tangible thing being the subject of ownership or part ownership whether animate or inanimate, other than money, and not forming part or parcel of real property as herein defined, but does not include household goods, furniture, wearing apparel and articles of personal use and adornment, as defined by the state tax commission, owned and used by a person in his home or dwelling place.”; and

Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

Senator Green raised the point of order that SA 4 is out of order as it goes beyond the scope of the bill.

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 5

“304.120. 1. Municipalities, by ordinance, may establish reasonable speed regulations for motor vehicles within the limits of such municipalities. No person who is not a resident of such municipality and who has not been within the limits thereof for a continuous period of more than forty-eight hours, shall be convicted of a violation of such ordinances, unless it is shown by competent evidence that there was posted at the place where the boundary of such municipality joins or crosses any highway a sign displaying in black letters not less than four inches high and one inch wide on a white background the speed fixed by such municipality so that such sign may be clearly seen by operators and drivers from their vehicles upon entering such municipality.

2. Municipalities, by ordinance, may:

- (1) Make additional rules of the road or traffic regulations to meet their needs and traffic conditions;
- (2) Establish one-way streets and provide for the regulation of vehicles thereon;
- (3) Require vehicles to stop before crossing certain designated streets and boulevards;

(4) Limit the use of certain designated streets and boulevards to passenger vehicles, except that each municipality shall allow at least one street, with lawful traffic movement and access from both directions, to be available for use by commercial motor vehicles to access any roads in the state highway system. Under no circumstance shall the provisions of this subdivision be construed to authorize municipalities to limit the use of all streets in the municipality;

(5) Prohibit the use of certain designated streets to vehicles with metal tires, or solid rubber tires;

(6) Regulate the parking of vehicles on streets by the installation of parking meters for limiting the time of parking and exacting a fee therefor or by the adoption of any other regulatory method that is reasonable and practical, and prohibit or control left-hand turns of vehicles;

(7) Require the use of signaling devices on all motor vehicles; and

(8) Prohibit sound producing warning devices, except horns directed forward.

3. No ordinance shall be valid which contains provisions contrary to or in conflict with this chapter, except as herein provided.

4. Any registered owner-lessor who fails or refuses to provide such information within the period required by this subsection shall be liable for the imposition of any fine established by municipal ordinance for the violation. Provided, however, if a leased motor vehicle is illegally parked due to a defect in such vehicle, which renders it inoperable, not caused by the fault or neglect of the lessee, then the lessor shall be liable on any violation for illegal parking of such vehicle.

5. No ordinance shall deny the use of commercial motor vehicles on all streets within the municipality.”; and

Further amend said bill, page 3, section 488.070, line 11, by inserting after all of said line the following:

“537.292. 1. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, the use of motor vehicles on a public street or highway in a manner which is legal under state and local law shall not constitute a public or private nuisance, and shall not be the basis of a civil action for public or private nuisance.

2. No individual or business entity shall be subject to any civil action in law or equity for a public or private nuisance on the basis of such individual or business entity legally using motor vehicles on a public street or highway. Any actions by a court in this state to enjoin the use of a public street or highway in violation of this section and any damages awarded or imposed by a court, or assessed by a jury, against an individual or business entity for public or private nuisance in violation of this section shall be null and void.

3. Notwithstanding any other provision of law to the contrary, nothing in this section shall be construed to limit civil liability for compensatory damages arising from physical injury to another human being.”; and

Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

Senator Lager moved that the above amendment be adopted.

Senator Callahan raised the point of order that SA 5 is out of order as it goes beyond the scope of the subject matter of the underlying bill.

The point of order was referred to the President Pro Tem who ruled it well taken.

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 6

Amend Senate Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 142, Page 2, Section 55.030, Line 31, by inserting after all of said line the following:

“67.314. 1. The provisions of this section shall apply to contracts for construction awarded by political subdivisions of the state of Missouri and shall be known as the “Political Subdivision Construction Bidding Standards Act”.

2. Any political subdivision of the state authorizing the construction of facilities which may exceed an expenditure of twenty-five thousand dollars shall publicly advertise:

(1) Through publication in a central repository developed by the office of administration, or a private firm under contract with the office of administration, at no cost to the state;

(2) On the political subdivision's website, so long as it has a link to the office of administration's central repository;

(3) In a newspaper of general circulation located within the same county as the political subdivision is located, or in an adjoining county if there is no newspaper in the same county, for once a week for two consecutive weeks; or

(4) Through publication, at no cost to the political subdivision, in a central repository developed by an organization representing political subdivisions. The organization may charge appropriate fees for access to bid solicitations.

3. The political subdivision may, in addition to advertising in the manner described in subsection 2 of this section, also advertise in business, trade, or minority newspapers.

4. For purposes of this section, the term “construction of facilities” shall mean the construction, alteration, or repair of any structure, including but not limited to buildings, highways, bridges, streets, viaducts, water or sewer lines or systems, or pipelines. The term shall include any demolition, moving, or excavation connected therewith, and the furnishing of surveying, construction engineering, planning or management services, or labor, material, or equipment, as required to perform work under the contract for construction.

5. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require the design or engineering of any project, as the term “project” is defined in section 8.287, to be awarded by competitive bidding if the contract for such services is under a separate contract from the contract for construction and is awarded under sections 8.285 to 8.291, or to construction management services governed by sections 8.675 to 8.687. Neither shall this section be construed to apply to contracts awarded for the “design/build” method of project delivery, if the political subdivision's procurement of “design/build” projects is otherwise authorized by law, local charter, ordinance, order, or resolution. The advertising requirements contained in this section shall not apply when a political subdivision has publicly stated, in writing, that because of the unique nature or limited availability of material, equipment, or skills for a construction project of the type described in subsection 2 of this section, the political subdivision is using a sole source method to award a construction contract. Nothing in this subsection shall be construed to relieve the political subdivision from the requirement to seek and obtain a bid from the company or firm to whom the contract will be awarded.

6. The provisions of this section shall not apply to any political subdivision required to advertise, solicit, award, and reject bids in compliance with:

(1) Other Missouri statutes, state rules, and federal and state funding requirements applicable to the specific political subdivision which are in effect on August 28, 2011, or as such requirements may be enacted or amended; or

(2) Any provision of a local charter, ordinance, order, resolution, or policy applicable to the specific political subdivision which is in effect or which is subsequently adopted by the political subdivision after August 28, 2011, as long as such state or local provisions require the political subdivision to meet equivalent or stricter competitive bidding requirements for construction as are contained in this section.

7. No bids shall be entertained by a political subdivision which are not made in accordance with the specifications furnished by the political subdivision and all contracts shall be awarded to the lowest and best bidder complying with the terms of the letting, provided that the political subdivision shall have the right to reject any and all bids.

8. All bidding shall conform to the following procedures:

(1) No bid shall be opened: in advance of the advertised deadline for submission of bids; or in a place other than that specified in the original solicitation of bids or in an amendment to the solicitation communicated in advance to all known bidders;

(2) No bid shall be accepted unless it is sealed and is in writing. If the letting of the project for which bids were solicited is cancelled, bids shall be returned to the bidders unopened;

(3) No bid shall be accepted after the advertised deadline for acceptance of bids;

(4) All bids received shall be held secure and confidential from all persons until the bids are opened pursuant to subdivision (1) of this subsection. Bids shall only be opened in public;

(5) Nothing in this section shall be construed to prohibit acceptance and processing of bids through an established program of electronic bidding by computer, provided bids accepted and processed electronically shall meet standards of confidentiality comparable to requirements for written bids established by this section.

9. Failure of the political subdivision to follow any of the procedures described in this section shall result in the contract being voided and the political subdivision shall rebid the contract in accordance with the provisions of this section.

10. Any person who would have submitted a bid except for failure of the political subdivision to advertise the contract pursuant to this section shall have standing to seek equitable relief in a court of competent jurisdiction within fifteen business days of the date the political subdivision opened the bids for the contract, but the only remedy that may be imposed by the court is ordering the contract to be rebid.

11. Nothing in this section shall be construed to require acceptance of a bid which exceeds the amount estimated by the political subdivision for the contract, nor shall anything in this section prohibit a political subdivision from awarding contracts without competitive bidding when the political subdivision deems it necessary to remove an immediate danger to the public health or safety, to prevent loss to public or private property which requires government action, or to prevent an interruption of or to restore an essential public service, however, the political subdivision shall produce a written public record documenting the need to contract for such services without competitive bidding.”; and

Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

Senator McKenna moved that the above amendment be adopted, which motion prevailed.

Any county may amend the annual budget during any fiscal year in which the county receives additional funds or a decrease in funds, and such amount or source, including but not limited to, federal or state grants or private donations, could not be estimated when the budget was adopted. The county shall follow the same procedures as required in sections 50.525 to 50.745 for adoption of the annual budget to amend its budget during a fiscal year.”; and

Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.

SENATE AMENDMENT NO. 8

Amend Senate Committee Substitute for House Bill No. 142, Page 2, Section 55.030, Line 31, by inserting after all of said line the following:

“67.1521. 1. A district may levy by resolution one or more special assessments against real property within its boundaries, upon receipt of and in accordance with a petition signed by:

(1) Owners of real property collectively owning more than fifty percent by assessed value of real property within the boundaries of the district; and

(2) More than fifty percent per capita of the owners of all real property within the boundaries of the district.

2. The special assessment petition shall be in substantially the following form:

The (insert name of district) Community Improvement District (“District”) shall be authorized to levy special assessments against real property benefited within the District for the purpose of providing revenue for (insert general description of specific service and/or projects) in the district, such special assessments to be levied against each tract, lot or parcel of real property listed below within the district which receives special benefit as a result of such service and/or projects, the cost of which shall be allocated among this property by (insert method of allocation, e.g., per square foot of property, per square foot on each square foot of improvement, or by abutting foot of property abutting streets, roads, highways, parks or other improvements, or any other reasonable method) in an amount not to exceed dollars per (insert unit of measure). Such authorization to levy the special assessment shall expire on (insert date). The tracts of land located in the district which will receive special benefit from this service and/or projects are: (list of properties by common addresses and legal descriptions).

3. The method for allocating such special assessments set forth in the petition may be any reasonable method which results in imposing assessments upon real property benefited in relation to the benefit conferred upon each respective tract, lot or parcel of real property and the cost to provide such benefit.

4. By resolution of the board, the district may levy a special assessment rate lower than the rate ceiling set forth in the petition authorizing the special assessment and may increase such lowered special assessment rate to a level not exceeding the special assessment rate ceiling set forth in the petition without further approval of the real property owners; provided that a district imposing a special assessment pursuant to this section may not repeal or amend such special assessment or lower the rate of such special assessment if such repeal, amendment or lower rate will impair the district's ability to pay any liabilities that it has incurred, money that it has borrowed or obligations that it has issued.

5. Each special assessment which is due and owing shall constitute a perpetual lien against each tract, lot or parcel of property from which it is derived. Such lien may be foreclosed in the same manner as any other special assessment lien as provided in section 88.861 or, at the option of the county collector, and upon certification by the district for collection, each special assessment may be added to the annual real estate tax bill for the property and collected by the county collector in the same manner and procedure for collecting real estate taxes. Each special assessment remaining unpaid on the first day of January annually is delinquent and enforcement of collection of the delinquent bill by the county collector shall be governed by the laws concerning delinquent and back taxes. The lien may be foreclosed in the same manner as a tax upon real property by land tax sale under chapter 140 or, if applicable to that county, chapter 141.

6. A separate fund or account shall be created by the district for each special assessment levied and each fund or account shall be identifiable by a suitable title. The proceeds of such assessments shall be credited to such fund or account. Such fund or account shall be used solely to pay the costs incurred in undertaking the specified service or project.

7. Upon completion of the specified service or project or both, the balance remaining in the fund or account established for such specified service or project or both shall be returned or credited against the amount of the original assessment of each parcel of property pro rata based on the method of assessment of such special assessment.

8. Any funds in a fund or account created pursuant to this section which are not needed for current expenditures may be invested by the board in accordance with applicable laws relating to the investment of funds of the city in which the district is located.

9. The authority of the district to levy special assessments shall be independent of the limitations and authorities of the municipality in which it is located; specifically, the provisions of section 88.812 shall not apply to any district.”; and

Further amend the title and enacting clause accordingly.
